U.S. Launches Rocket To Moon

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A towering rocket thundered skyward today in an attempt to send the Ranger 5 spacecraft a quarter of a million miles to a landing on the moon.

The mission of the gold-and-silver-plated spacecraft is to send back closeup television pictures of the moon's surface before landing the first active instrument package. This would measure moonquakes and meteor hits.

If all goes well Ranger 5 will streak through space for 70 hours and reach the moon about midnight Sunday.

The shot was postponed twice this week, first by technical trouble and then by the threat of Hurricane Ella. But the hurricane changed course and the launching was rescheduled.

The Atlas-Agena B rocket, 102 feet tall and weighing nearly 150 tons, blasted away from Cape Canaveral at 11:59 a.m. (EST).

Forty minutes later, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported the rocket apparently had done its job and had hurled the 750-pound package into space above the South Atlantic ocean near the South African Coast.

The huge booster lifted straight off its pad. Within 10 seconds it vanished into a low-hanging cloud bank.

If the inquisitive payload succeeds on its 231,500-mile trip, it will be the first of a long line of unmanned spacecraft intended to learn what the moon is like and locate suitable landing areas for American astronauts later in this decade.

Telephone Cable Across Bay Cut

Disaster Plan Is In Effect

The main telephone toll cable connecting Marin County and San Francisco was cut late this morning, forcing Pacific Telephone Co. in San Rafael to reroute demand traffic under pre-arranged disaster plans, said Gordon Davenport, the company's local manager.

Davenport said details of the break were not immediately known. The cut occurred on land near Juanita's Galley in Sausalito, possibly through some kind of digging operations, he said.

The manager said he did not know how many telephone lines were involved.

He said service normally handled by the cable, which crosses the bay under water, was quickly detoured through other cables around the Bay Area. He said the disruption was also affecting 90 per cent of traffic from Marin into Oakland.

The company has re-routing plans laid out in advance to handle traffic in the event that military attack or other disaster breaks any main cable in the area, Davenport said.

Lines serving the Independent-Journal's battery of news service teletypes were among those cut off, but service was re-routed so rapidly that the interruption went unnoticed in the newspaper's editorial office.

'NO PROBLEMS'

San Rafael Gets All It Asked For On Freeway Work

The City of San Rafael has now gained all the features it originally requested in the state's plan to revamp the freeway, city councilmen learned yesterday.

"All the problems in my own mind seem to be answered in this," said Mayor John F. McInnis after recent concessions approved by the State Highway Commission were explained by Division of Highways representatives Preston Smith, engineer in charge of design from the Marin area, and Arthur Hayler, assistant district engineer in charge of construction.

One of the main changes to be made in the freeway, apart from increasing it to eight-lane width, will be the redesign of the Irwin Street interchange, presently the major bottleneck in San Rafael's freeway access. Plans are to "clean up" the ramp system, giving the city full on- and off-ramps instead of the criss-cross system now in use.

The point at which the ramps will "touch down" has not yet been determined, Hayler said. The state wants it to be at Lindaro Street, but the city would prefer First and D streets. The location will be decided after the state works out the design of its future Highway 69 freeway.

The state's original plan to make a "loop" connection at the Linden underpass has been abandoned, and a complete interchange at Puerto Suello is proposed instead. However, the Linden underpass would be widened to 40 feet.

Other features include a pedestrian overpass at Paloma Avenue connecting to Rafael Drive on the east side of the freeway, primarily to serve the Coleman School.

A frontage road along the east side of the freeway, connecting Villa and San Pablo avenues, also would be built.

All widening of the freeway would be done on the west and north sides, the engineers said.

Drawings and data were given to City Engineer Dominic Selmi and Dan Coleman, the city's consulting engineer, for study and report before Nov. 5, when the council will consider a freeway agreement with the state clearing the way for the project.

Councilmen indicated that, barring any technical problems that Selmi and Coleman might find, they approve of the plans by the state.

Only Councilman Fred Jensen was absent from the meeting which was held at the city hall council chambers.

ATTORNEY GOMMO SUCCUMBS

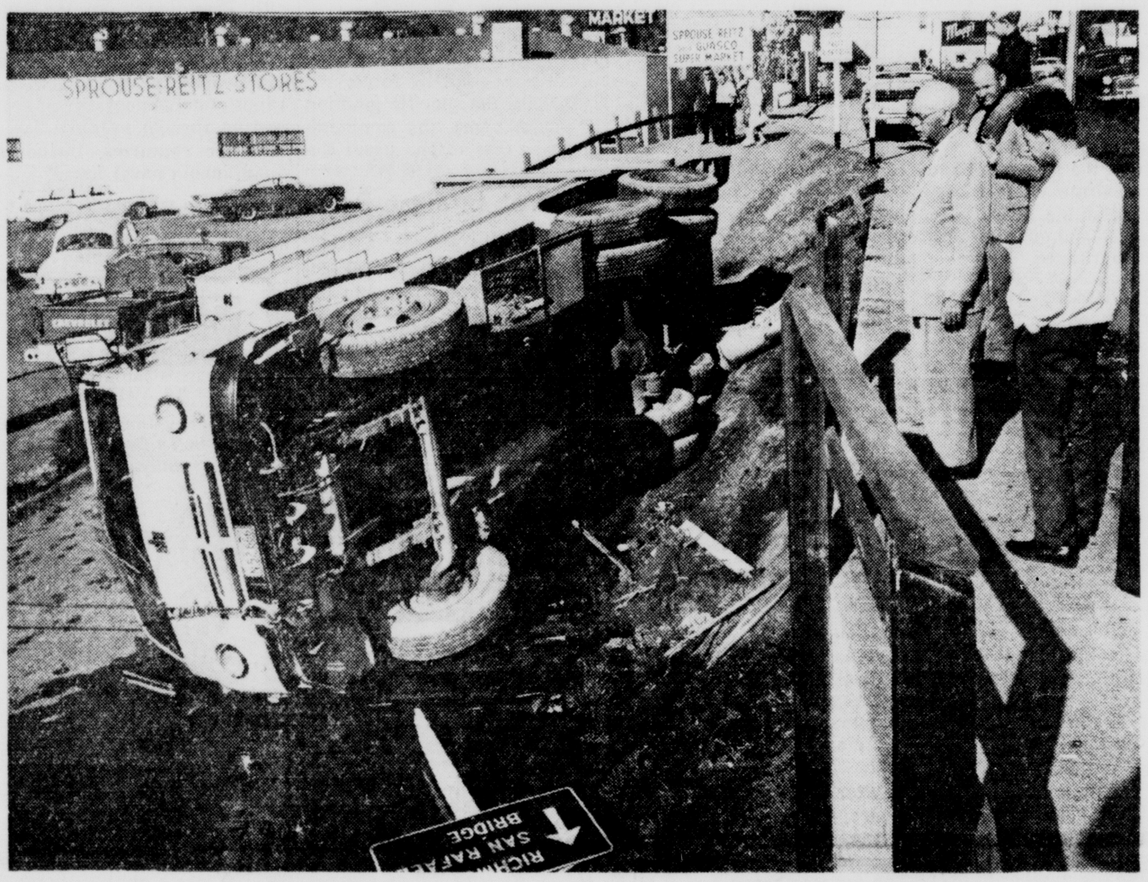
Kentfield attorney Albert H. Gommo Jr., 52, shot twice in the head Tuesday in his San Francisco office, died today at 12:30 p.m. in San Francisco General Hospital. Doctors said its was impossible to attempt removel of an embedded bullet.

In the same hospital under police guard his alleged attacker, John Trischan, 50-year-old San Francisco electrician, was in serious but not critical condition.

San Francisco police said Trischan shot Gommo twice in the head, then turned his .22-caliber pistol on himself in a suicide attempt. The shooting took place late Tuesday afternoon in Gommo's office in the Central Tower on Market Street.

Gommo, 51, reportedly was able to tell police after the shooting that Trischan accused him of "fooling around with his wife." Mrs. Trischan, Gommo's former legal secretary, told police her husband was insanely jealous and was "always accusing me of going out with other men." She has filed for divorce and an interlocutary decree has been granted, police said.

Gommo is married and has three daughters. His home is on Quisiana Drive in Kentfield. He is a native of San Francisco and has had law offices there since 1937. He is a graduate of Hastings Law School of the University of California and a member of the State Bar Assn.



RUNAWAY TRUCK OVERTURNS

A San Anselmo Garbage Disposal truck rolled backward 90 feet down Spaulding Street and over busy Sir Francis Drake Boulevard today at 8:55 a.m. landing overturned on the driveway of the San Anselmo Super Market at 100 Center Boulevard. Driver Emil Boracchia, 41, of 1433 Clinton Street, San Rafael, and his helper Roy Harris of San Francisco escaped with slight cuts. Boracchia said the air brakes failed when he stopped to make a pick-up on Spaulding Street. Fire Chief Nello Marcucci directed fireman Jerry Cahil in washing down gasoline from the punctured gas tank.

Mayor Denies Clandestine Meetings

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Secret meetings are not being conducted by the Mill Valley City Council nor is the council engaged in a "witch hunt," Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks declared at a meeting of the council last night.

He referred to a story in yesterday's Independent-Journal which reported that the council has recently held a number of unannounced, closed meetings, the last one Monday in San Francisco.

At that luncheon meeting, Sheeks had reported in yesterday's I-J, the council spoke to William R. Zion, governmental research consultant, about a survey Zion has prepared of the city's administrative system and including a check over of duties of City Manager A. E. Almcrants.

Sheeks said last night he apologized on behalf of himself and, he felt, for the rest of the council, for the I-J story. He added: "a lot of inferences were cast. The story tends to give the inference the city council is engaged in a witch hunt, that we're dissatisfied with the city manager or out after his throat. This is not the case.

"I want to publicly state," the mayor continued, "the council has full confidence in the city manager, and the work which we have been doing or have had done for us by Zion has been in no sense derogatory to the city manager or city council. It is simply an effort to try to improve some of the procedures and administrative practices which occur in city hall and designed primarily for helping and assisting the city manager."

Prior to this apology, Sheeks said he apologized for the council's late start since "the city was having a secret meeting downstairs with the library board discussing problems. The press got in on it so it was not too secret."

(This meeting of the council, held at 7:30 p.m. in the office of City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants, was not made public. This reporter, en route to the regular meeting, heard discussions in Almcrants' office and was permitted to stand in the doorway and listen until it broke up at 8:15 p.m. The regular meeting is normally set at 8 p.m.)

Public meetings must be held by all legislative bodies, under the Ralph M. Brown Act, unless hiring, firing or bringing of charges against personnel are being considered.

Sheeks denied that the city council is conducting business in secret meetings. "The inference is very clearly given the council is conducting business in secret meetings. This is not true. Nor it is reasonable inference from what I told (reporter) Coleman in telephone conversations yesterday. In connection with this survey we have had several meetings, perhaps two or three regarding hiring of a consultant. This I do not think indicates meetings are commonplace. I said it was on this subject. Mr. Coleman has not done us the courtesy of mentioning this . . .

"We are not engaged in a witch hunt and he has seen fit to disregard this in the interests of selling more newspapers to sensationalize this story and played up to an extent altogether unwarranted.

"I am sure we would be extremely pleased if the I-J would confine to the facts and leave inferences up to the reader, stop worrying about pressures and stop trying to create pressures themselves. The article quotes the Brown Act on secret meetings and then seeks to impress on the county and all other persons in the county the interpretation they put on the Brown Act itself. Our city attorney is in final charge of our actions in these matters.

"This survey . . . is one which is designed to assist the city council and city manager

Executive Acquitted Of Airline Bomb Hoax

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A New York business executive, Gerhard Andlinger, 31, was acquitted today of giving false information by saying he was carrying a bomb aboard an airliner Oct. 7.

Andlinger, director of planning for the International Telephone and Telegraph Co., pleaded innocent before U.S. District Judge Stanley Weigel.

Novato Men's Store Robbery Loss $6,000

Burglars last night took an estimated $5,000 to $6,000 worth of men's clothing from Harley McAskill's Men's Wear at 1217 Grant Avenue, Novato police reported today.

The burglary was discovered at 3:30 a.m. by Officer Walter Weidauer, who noticed the front door had been pried open. Officer Floyd Hallowell had checked the building at 1:45 a.m.

The burglars took the merchandise, mostly suits, from the display racks, said Police Chief Roy McLeran. McAskill said that very little of his loss was covered by insurance.

COURT FIGHT OVER 'VISIT TO VICTIM'

The prosecutor and the defense lawyer in the Claude Hilton Bradley murder case battled today over admission of a key piece of prosecution evidence — the suspect's statements that he visited the victim's apartment on the night of the tragedy.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety contends that suspect Bradley made the statements to him and to San Rafael police voluntarily. Defense lawyer Berwyn A. Rice told Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. that the statements were involuntary and therefore should not be given to the jury of nine women and three men.

Bradley, 22, a truck driver, is accused of slaying Mrs. Carole Leona Frederick, 29, in her apartment at 45 Woodland Avenue last June 3.

Bradley's statements that he had visited Mrs. Frederick on the morning of June 3 were first disclosed last June at a Grand Jury hearing. A transcript of that hearing shows that Bradley said he visited Mrs. Frederick about 2:30 a.m. on June 3 to use the telephone to call a cab. He told the district attorney and police he put his hands on the victim, then left after she went limp. The defense contends these statements were made under duress.

Yesterday Roger S. Green, criminologist from Sacramento, testified he found no evidence of the victim's hair or blood on Bradley's clothing.

The trial was expected to continue this afternoon, then resume on Monday morning because Judge Sims has juvenile court hearings tomorrow.

WHITE RUSSIANS LEAVE CHINA HOMES

White Russian emigrants board a ship in Hong Kong that will take them to new homes in other lands after a lifetime in China as farmers, artisans and shopowners. In the wake of recent coolness between Communist China and the USSR, White Russian refugees from the 1917 revolution are being encouraged to leave their homes in China. (UPI photo)

U.S. Shifts Jets To Key West

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon, moving to counter a buildup of jet MIGs in Cuba, has shifted a squadron of 1,400-mile-an-hour Navy jet fighters to southern Florida.

A Defense Department spokesman said today the squadron of about 12 F-4B Phantom 2 fighters was ordered to Key West on Oct. 6, about 90 miles from Cuba.

The action came three days after Undersecretary of State George W. Ball told Congress that eventually Cuba probably will have 20 to 30 of the most modern Soviet-built jet fighters which normally carry air-to-air missiles.

Ball said Cuba was believed to have one advanced MIG 21, with more probably being assembled, plus about 60 older jets.

The Pentagon spokesman related the buildup of missile-armed U.S. jets in southern Florida to this report by Ball of increasing MIG strength in Cuba.

The movement of the Phantoms from Oceana Naval Air Station near Norfolk, Va., to Key West does not herald a pattern, the spokesman said.

As far as he knows, he said, this was the only additional unit sent to the area to reinforce U.S. forces facing hostile Cuba.

The United States has powerful air and fleet elements based throughout the Caribbean area.

The F-4B Phantom is rated the Navy's fastest, highest flying and longest range fighter. It also has the greatest firepower of any Navy fighter plane.

It is manned by a pilot and a radar observer and mounts both Sparrow and Sidewinder missiles which can be used to knock down other high speed aircraft.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Booby Trap Hurts Yank In Viet Nam

SAIGON (UPI)—A U.S. spokesman disclosed today that an American military adviser was wounded last Tuesday by a Viet Cong booby trap.

He said the adviser was standing near a South Vietnamese soldier who was pulling down a Communist Viet Cong propaganda banner from a pole.

The booby trap was in the pole. It was triggered when the banner was ripped down and shrapnel struck the American in the legs.

No other details were available.

Mrs. JFK Honored

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy has received a citation from the New York University Institute of Fine Arts for her "genuine concern for the fine arts and our American artistic inheritance."

Russ Missile Success

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union says it fired multistage rockets 7,500 miles Tuesday and yesterday and they landed near their targets in the Pacific.

The range is about that reported when the Soviets said they fired a new rocket into the Pacific in September 1961.

The target area for the latest Soviet tests was near the Marshall Islands. The announcement by the Soviet news agency Tass said the area was temporarily open again to ships and planes.

After Overdue Books

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Public Library has hired a full-time investigator—at $4,200 a year—to reclaim overdue books.

"There has been no great increase in the number of overdue books," said Raymond C. Lindquist, library director, "but the work was beginning to pile up."

Lindquist was asked whether the salary might not be more than the cost of replacing overdue books.

"It is not that we want the fines from the books but rather the books themselves," Lindquist replied.

Rubble After Blast

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Only rubble remains of an ammunition assembly building which was demolished when a woman panicked and tossed a smoking simulated bomb onto a production line.

The bomb touched off all 500 of the bombs in the plant in a chain reaction of explosions that shattered the building and had it flaming from end to end in a matter of minutes.

About 35 women employees moved swiftly and calmly out of the building seconds before it blazed up. They escaped injury.

Kite Crosses Channel

CALAIS, France (AP)—French parachutist Gil Delamare crossed the English Channel from France to England in 95 minutes yesterday suspended from a huge kite 30 feet above the water and towed by a motor boat.

After arriving in Dover, Delamare, 42, climbed aboard one of the six small boats in his escort flotilla and started home. The fog was heavy, and it took him seven hours to get back to Calais.

Minuteman Explodes

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Minuteman missile, off course and headed for the Florida mainland, destroyed itself on signal from the range safety officer seconds after launching from an underground silo last night.

The spectacular blast rained chunks of flaming debris over a wide area, and a Jupiter missile was severely damaged. A photographer was injured slightly while racing to safety.

Ben Bella, Castro: Guantanamo 'No'

HAVANA (AP) — Announcing "essential identity of viewpoints" in world affairs, Premier Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria and Prime Minister Fidel Castro agreed last night that the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo must go.

A joint communique emphasized, however, that the big naval installation in eastern Cuba will be "claimed in its opportunity through international law"—not by force.

Despite the specific mention of Guantanamo, the communique was free of the usual Cuban diatribes against "Yankee imperialism" with which Castro greeted Ben Bella on his arrival Tuesday.

The communique was issued at the end of a 28-hour visit by the premier of the new North African nation, who came here direct from a White House lawn reception and talks with President John F. Kennedy.

The communique said Castro and Ben Bella "considered the unpostponable necessity of evacuating foreign military bases in other countries, including Guantanamo naval base."

This also was a reference to French military forces and bases still in Algeria.

Cal-Vet Interest Down

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The interest rate on Cal-Vet farm and home loans drops from 4 to 3¾ per cent Nov. 1.

That was the announcement yesterday by the Department of Veterans Affairs. The reduction was approved by the Veterans Finance Committee in July.

King Saud Recalls Brother From U.N. To Help In UAR Challenge

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Beset by a new challenge from President Nasser in revolt-torn Yemen, King Saud of Saudi Arabia summoned his brother, Prince Faisal, from New York today to form a new government and bolster his regime.

Nasser's United Arab Republic has increased the violence of its propaganda attacks on Saud since the dessert king threw his support behind the Yemen monarchy, toppled in an army revolt Sept. 26.

A broadcast from Mecca said only that the old cabinet was dissolved in the general interest. But there have been signs of disaffection inside Saudi Arabia since the Yemen revolt.

Saudi air force officers have defected to the UAR in a transport plane and three trainers since the Yemeni uprising broke out. As in Yemen, pro-Nasser sentiment has been reported among Saudi officers.

With a hostile revolutionary regime in Yemen backed by Nasser, Saud apparently decided it was time to call back to the premiership a brother who might rally public support to the monarchy.

Faisal has been heading Saudi Arabia's delegation to the United Nations in New York.

More Western-oriented than the monarch, Faisal as premier in 1959 embarked on a program of austerity and domestic reforms. He reportedly began diverting more of the desert kingdom's vast oil revenue from the royal coffers to improving the lot of the impoverished, illiterate masses.

Hurricane Ella With 90-MPH Winds Threatening Mainland

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane "Ella," carrying 90-mile-an-hour winds and threatening to get stronger, ploughed northward in the Atlantic today.

Gale winds already were reaching out to flirt with the U.S. mainland.

Termed dangerous by weathermen, the season's fifth tropical storm was headed approximately toward the Carolina Capes at 90 MPH sending rough seas ahead of her.

Early today the storm was about 375 miles south of Cape Hatteras, N.C.

Gales extended 350 miles to the north and 25 miles to the south of the center.

Forecasters predicted Ella would intensify during the day and continue on her northbound course.

Ships 90 miles off the Carolina coasts reported gales and seas to 11 feet last night. Ella's fringe winds tousled Daytona Beach, Fla., with 40-mile gusts as the hurricane churned along about 325 miles from the Florida East Coast.

Ella's north-northwest course began Tuesday afternoon. Before that, the storm zigzagged between north and west as it gathered strength, in a gradual rise toward the hurricane status it reached yesterday.

WHISTLESTOP CAMPAIGN ON COAST

Nixon Promises To Use 'Great Team'

By CHAPIN A. DAY

ABOARD NIXON CAMPAIGN TRAIN — Richard M. Nixon launched a 520-mile whistlestop campaign of the Central and Southern California coastline with a promise to 2,500 persons in Santa Cruz he will put "a great team of men" to work in Sacramento.

Nixon told the crowd, gathered around the platform of this special train, he would pick the best man for any job regardless of party because Californians want "national leadership in the quality of their government."

He good naturedly bantered with individuals in front of the Santa Cruz casino, where the train was parked, while Pat Nixon beamed in the background.

Just before the train was due to leave, he crossed the street and entered Casa Del Rey Hotel for elderly people. He talked informally about his proposed California Legion of Service, designed to make use of the abilities of the retired and elderly.

In Watsonville, second of 17 stops which will pace the train to San Diego in two days, 1,000 people gathered to hear Nixon. Then came Salinas and at noon the train pulled into King City.

Marin's two state legislators, Sen. John McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley, both of San Rafael, were aboard. Also among the 80 passengers on the train are William Phelps of Mill Valley, public relations staffer for Southern Pacific, and Robert Hamilton of San Rafael, a Nixon aide.

The gubernatorial candidate, talking about the kind of man he would appoint, named Robert McCarthy, former motor vehicles director under Gov. Edmund G. Brown and brother of the senator, as "the kind of man" which should be back in Sacramento.

Nixon declared his goals are to "lose the distinction of being the first state in crime," cut government spending and taxes without decreasing public services, eliminate the "chiselers" from welfare and aid rolls, and "make California first in opportunity" by attracting private enterprise investments to provide thousands of new jobs.

and is in no way to reflect anything on the city manager.

"As far as I'm concerned personally, as a public official, if the choice is presented to me to discussing any alleged shortcomings in the city manager's performance, causing him any embarrassment or in any way offending his sensibilities or discussing it in his office behind closed doors, I will make the latter choice every time."

Alto Sanitary Unit To Share Costs

Alto Sanitary District directors at a special meeting last night agreed to adopt the City of Mill Valley formula for the district to share the overall operating cost of the city's sewer plant.

The formula, according to Sidney Dooray, secretary, was evolved through mutual agreement with other sanitary districts who do business with Mill Valley.

The board also agreed to incorporate the City of Mill Valley's sewer standards with those of the district and decided to try to work out an equitable solution to problems of future annexation between the district and the city.

Voters In Burdell District Eligible

Voters in the Burdell School District, recently annexed to the Lincoln School District, will be eligible to vote for Lincoln trustees in the April election though there is no requirement that one of the trustees be from the Burdell district.

The Independent-Journal incorrectly stated yesterday that voters in the Burdell section of the Lincoln district would not be eligible to vote.

Tam High Players To Present Comedy

Tamalpais High School students will present a three-act comedy, "Your Every Wish," at 8 p.m. Nov. 9 and 10 in Ruby Scott Auditorium.

The story concerns a group of vacationing Cape Cod families who swap children in order to discipline them more objectively. Cast members include Jill Cogswell, Larett Mattson, Darryl Barry, George Gullette, Ernie Bergman, Mike Thompson, James Bullock, Rich Elliott, Don Brigance and Linda Arburthnot.

Directing the play will be Daniel Caldwell. English teacher. Francis Hammit is stage manager.

Highway Commission Set Shoreline Hearing

Special to the I-J

EUREKA — The California Highway Commission set Nov. 29 as the new date for a hearing in Marin County on realigning the Shoreline Highway (State Route 1) from the point where it leaves Highway 101 to a point north of Stinson Beach.

An earlier date for the hearing was cancelled on request of the Marin County Board of supervisors. The supervisors subsequently reconsidered and asked for a new hearing date. The hearing will be held in Marin County at a place to be designated later.

Boy Runs Into Car On Bicycle

An eight-year-old Sausalito boy was reported in fair condition today in Marin General Hospital after colliding with a moving automobile yesterday afternoon while riding his bicycle down Buchanan Avenue.

Larry Shiflett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shiflett of 44 Butte Street, is being treated for possible head injuries. Police reported the boy, riding with two friends at Buchanan and Nevada Street, ran into a car driven by Margaret Davis of 101 Buchanan at 5:50 p.m.

He struck the left front of the car and was thrown into the gutter, police said.

Traffic Violation Reveals Car Theft

When a 15-year-old youth was apprehended yesterday afternoon in Portland, Ore., on a traffic violation, it was learned that he had stolen the car he was driving from Stephen A. Nye of 85 Crescent Avenue, Sausalito.

The Sausalito boy admitted taking the 1961 Mercedes Benz two door sedan, with an Oregon license plate, at 7:55 a.m. Tuesday in front of Nye's residence.

Sausalito police said that the boy is being returned to Marin where he will be turned over to juvenile authorities and charged with grand theft.

Nevers To Speak At Football Night

Ernie Nevers, Marin County's Football Hall of Fame fullback, will be the main speaker at the Mill Valley American Legion "Salute to Football" program at 7:30 in the Legion Hall.

Coaches and team captains of all Marin High School football teams will be guests of honor, according to past commander Roy Ibach, who made the announcement.

Football movies will be shown and explained by Larry Brink, Mill Valley auto dealer, who starred on college and professional teams including the Los Angeles Rams. Brink coaches the Mill Valley entry in the Pop Warner League.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY in the Heart of our County

Marin pioneers chose a site in the heart of our county as a final resting place for their families. Today this location—at the west end of Fifth Avenue in San Rafael—is still convenient to all Marin points.

Marinites who choose Mount Tamalpais do so with the assurance that its beauty will grow with the years. The interest from a quarter-million dollar endowment fund—twice the legal requirement—is dedicated to the constant care and improvement of this 57-acre site.

Perhaps—like many Marin families—you wish to make your own final arrangements to spare others difficult decisions. If so, we invite your inquiry or a personal visit.

Child Molest Figure Taken To Hospital

A San Quentin Prison lieutenant, who is scheduled to appear in court tomorrow on a child molest charge, was rushed to the hospital unconscious yesterday and transferred to the psychiatric ward at Ross Hospital.

He is Fred V. Bartlett, 54, of 507 Browning Court, Tamalpais Valley, who is accused of molesting a 10-year-old girl at his home on Oct. 1. Free on $1,050 bail, he is scheduled to enter his plea tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

Yesterday about 3:20 p.m. Tamalpais Valley firemen got a "resuscitator call" from the Bartlett home. The nature of the ailment was not disclosed.

William O. Weissich, attorney for Bartlett, said he does not know what happened. "His wife called last night and said he's in the hospital unconscious. That's all I know."

Bartlett had worked at San Quentin Prison for 21 years until his arrest. He was also employed for three years at Folsom.

35 Dozen Eggs Stolen From Dairy Trucks

Somebody who likes to hoard eggs, or maybe wants to make a giant omelet, stole 35 dozen eggs from delivery trucks parked at the Foremost-Golden State Dairy in San Rafael Tuesday night, police learned.

John Seamas, dairy manager, told police someone climbed the fence at the dairy yard at 648 Lindaro Street between 6 p.m. and midnight and took the eggs from three trucks.

Landscape Painting Classes To Start

Eliot O'Hara, painter from Washington, D.C., will instruct classes in outdoor landscape painting for beginning and advanced students in Sausalito commencing Nov. 5 and running through the month.

Classes will be on Mondays and Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Those interested may get further information from Lynn Wood of 519 Caledonia Street.

Girl Hospitalized For Pill Overdose

Diane Lois May, 20, of 617 Galerita Way, Santa Venetia, was hospitalized yesterday morning for treatment of an overdose of pills.

Inmate Missing At Prison Camp

Patrick Morehouse, 32, who was denied parole by the California Adult Authority this month, was reported missing from San Quentin's Parlin Fork Conservation Camp at 12:40 a.m. today.

Prison authorities said Morehouse, in San Quentin since 1957 on two convictions of assault with a deadly weapon in Alameda County, cross-wired a car to make his escape from the conservation camp near Fort Bragg.

Unrepaired telephone wires from last week's storm were hampering communications between the prison and the conservation camp today.

OBITUARIES

Lenora Lindner Succumbs

Mrs. Lenora L. Lindner, mother of Edgar T. Lindner of Ross, died in San Francisco yesterday at 83. Private services will be conducted tomorrow morning at the Halsted and Co., mortuary, 1123 Sutter Street, San Francisco.

Born in Lemoor, Kings County, Mrs. Lindner made her home for 78 years in San Francisco aside from frequent summer stays in Marin County over a period of years.

She was interested in the Sunny Hills, San Anselmo, and had not missed its annual Grape Festival during the past 15 years. Because of this interest the family has requested memorial gifts to Sunny Hills.

She was married to the late Adolph Lindner and was a sister of the late federal judge Louis E. Goodman of San Francisco.

Friends described her as "full of life" up to the last, and the evening before her death she had had a meeting with other residents at the Women's Athletic Club in San Francisco. She was also a member of the California Club, another women's organization.

In addition to her son she is survived by four grandchildren.

MARIAN LAUTEN

Funeral services for Marian Johnson Lauten, 86, former Tiburon resident, were held today at the Colonial Mortuary of Crosby N. Gray and Co. in Burlingame.

GOOD NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

IF YOU ARE SELF-EMPLOYED

A NEW LAW CAN MEAN BIG MONEY FOR YOU

(1) Now you are entitled to share in a $115,000,000 annual tax savings.

(2) Now you can build a retirement program on a tax-favored basis.

MAIL COUPON BELOW TODAY FOR MORE INFORMATION

Congress has just passed a bill giving self-employed people special tax consideration on retirement programs.

This can mean important tax savings to you, every year, beginning in 1963.

This is an opportunity that you can't afford to pass up. It costs you nothing to find out more about it. And, of course, there is no obligation.

Insurance Securities Incorporated is preparing a booklet that will tell you in an easy-to-understand way what the new law can mean to you.

WHAT THE NEW LAW WILL LET YOU DO

If you are self-employed, in general you may:

1. Invest $2,500 or 10% of your earned income (whichever is less) annually in a tax-favored retirement program.

2. Deduct one-half of this amount for Federal Income Tax purposes.

3. Have the investment—plus all interest, dividends or other earnings and capital appreciation—accumulate tax-free until retirement, as long as it remains in a qualified retirement program.

Find out about tax-favored retirement programs from

San Rafael Hospital's Nursing Head Resigns; Successor Named

Mrs. Patricia Leonard, director of nursing at San Rafael General Hospital for the past three and a half years, has resigned to accept a position in San Francisco, John H. Prescott, administrator, announced today.

She will be assistant nursing director at the 350-bed St. Francis Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Ilona Bellak of Glen Ellen, Sonoma County, has been appointed to succeed Mrs. Leonard, the administrator announced.

Mrs. Bellak is a graduate of Highland Hospital School of Nursing in Oakland. She has been a member of the staff of Los Angeles General Hospital, the California Physicians Service's professional relations department in San Francisco, and during World War II was visiting nurse and later in charge of the Medical Center at Marin City.

From 1951 until her resignation this month to come to San Rafael, Mrs. Bellak was a supervising psychiatric nurse in the acute treatment division of Sonoma State Hospital. She served as coordinator and moderator for two civil defense institutes in Sonoma County.

Both Mrs. Bellak and Mrs. Leonard were awarded scholarships to a two-year series of seminars in nursing leadership sponsored by the University of California School of Nursing. They completed the course in June.

District Extends Water Service

North Marin County Water District directors Tuesday night approved an agreement to extend waterservice to an apartment house west of Dusel Court, across Highway 101 from Hamilton Air Force Base.

Growth Properties Inc., of 1010 B Street, San Rafael, plans 240 apartments there.

The board called for bids for construction of three storage tanks to be opened on Nov. 2. The tanks will vary in size from 850,000 to 5,000,000 gallons.

Assistant Principal Named at Three-Rs

Appointment of Carl Baeshore as assistant principal of the Three-R School in San Rafael was announced today by James W. Kirchanski, the school's director.

Baeshore has been a teacher at the school for three years. He will serve as assistant to Joseph N. Heath, principal for five years.

Larkspur To Have A General Plan

Larkspur will begin contacting planning consultants for ideas on how to draw up a general plan for orderly city development.

This decision came last night after a three-hour joint meeting between the city council and city planning commission.

Under the chairmanship of Mayor James R. Lienkaemper, the joint group agreed on these points:

The city needs a general plan. Priority attention should be given to land use, traffic circulation, population density and growth estimate, and recreation. The scope of the general plan should be confined to the city limits of Larkspur, with planners and consultants to take adjacent areas into consideration while making the study.

The next joint meeting of the city council and city planning commission will be called by mid-January to continue discussion on the general plan. In the meantime, the planning commission will interview planning consultants to get ideas on how to proceed on the general plan. As soon as the interviews are completed, the city council, planning commission and recreation commission will meet again, no later than mid-January.

Vaughn Marker, outgoing chairman of the Larkspur Planning Commission, said he was "very pleased" with the decisions reached last night. "I think we have traveled farther in one and one-half hours than in the last three or four years."

Marker, who had indicated he would resign from the planning commission because of increasing business responsibilities, made the resignation formal last night. However, he agreed to continue working with the planning commission in their interviews of planning consultants in connection with the general plan study.

Some of the items discussed last night, but left for later decision, were the method of financing a general plan, whether a part time consultant should be hired to work with city staff members or a planning consultant firm should be hired to draw up the entire general plan.

On the "philosophy" of city development, city fathers decided that the proposed new zoning ordinance provides as good a guide as any, and no new definition is needed at this time.

Councilman Robert J. Smith said he would like to see all future development geared to the idea that the city is primarily one-family residential. He said he is not happy with some of the apartments that have gone up. He wants to see architectural supervision enforced more rigidly.

City Manager Ronald E. Piper said that under Smith's one-family residential philosophy, a regional shopping center would not be allowed in the community.

"I realize commercial and light industry will have to come in, but even these should be consonant with or compatible with single family residential," Smith declared. He said he is thinking of aesthetics.

Other councilmen and planning commissioners said it would be difficult to enforce rulings on aesthetics.

Several items on last night's agenda were deferred, pending the general plan study. They were:

1. Whether the area between Bon Air Road, Corte Madera Creek, Magnolia Avenue and the Plaza should be rezoned from residential to an industrial park district.

2. Whether to build a new bridge over Corte Madera Creek.

3. Proposed development of the 40-acre park on Doherty Drive next to Hall School.

These should await developments on the general plan proposal, the joint group decided.

Present last night were Mayor Lienkaemper and all four councilmen; Chairman Marker and Commissioners David Scott, Earl J. O'Grady, and Andrew Gilardi.

Newsboy Publicity Award Won By I-J

A first place award for newspaperboy publicity has been presented to Independent-Journal circulation manager Julian Leone.

The award was presented by the California Newspaperboy Foundation for the paper with circulation between 20,000 and 50,000 which did the best job on publicity for its newspaper carriers.

Leone accepted the award at the foundation's annual award luncheon Oct. 9.

Boy, 7, Gets Leg Caught Under Wheel Of Bus, But Injury Minor

A seven-year-old boy's leg was caught under the front wheel of a school bus on the Tiburon Peninsula yesterday but injury seemed minor.

Larry Francis Kenyon of 1358 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was driving the bus south on Paradise Drive just north of Trestle Glen Boulevard at 8:05 a.m. and slowed as he approached a group of waiting children.

The group was waiting in an orderly manner, according to Kenyon, and he saw nothing amiss but suddenly, just as the vehicle was almost at a stop, the children shouted in alarm. Little Jonathan Hirai of 4386 Paradise Drive had fallen and been caught under a front wheel which, however, had not passed over him. By backing the bus the child was released, suffering only a bruise.

The child's mother took Jonathan to a nearby physician.

Three Die In Utah Blast

BACCHUS, Utah (AP)—Three men were killed and 18 injured yesterday in an explosion of 4,000 pounds of rocket fuel—the second in less than two months at the Hercules Powder Co. plant here.

An explosion of 3,000 pounds of experimental rocket fuel Aug. 23 also killed three men.

Killed yesterday were Larry Larsen, 26, and Charles Eutsler, 30, both of Salt Lake City and Grant C. Terry, 36, American Fork, Utah. They were inside or just outside a 20-by-30 foot frame and concrete block building used for preparation of solid fuel when the blast occurred.

The explosion left only a hole in the ground where the building had stood. Cause of the blast has not been determined.

The plant manager, R. C. Tucker, said the firm's production of solid propellant for Polaris and Minuteman missiles would not be affected. No rocket engines were damaged, he said.

The blast sent a fireball and a mushroom-shaped cloud of smoke and debris shooting about the plant, 15 miles southwest of Salt Lake City. It shook homes five miles away.

An adjacent concrete block building used for mixing missile fuel was heavily damaged. Another structure 400 yards away housing a 25 million electron-bolt X-ray machine was slightly damaged.

Coat, Radio, Jewelry Stolen At Rest Home

A coat, radio and jewelry, valued at more than $300, were reported missing Thursday from the Fairhaven Rest Home at 120 Miramar Avenue in San Rafael, according to San Rafael police.

Vivian L. Metcalf, operator of the rest home, said a woman's coat, worth $125, a transistor radio, worth $89, and pearl necklace and earrings, worth $110, were taken from closets in the home. All of the items belonged to her.

ONE AMERICAN, TWO BRITONS

Three Scientists Win Nobel Prizes

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — An American and two British scientists won the 1962 Nobel Prize for physiology or medicine today for research into the basic molecule of life.

The American was biochemist Dr. James Dewey Watson, a Harvard University professor who at 34 became one of the youngest men ever to win a Nobel Prize.

The British winners were Dr. Francis H. C. Crick and Dr. Maurice H. F. Wilkins, both internationally known research scientists.

Watson and Crick in research at Cambridge University deduced the structure and internal arrangement of DNA, an accomplishment which has been described as one of the greatest leaps in the history of science. Watson was 25 years old at the time of the discoveries in 1953.

Wilkins was visiting the Sloan-Kettering Institute in New York when the Nobel Committee of Stockholm's Caroline Institute announced that he and the other two would share the $50,043 prize.

The committee said the three men were honored for their "discoveries concerning the molecular structure of nucleic acids and its significance for information transfer in living materials."

In effect, the award was made for a project designed to explain the heredity mystery of how, for example, the color of a person's eyes and hair is transferred from one generation to another.

"I don't think the solution involved very profound thought or great intellectual insight." Watson told a news conference at Cambridge, Mass. "We followed three or four steps and we were lucky they turned out the right way."

Watson taught his Harvard class in biology as usual today, although he was a half hour late because of a deluge of congratulatory messages. He said he was "excited but somehow not very surprised" to learn that he and his British colleagues had won the award.

"My father was surer than I that I would get it," he said.

Crick, 46, is a scientist at the Medical Research Council Unit for Molecular Biology at Cambridge University, England.

Wilkins, 45, is deputy director of the biophysics laboratory at Kings College, London. During World War II, he was a member of the Manhattan District Project which produced the atomic bomb.

Watson, Crick and Wilkins will share the prize money, which derives from the income of the nine-million-dollar trust fund established by the late Alfred B. Nobel, the Swedish inventor of dynamite.

They and the winners of the prizes for literature, physics and chemistry which will be announced later, have been invited to receive the awards from King Gustaf Adolf VI at the annual ceremony in Stockholm on Dec. 10, the anniversary of Nobel's death.

The Nobel Peace Prize is presented in Oslo.

Nine years ago, Watson and Crick, using data supplied by Wilkins, deduced the structure and internal arrangement of the deoxyribonucleic acid molecule, called DNA, and constructed a model of a DNA molecule.

This molecule, sometimes described as "the most precious stuff in the universe," carries the pattern of heredity for all living things. It is part of a chromosome, which in turn is part of the genes, the determining factor in hereditary characteristics of the human being.

Since 1940 steelmaking has increased eleven fold in Mexico.

Two Cities In Marin Win Safety Contest

The cities of Sausalito and Corte Madera have been named winners in the 1961-62 California Cities Employee Safety contest.

Winners were announced at the meeting of the League of California Cities in San Diego this week. Both cities were among 73 California cities which won special awards for records of no disabling injuries to city employees during the year ending June 30.

Youth Joins Army

David H. Fong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fong of 63 Broadway, Fairfax, and a graduate of Tamalpais High School, has enlisted in the army for 18 weeks training as a dental laboratory technician and will go to Brooke Army Medical Center at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., after basic training at Fort Ord.

Mill Valley Council Says Bridge On Ethel Must Go Despite Pleas

Pleas from a number of Mill Valley residents failed to sway the city council last night when it came to the saving of a 38-year-old redwood bridge on Ethel Avenue.

The city crossed the bridge off the map to vehicular traffic, upholding recommendation of City Engineer Stanley M. Bala, who declared it "unsafe." The bridge, one of two, is the most northerly on Ethel.

The council, however, agreed to approve $500 for repairing a second trestle on Ethel, the bridge nearest Montford Avenue.

City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants was directed to consult with Chief of Police Dan Terzich to take steps to close the bridge. Signs, Almcrants said, should be placed at Montford and Mirabel avenues stating the road is closed. Signs also would be placed at the bridge limiting it to pedestrian traffic, and barricades would be placed at the bridge itself. (Almcrants said today the bridge will probably be blocked off within a week.)

Bala, in his report, told the council that the easterly bridge, 60 years old, is safe but needs minor repairs. Trestle two, to the north, he said, is not considered safe even for limited loading and should be replaced immediately or closed to all vehicular traffic. Replacement would cost $7,000, he said.

Protestants in the audience said bridge closing would make them late for work, handicap firemen and police and lower land values.

George V. Griffiths, a former city councilman, told the council "neither bridge can collapse." He said he hacked at the bridge called "unsafe" with an axe and "it's as sound as a dime."

Mrs. Jean Montgomery asked the council what the emergency was in closing the bridge since council had known of the condition since May. She said people won't be able to turn around due to the narrow road. "It means delays in milk and mail delivery," she said, "and even babies."

She asked for postponement pending a report to be submitted by Bala on B streets. After the session on bridges she said "this is the toe in the door for 37 other B streets the city council wants to get off its neck. Then they can come to Cascade, Del Casa and say, we did it on Ethel, we'll do it here."

The council put over to Nov. 21 Bala's report on B streets since Bala has been too busy to finish his survey.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks pointed out that the people on Ethel might form an assessment district to take care of their problems, such as an assessment district formed on Bolsa Avenue and other streets.

Drake 'D' Ordered Scuffed Out

The spirit among senior students at Sir Francis Drake high School isn't what it should be during Spirit Week, angry seniors there said yesterday.

Principal Harold Allison pulled five seniors out of class yesterday and had them remove a large lime "D" on private property on a hill above the school.

The students, who said they had permission of the property owner, had chipped in $21.85, bought the lime and laid the "D" at 4 a.m. yesterday to spark school spirit for the game tomorrow with Redwood High School.

But Allison, arriving at school 40 minutes before class began, saw the students in the school parking lot and later had five hoe away the letter.

"I asked a lot of students what right the principal had to stop us from doing something with our money and on our time," said senior Ronald Baker. "None of them had any answer."

"This is a tradition," said another student. "It was something we were looking forward to and wanted. We would have been glad to erase it at the end of the week. We aren't making any trouble with it."

The students raised another $20 yesterday afternoon, but rumors they would be expelled stopped them from laying a second "D" last night.

"The State Education Code says we have a responsibility for the students from the time they leave home in the morning until they return at night," Allison explained later. He said he wasn't sure how far this code could be applied.

"This sort of thing leads to retaliation from students in other schools. There's nothing wrong with a 'D' on the hill. It's what happens afterward. You have the possibility of a conflict. There's a wide range of ability to use proper judgment among the students involved. The students did this without checking all the way through."

Chamber To Help Improve 'Gateway'

Cooperation of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce has been promised in the drive to make Francisco Boulevard an attractive "Gateway to San Rafael."

Charles Bellach, one of three co-chairmen of the new Francisco Boulevard Assn., said yesterday that Jack M. Phillips, chamber manager, will sit in at all association meetings and has promised assistance in the campaign to beautify and publicize the area.

"We plan to have a mass breakfast meeting Oct. 30 at 8 a.m. in Dominic's Harbor Restaurant," Bellach said. "All merchants, property owners and interested real estate agents will be invited, and we will announce our objectives.

"We want everybody in the county to know where we are and who we are," Bellach said. "There is a lot of enthusiasm and we want to encourage the improvement of both sides of Francisco Boulevard and all connecting streets. Fourth Street has its own special events, and we want to call attention to East San Rafael."

Some of the ways to tout the Francisco area suggested at a meeting of association directors yesterday included:

Street carnivals, midnight sales, block parties, Wednesday evening store hours in addition to present Friday night store hours, better landscaping, lighting, freeway directional signs and improved canal docking facilities.

Petitions Circulated For Gallinas Annexation

Petitions were being circulated today for annexation of the San Rafael Meadows Sewer Maintenance District to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District as result of an overflow meeting last night at the Oliver R. Hartzel School.

Robert Figone of the San Rafael Meadows Improvement Assn., chairman of the gathering of more than 150, said the outcome of long discussion seemed to be unanimously in favor of annexation so petitions provided by the Las Gallinas Valley board would go out at once.

Chief question emerging from lengthy discussion was whether costs could be covered by full cash payment, estimated at $80 for each home, or through assessment district proceedings. Attorney Philip Assaf backed the former as more economical and on a show of hands this seemed unanimously supported, but fears were expressed that some opposition might show up later.

"And you just don't have any legal means of forcing anybody," said Deputy County Counsel Richard V. Godino.

Nonetheless it wits agreed to keep a tally on who was willing to pay in full with the idea that if there were only a few holdouts, special persuasion might be tried in an effort to avoid assessment district costs.

"You're fortunate to be able to annex at such a price," said Supervisor Walter R. Castro, citing a cost of $326 per house in another recent proceeding. He said that the San Rafael Meadows plant has been "one of the best in the county but it isn't up to the standards now required under present conditions."

Discussion brought out that cost to the school, with 7.42 acres of land, would be a basic $742 plus unit charges raising this to about $850. Guide Dogs for the Blind with 10.99 acres would be similarly charged $1,099 plus unit charges, according to estimates given by Warren Nute, engineer for the Las Gallinas District.

Opening the discussion, county sanitation chief William L. Desmond said the plant built around 1950 is now at maximum capacity with waste deposited in an open ditch.

Roger James, engineer for the Bay Area Water Pollution Control Board, traced events which led to the district being placed under a cease and desist order. He later indicated possible consequences of failing to meet a January 15 deadline for start on corrective action, including a prospect of having sewers cut off.

"The state has clamped down," said Public Works Director Donald F. Frost. "Your existing plant is not set up to provide what the state wants. Our feeling is that instead of trying to work out a haywire solution it will be best to annex to a larger district."

It was Frost who later boiled down possible courses in answer to queries from listeners confused by lengthy discussion.

He said the only alternatives to annexation would be to lay a long pipe out into San Pablo Bay at cost of from $100,000 to $300,000, or to bring the present treatment plant up to required standards at about $60,000 cost.

Assaf as attorney for the Las Gallinas Valley district was firm on the point that no action could be taken until the money was provided by one means or another.

Fairfax Woman Driver Injured

A Fairfax woman driver suffered minor injuries when she drove her sedan into a parked station wagon on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard yesterday.

Stephanie E. Lieber of 9 Ridge Road was northbound at 8:30 a.m. when, according to witnesses interviewed by the California Highway Patrol, she turned to the right and ran into the parked vehicle without apparent reason. She told the patrol she was suffering from a severe headache at the time.

The driver was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for a cut nose. In view of the fact that she was involved in a similar accident on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard three months ago, the patrol recommended re-examination and possible medical checkup.

Marin County School Board Assn. Elects Officers, Representatives

Officers for the Marin County School Board Assn. and three representatives to the county committee on school board organization were elected at a meeting of the association.

Robert E. Rodgers, a member of the College of Marin Board, was reelected to a four-year term. Others who were elected by trustee representatives of county school districts were Mrs. Frank Short of Inverness and Peter Macgowan of Tiburon.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy, president of the college board, was reelected president of the association. Other officers are John R. Cunningham of the Larkspur School District Board, vice president; Mrs. Jean Rosse of the Mill Valley School District Board, secretary; and Mrs. Lee Dougherty of the Novato Unified School District, treasurer.

Elephants are the hydraulic engineers of the African wilds. In times of drought, they gouge wells in dry river beds, providing essential water for other animals in the vicinity.

FLOATS LIKE A FEATHER

Chief pilot Robert Halbeck for Commodore Helicopters of Mill Valley demonstrates a forced landing of the new Hughes 269A helicopters for two press photographers. Commodore has been appointed a dealer for the new aircraft throughout the Bay Area. "You only need a 25-foot square area to land it," said Halbeck.

Girl, 12, On Bike Struck By Truck

A 12-year-old Novato girl was hospitalized after a bike-truck accident on Novato Boulevard at 3:15 yesterday, Novato police reported.

Lynda Martin, seventh grade student at Hill Intermediate School, was going home on her bicycle, when she turned across Novato Boulevard in front of a truck, police reported.

Driver of the truck, Romain Fortino Turrubiate Jr., 19, of West Sacramento, who was westbound on Novato Boulevard, said he saw the girl quickly turn across the street in front of him. He said he honked at her and put on his brakes, but did not come to a full stop before his truck hit her, according to police records. The accident occurred in front of 1713 Novato Boulevard.

Lynda, daughter of Army Maj. James F. Martin of 6 Katlas Court, was taken to Novato Hospital and then transferred to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital, where she is under observation for a possible head injury.

Police reported that Lynda had seen some classmates walking on the opposite side of the street and decided to join them.

She was lying about three feet in front of the truck when it stopped, police reported.

Former Corte Maderan Sought For Bad Checks

Joseph A. Poole, 38, painter and decorator who lived in Corte Madera for about two months, is being sought on a warrant charging him with passing fictitious checks, police said today.

Poole, formerly of Denver, cashed 38 bogus checks totaling about $850 before vanishing about Aug. 25, said Inspector Harold N. Hockett of Corte Madera police. The warrant against him set bail at $2,625.

Marin City Pole Housing Meeting Set

A meeting has been called by the Marin City Citizens Committee and the Ministerial Alliance at 2 p.m. Sunday in the community lounge to discuss the present construction of houses on poles in Marin City's redevelopment area.

Frank Phillips, Citizens Committee chairman, said today that the purpose is to investigate construction of the 59 houses and to discuss the merits of a proposed Marin County grand jury investigation of the houses. Counsel has been hired, Phillips said, to discuss legal aspects.

Rev. Samuel Banks is chairman of the Ministerial Alliance, an organization which acts as parent body over all Marin City churches.

2 More Lots Needed For Mill Valley Library Site

Two more lots are needed to enlarge the proposed Mill Valley Public Library site, it was reported by library trustees last night to the Mill Valley City Council.

The lots are adjacent to a parcel of land owned by Roy A. Ibach and used as a storage yard for the Mill Valley Lumber Co.

Councilmen, meeting in City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants's office prior to their regular council meeting, told the library board to negotiate for the extra lots. It was reported that a condemnation suit by the city to obtain the Ibach property is in process.

Also discussed were various means of acquiring money to build a new library. Benjamin Draper, board president, said that instead of a $325,000-$340,000 bond issue, another way to acquire money is to have an election asking for a 40 or 50 cent tax rate increase to cover a three year period. This would pay for the building completely in three years as against a 20-year period for a bond issue.

Councilman George D. Monardo suggested the possibility of getting someone to put up a building, lease it, then at the end of the year let them write it off as a tax loss when the building could be given to the city as a gift.

College Gets New Student President

Ronald Cox has been elected new student body president at College of Marin to replace Rick Burger, who resigned because financial reasons have forced him to take a temporary leave of absence from the College.

Cox, vice president before his appointment, took the president's chair Oct. 9 during a meeting of the executive council after Burger resigned. The council unanimously voted its "sympathies" for Burger. A new vice president will be appointed by the council.

Homestead Players Plan Slapstick, Satire In 24-Act Musical Show

Slapstick and satire will be prevalent in "This Must Be the Place (Because there's Someone in the Hall), a 24-act, musical variety show to be presented starting Nov. 9 by Homestead Players at Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

The play, which also runs at 8:30 p.m. Nov. 10, 16 and 17, is written by Walt Lowden and Bernie Healey of Mill Valley. Both men have collaborated on a number of local shows over the past four years.

Music is by Josh Portugal of San Carlos. Former Straw Hatter Dick Dawe of Mill Valley directs. He is a veteran director-performer and was a professional night club comedian for five years.

Judy Modell of Mill Valley is choreographer. A dance instructor for Dick Ford Studios, she has performed with the San Francisco Ballet. John F. Donhoff of Mill Valley is producer and Nick Pendleton, Mill Valley, art director and designer of the show's posters. Other participants include Anthony Chironi of San Francisco, pianist; Dave Williams, Corte Madera, drums; Jon Sutton of Sausalito, Bass. Dick Angell heads the lighting crew and Alan Burdick handles sound.

Visual and audio "surprises," according to Lowden, will include a three-piece combo and three special films. One film, an animated short, was designed by Milt Kerr, San Francisco film and television producer. A long playing record with the highlights of the show will be sold in the lobby.

Ticket reservations may be made through Maxine Mallou-fat, 117 Ferndale Avenue, Mill Valley.

Sausalito Artist Works On Display

A showing of oils and mono prints by Sausalito artist Lynn Wood may be seen through Nov. 15 at the Glad Hand restaurant, Sausalito.

Mrs. Wood, an art instructor and owner of the Phoenix Gallery at 102 Caledonia Street, is exhibiting 15 oils in abstract and realistic plus several mono prints.

Boy Scout 'Fandango' Set Saturday

A campaign to sign up 1,000 new Boy Scouts in Marin will be highlighted Saturday when scouts and their leaders meet at Camp Tamarancho for games and a barbecue dinner.

Called the "Commissioners' Fandango," the full day of activities will conclude with a camp fire program. The event is sponsored by Dr. William Magladry, Marin Council commissioner, and neighborhood commissioners.

The 1962 round-up to sign up new scouts is being conducted in schools throughout the county. Rallies are being held, and about 6,000 survey cards have been distributed to determine interest in scouting activities.

Information about the Boy Scouts in Marin has been sent non-members and their parents.

Leon Smith is council round-up chairman. District chairmen are Marc Davis, southern district; Stephen McKee, Redwood district; and Fay Blair, Miwok district.

Youth Changes Plans

Robert F. Aiken of Burlington, Vt., while a house guest of Col. and Mrs. Wellington Glover of 1010 Idylberry Road, San Rafael, changed plans for return east and has enlisted in the Army through its San Rafael recruiting station to take basic training at Fort Ord before proceeding to advanced technical training.

DAILY BRINGS YOU ALL THE NEWS

Caroline Will Have To Get Lost At Next White House Welcoming

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Caroline Kennedy's kindergarten class will have to leave the sound effects to the honor guard at any future official welcoming ceremonies at the White House.

President John F. Kennedy and the State Department have decided the children — charming as they are—would best be in another part of the mansion when chiefs of state are getting red-carpet treatment on the south lawn, it was learned today.

Monday Caroline's playmates mimicked the military commands during the solemn review for Prime Minister Ahmed Ben Bella. Their yells of "boom" during the 21-gun salute and "attention!" caused some embarrassment in state circles.

The 4 and 5-year-old youngsters were watching the pomp and splendor from the third floor solarium, where they go to school daily.

It was the first time a welcoming ceremony was held on the White House lawn for a chief of state. Ambassador Angier Biddle Duke, the State Department's protocol chief, said the president was "very pleased and thrilled" with the poetic setting for the ceremony. He would like to do it for all visits of heads of state to Washington.

But such an idea causes some consternation and pained eyebrows in official circles, since it would be overturning European protocol traditions that date back to 1815. Since that time, presidents have been going to train stations and, in more recent years, airports to meet heads of state.

Kennedy and the protocol office believe the White House ceremony is equal to if not better than, the airport setting.

None of the previous ambassadors wanted to be the first to accept White House welcoming ceremonies, but Duke was able to carry out the plan for the first time last Monday because Algeria does not have an ambassador in Washington as yet.

Satisfaction And Struggle Marks Of Ecumenical Council

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council went into its second week today. The record so far was one of satisfaction and struggle.

The satisfaction came from Pope John XXIII. The 80-year-old pontiff, who has made the world-wide meeting the keystone of his reign, told a general audience yesterday he was pleased with the way it was going.

The struggle is among the 2,700 council fathers—cardinals, archbishops, bishops and patriarchs—assembled here from all over the world.

It is an undercurrent contest for ascendancy at this greatest religious gathering in modern times. On one side are leaders of the cautious traditionalist view who want to preserve the status quo. On the other are "progressives" who favor many changes in the nature of the church.

Four Quit Class Over Noah's Ark

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Four San Francisco State College students have quit a geology course because they contend the views of its professor undermined their religious beliefs.

The students, not identified, quit because Dr. York Mandra said the earth could not have been completely covered with water at any one time. The statement was made during a lecture on Noah and the Ark.

The Golden Gater, a school newspaper, quoted both sides in the controversy.

"They're corruptors. They want to twist us with their so-called facts until we accept nothing on faith," one student was quoted.

Dr. Mandra said he regretted the resignation of the students and added:

"We're not interested in pushing dogma. But it's important for students to know why scientists think as they do, important to give the truth.

"And when the truth is known, religion and science are definitely found to be compatible."

Survey Shows Voters Back School Finances

BURLINGAME (AP)—A survey of 70 school district elections held Sept. 18 indicates strong taxpayer support for increased school finances, the California Teachers Assn. says.

The group reported yesterday that of 53 bond elections held on that date, 40 were approved. Of 23 other districts voting on acceptance of state loans for school construction, 17 approved by the necessary two-thirds majority, it added.

Twelve of 14 elections for increased maximum tax rates won voter approval. Of the 19 bond or state loan issues rejected, the report noted, 14 got more than 60 per cent yes votes, but less than the required two-thirds. Three failed by three votes or less.

Of the 70 districts in 25 counties included in the report, Los Angeles County recorded the largest number of successful elections, approving 12 and rejecting one.

Dr. Thomas Lantos, San Francisco State College economics professor, declared, "When a shift of five votes in the Sept. 18 election could have changed three bond failures into victories with the required two-thirds approval, we can see how archaic this required majority is."

Fairfax Park Unit Meeting Is Changed

Next meeting of the Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission will be Nov. 5 instead of Nov. 6 because of election on the latter date, chairman C. Thomas Teck announced today.

The commission at that meeting will again consider the plan for landscaping Fairfax Park, sent back by the city council after a petition was received objecting to a proposal to cut down four redwood trees as part of the landscaping.

The U. S. Army first issued tropical clothing — white pants and straw hats—in 1879.

Polio Victim Found Two Days After Wreck

LAKEPORT (AP) — Tire skid marks on the road probably saved the life of Robert McClellan, a 28-year-old polio victim who for two and one-half days was trapped in his wrecked car, near his dead mother, highway patrolmen said today.

A patrolman spotted the marks yesterday on a heavily traveled state highway about 100 miles north of San Francisco near this resort community.

Investigating, he found McClellan in the back seat of the auto at the bottom of a 100-foot embankment. The body of the mother, Blanche, 61, who was thrown from the vehicle, was found nearby.

Officers said the pair were on their way to San Francisco when the car's steering mechanism apparently failed.

McClellan, transferred to a Francisco hospital, refused to discuss the accident. His doctor said he was suffering from shock and a broken leg.

Patrolman Robert W. Lyons said McClellan, unable to move about without a wheelchair, remained huddled in a blanket. The auto rolled over twice but came to rest on its wheels near a creek.

Lyons quoted McClellan, "I kept hollering until my voice gave out. I could hear the creek. I was so thirsty and I tried to crawl out and get to the water, but I couldn't make it."

Officers said that McClellan told them he and his mother have been on welfare, and he had borrowed $10 to go to San Francisco to see if they could get additional aid.

Generator Stolen

A six-volt generator was stolen sometime Tuesday night from a car parked at 1036 Los Gamos Road in San Rafael, police reported today. John R. Holland, car owner and resident at the same address, told police he discovered wires cut and the generator missing at 7:30 a.m. yesterday.

Editor Fired In Ike Attack

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — The editor of the University of Colorado's student daily newspaper, who printed attacks on Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, was fired by the university president yesterday.

In announcing the dismissal of Gary Althen, 21, a senior, President Quigg Newton said the editor "had displayed a pattern of editorial irresponsibility that required his removal."

"I'm not sure this is in the best interests of the university," said Althen.

Both Newton and Althen had apologized to Sen. Goldwater for publication of a critical article written by Carl Mitcham, 21, a philosophy student from Dallas, Tex.

After Althen was warned by university officials to exercise better judgment, he wrote an editorial advocating admission of Communist China to the United Nations.

President Newton also appointed three deans to the board of publications, which controls the newspaper. The board then named Jon Kolomitz, journalism senior from La Junta, Colo., as interim editor. Kolomitz had been executive editor of the daily.

Firemen Set Ball In Corte Madera

The Corte Madera Volunteer Fire Department will hold its eighth annual ball at the Corte Madera Recreation Center Nov. 10.

The ball, only public social function by the firemen each year, is to raise funds for the department.

Music will be played by the Jack Barnes Orchestra for dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The bar will be open, said Chief Frank Nelson.

Besides Nelson the department consists of Lee Larson, the town's only paid fireman, and 22 volunteers.

Cemetery Vandalism Reported In Novato

Vandalism to the cemetery on Simmons Lane and Virginia Avenue, Novato, was reported Tuesday to Novato police.

Mill Valley Votes Apartment Footage

The Mill Valley City Council last night voted 4-1, Councilman Michael Wornum voting "no," to change the required minimum footage per apartment unit to 2,500 square feet.

Requirements were 1,500 square feet on flat areas and 2,000 square feet on slopes until June 20 when the council froze the zoning at a blanket 3,000 square feet under an interim ordinance.

The 2,500-square-foot minimum will apply only to areas which are already zoned for multiple family use and the new ordinance will apply only to applications filed after the interim ordinance was enacted.

Action was taken over protests of several property owners. George Martinez declared that the matter should be placed on the ballot for a vote of the people. "I'm very bitter at it," he said. "I'm going to fight every inch of this. I don't give a damn who it is in front of me."

Former City Councilman Elizabeth Rodman suggested the council not make a blanket change but go over the multiple areas one at a time in a survey. Councilman Wornum agreed.

Others objecting were Manuel Gomez, Mrs. Violet Ryan and James Canepa.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

1. Accepted a low bid of $5,818 from Ghilotti Bros. Inc. of San Rafael to install pipe and a bid of $2,000 to install a sump on Sycamore Avenue to handle flood waters. Council also agreed to spend an estimated $14,185 to repair two pumps.
2. Accepted low bid of $5,250 from Ghilotti Bros. Inc. to construct a retaining wall on Edgewood Avenue and decided to bring before the County Board of Supervisors discussion of future Edgewood Avenue Street repairs since, though in the city, the street is heavily used by out of city motorists.
3. Referred a dispute between property owners over use of Woodside Lane, between Woodside and Molino avenues, to City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants.
4. Voted unanimously to abate as a nuisance the two "pink houses" situated at East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto. The houses, owned by David Paul and on land of Bert Randolph, must be removed in 30 days or the city may destroy them. The council indicated they would not be suitable for a teen-age center, nor would it be politic to try to get rid of the houses and at the same time considering using them for such a center.
5. Agreed to waive business license fee for E. A. Brymer, dance chaperone, for teen-age dances at Our Lady of Mount Carmel School since dances are held for charitable purposes.
6. Referred to planning commission for public hearings and recommendations a proposal to place horsemen's riding trails on Corte Madera Ridge.
7. Asked City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to draft an ordinance which would require all variances on substandard lots to be approved by the city council.
8. Adjourned to 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Warrant Issued In Drunk Case

Judge Joseph G. Wilson yesterday issued a bench warrant for Joe Andrew York, 35, of Novato, who failed to appear in court on charges of drunken driving and battery.

Attorney Harold R. Hayes, who has been representing York, told the judge he can't find his client anywhere and therefore wants to withdraw from the case. The judge then issued a warrant of arrest with bail set at $1,500.

York, a sheetrock taper who lives at 98 Grande Vista, Novato, was arrested Sept. 14 when his car locked bumpers with a car driven by off-duty highway patrolman John Francis Allison, 32, of Mill Valley. The mishap occurred at Ignacio. York then drove away. Allison said he chased York to Novato and caught up with him, whereupon York took a swing at him, hitting him near the left ear.

Drake High CSF Elects Officers

Twins, junior students at Sir Francis Drake High School, have both been elected to offices in the school's chapter of the California Scholarship Federation.

The club's new vice president is Daniel Vacha. His twin, Richard Vacha, is treasurer.

Victoria Brown was elected president and Michele Slavich secretary in elections held by the newly named CSF members.

Lawrence Fong was elected president of the Honor Crew, the school's local honor society. Other new officers are: Janet Scott, vice-president; Carlo Pincini, secretary, Christine Skaer, treasurer, according to Laura Schollhorn, school reporter.

Leftovers?

HERRIN, Ill. (AP) — Burglars took 17 pounds of turkey, 38 pounds of ground beef and 40 pounds of cheese from Chittyville Elementary School. Principal Ronald Browning said the school lunch program would continue "although the menu will be revised somewhat."

Rancho School Site Addition To Be Discussed

Acquiring part of the Richard Connell property on South Novato Boulevard to add to the Rancho School site will be discussed at 8 tonight by the Novato Unified School District board at the administration building.

The property, which is just south of the Nave Shopping Center, was denied a rezoning from limited agriculture to commercial by the city council at its meeting on Oct. 9.

The board will open bids for the drainage project at the high school and for new busses.

The auditor will submit the annual report on the district.

Other items to come before the board include accepting a drinking fountain at the high school as a gift from the associated students, inter-scholastic sports at Hill Intermediate School and senior weeks activities at the high school.

Burglars Steal Beer From Stinson Cafe

Burglars stole about a dozen six-packs of beer, several packs of cigarettes and some potato chips from Elwood's Cafe in Stinson Beach during the weekend, Sheriff's Deputy R. L. von Savoye reported yesterday.

Harry R. Shurtleff, owner of the restaurant, said the beer was in the refrigerator in the back room, and the cigarettes under the bar. The lock hasp on the back door had been pried off.

Law Group Forms To Coordinate Traffic Regulations In Bay Area

A steering committee to work on a program to coordinate traffic regulations in the Bay Area was formed yesterday at a meeting of the Bay Area Traffic Executives Council at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio.

Capt. Palmer Stinson of the Oakland Police Department was named to head the committee, which was formed at his suggestion. He will name the committee members from traffic officers in the other Bay Area cities. More than 40 traffic officers attended the luncheon meeting.

Stinson reviewed the jaywalking problem in Oakland through the newspaper reports dating back to 1926. He used this as one example of law enforcement that gets only sporadic attention in some cities.

He urged that cities work more closely together in solving all such problems uniformly and adopt uniform programs for dealing with such problems.

I. T. Zarogoza, director of traffic of the San Francisco Police Department, said that every time his department started a campaign against jaywalking, the newspapers "clobber" the police department.

Another problem which meets varied methods of handling, was that of non-injury accidents in which both parties request police not to investigate the accident. L. F. McElravy of the Kensington Police Department, asked if other departments had a release form which was used in this case. No department represented at the meeting did, but some police officers stated that they closed their accident reports with "no investigation made at the request of both parties."

Other problems discussed by the traffic officers include six feet high bicycles, reversed steering wheels on foreign cars and parking off the side of roads in unincorporated areas.

Capt. T. F. Parnow of the California Highway Patrol at San Rafael, cited the Marin County ordinance forbidding parking within nine feet of the center line of a street as a good example how to control these problems.

Inspector W. C. Stimmann of the California Highway Patrol at San Francisco, said that the state vehicle code does not cover all of these cases, and that they must be controlled by local ordinances.

Assistant Police Chief Joseph Brusatori of the San Rafael Police Department represented Chief Charles Chiesa, who cohosted the meeting with Captain Parnow of the California Highway Patrol.

Mill Valley Firemen Plan Dance Nov. 3

The Mill Valley Assn. of Volunteer Firemen will hold its 67th annual dance Nov. 3 at the Outdoor Art Club, dance chairman Ray Modin announced today.

Tickets have been mailed to Mill Valley residents and proceeds from the dance are to be used for the volunteers' health and welfare fund.

Persons who do not plan to attend the dance, said Modin, may still make contributions by mail. There will be three awards made at the event, which starts at 9 p.m.

Dick Hart and his orchestra will play.

Meeting In Bolinas Tomorrow On Zoning

A public meeting on proposed zoning for Bolinas will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Bolinas Community Center.

The proposed zoning for the Bolinas Peninsula will be discussed by Edmund Kagi, Marin County Planning Department staff member.

Indian On Death Row Due 3rd Sanity Exam

FRESNO (UPI)—Federal Judge William Mathes will have a third psychiatrist examine Rayna Tom Carmen, who spent eight years on San Quentin's Death Row.

The jurist took the action after receiving conflicting reports from two other psychiatrists during a sanity hearing.

Mathes tentatively set Nov. 5 for a hearing but indicated it might be held Monday if Carmen is examined this week by Dr. Harry L. Bramwell of Stockton.

Dr. Mark Zeifert termed Carmen potentially dangerous and said he should be under supervision. Dr. Paul Levy asserted that Carmen appeared mentally competent, pleasant, cooperative and understood the nature of the charges and possible consequences.

Carmen, 51, is seeking a new trial on charges of killing a fellow Indian, Dan McSwain, on a federal reservation near North Fork.

He was found guilty twice but both convictions were set aside, once by the State Supreme Court and again by the Federal Appellate Court, which ruled the state did not have jurisdiction.

The federal court overruled the conviction on the grounds that a crime committed on a federal reservation is outside the jurisdiction of the state.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Famed Frontier Nursing Service Geared To Serve 10,000 Persons

VAN DELLEN

"Hossback nurses" are the women of the famed Frontier Nursing Service of eastern Kentucky. Most of their horses have been replaced with four wheeled vehicles. In addition, their duties have been lightened through the introduction of running water and indoor plumbing and improved diets and medications. The organization is geared to serve 10,000 persons over 700 square miles.

The FNS was founded by Mrs. Mary Breckinridge in 1925. According to Joe Creason, of the Louisville Courier, after she lost her own two youngsters, she devoted her life to working for the children of other mothers.

THERE WAS NO better place to start than in the remote counties in eastern Kentucky. At that time this was a tight little world of rough mountains. The horse was the only means of transportation to certain points; from there it became necessary to walk.

Mrs. Breckinridge is 80. Most of the success of the venture stems from her executive ability and planning. The hospital at Hayden became the hub, with six (now five) nursing centers scattered throughout the area. Each center has subsidiary outposts where weekly clinics are held and two nurses, a graduate and a nurse-midwife, usually live at each center.

MORE THAN 13,000 babies have been delivered by the nurse-midwives of the FNS; 8,000 were delivered at home and only 11 mothers died. But the main function of the members of this organization is general nursing care of mothers and children. Preventative medicine and social service are provided. Last year, more than 25,000 house calls were made and the nurses saw almost as many more in their clinics.

The ability to pay never has entered the picture but Mrs. Breckinridge does not believe in free care for those who can pay something. This is in keeping with the independent spirit of the mountain people.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

ACHING HEELS

L.G. writes: After lying down for five or six hours, I notice pain at the bottom of my heels when I get up. Have you any suggestions about the cause?

REPLY

This may stem from strain, arthritis or spurs. Examination, along with X-rays and perhaps a blood test, will be needed to determine the exact cause. It does not sound serious and you must decide whether the condition bothers you enough to warrant the time and expense of these examinations.

STOMACH ACID

F.T. writes: When you are told you have too little acid in the stomach, do you have to take drops of acid in water for the rest of your life?

REPLY

Additional acid is not necessary unless the deficiency is causing stomach distress. It is a paradox that some people with indigestion have too much gastric acid and others have none.

LIVER ROOM

S.H. writes: I have gall bladder trouble and enlarged liver. Will removal of the gall bladder give more room to the liver?

REPLY

No, but taking out the gall bladder might be helpful it it is infected and is contributing to enlargement of the liver.

STREP INFECTIONS

W.B.writes: What is the difference between strep throat and scarlet fever?

REPLY

Scarlet fever is a strep throat with a rash. The individual becomes immune to the rash after one attack of scarlet fever but may develop strep throat again and again.

Tests For Placements Given By Three-Rs

Diagnostic tests for placement are given by the Three-R Schools in connection with the Saturday morning tutoring classes, it was announced today by James W. Kirchanski, director of the schools.

Students attending other schools during the week may receive supervised home work assistance of tutoring on Saturdays from first grade through high school, he said.

IT'S "SHOWER OF VALUES" IN I-J CLASSIFIED ADS

Have you looked at the I-J Classified section lately? If you haven't, you have missed more bargains per square inch than you'll find anywhere in Marin. This is the "People's Marketplace" and here you find bargains in almost anything you are looking for. Lots of folks just read it for the fun of seeing the tremendous variety of items advertised. Smart shoppers answer the ads quickly to be the first to get in on the values.

Smart advertisers use classified ads daily because they know that results are almost instantaneous in the Want Ads. The reason for this is that most of the items advertised are "one of a kind" and shoppers know that if they don't get there quickly the item will be sold. So, whether it's action or bargains you want . . . it's smart to read and use I-J Classified Ads.

Trade, Managerial Assignments Keep Baseball Alive

U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The baseball season didn't end with the World Series.

In a span of 90 minutes yesterday:

—The Milwaukee Braves hired Bobby Bragan as their new manager, succeeding Birdie Tebbetts.

—The Los Angeles Dodgers re-hired Manager Walt Alston, who said he was in favor of re-hiring Coach Leo Durocher.

—The Chicago Cubs and the St. Louis Cardinals completed a six-player trade that involved pitchers Larry Jackson and Lindy McDaniel and slugging outfielder George Altman.

Bragan said he was prouder than at any time "since I was made a second lieutenant in the Army" when the Braves picked him to replace Tebbetts, who quit Milwaukee two weeks ago to become manager of the Cleveland Indians.

"I knew I'd manage in the big leagues again," said Bragan, who bossed the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1956 and 1957 and the Indians in 1958. "I didn't know where or when, but I can't think of a better club to be with than the Braves."

The former National League catcher-infielder was a coach with the Houston Colts last season. He signed a one-year contract in becoming the third Braves' manager since 1959, the year they tied the Dodgers for the N.L. pennant and then were beaten in the playoffs.

The announcement that Alston would be back for his 10th consecutive season as the Dodgers' skipper was made in Los Angeles by General Manager Buzzie Bavasi, who publicly absolved genial Walt for the Dodgers' late-season collapse.

"Our defeat was caused by no one person or player," Bavasi said. "Rather we lost by a team effort of 25 people."

Alston then announced from his home in Darrtown, Ohio, that he had no intention of sacking Durocher, who reportedly criticized the manager's strategy in the Dodgers' final playoff game against the Giants.

"As far as I'm concerned, Leo will be back," said Alston. "I have not had a chance to discuss our coaching staff with Bavasi . . . but I've been satisfied with the work of my coaches. And no one has convinced me that Durocher said those things."

The Cubs, who finished ninth in the 10-team National League race this year, traded Altman, pitcher Don Cardwell and catcher Moe Thacker to the Cardinals for Jackson, McDaniel and catcher Jim Schaffer.

Altman was the big man in the deal. A great favorite with Cub fans, the 29-year-old right fielder was the team's leading hitter for the last two seasons. He batted .318, had 22 homers and knocked in 74 runs during the 1962 campaign.

Jackson always has been touted as a potential 20-game winner but never reached that mark in eight seasons with the Cardinals. His best year was 1960 when he posted an 18-13 mark. The 31-year-old right-hander had a 16-11 record and a 3.79 earned run average this year.

General Manager Bing Devine of the Cardinals was delighted to land Altman, who should give the sixth-place club added punch, but he added, "we're not finished dealing." The Cards are still seeking shortstop and catching help.

The Cubs, too, were highly satisfied with the deal. Said General Manager John Holland: "We will have to go with a younger outfield . . . but we feel the acquisition of these players will be a tremendous boost to our pitching staff."

Now That Season Is Over, What About Giant Trades?

CONNOLLY

The long winter nightmare has begun for a number of S.F. Giant ball players. To a few it could culminate with being traded, sold or shipped back to the minors. For others it could very well mean they have reached the fork in the road that might lead them into the limelight, or steer them into oblivion. But envisioning anything but a lively hot stove league season is silly.

Naming players who might or might not be around in 1963 all depends on the drawing board plans of Giant management.

Orlando Cepeda comes to mind as one of the upper bracket men who either has to be straightened out, or flattened out, to meet the requirements of major league playing standards. The fact that he is regarded as one of the potentially great players on the squad makes him likely, and yet unlikely, to be offered for sale or trade bait. Certainly if he is sold he would command a terrific sale price. If he should be traded, it would have to be to some American League club and the scarcity of talent there makes Cepeda a player who would have to bring other top flight men and a bundle of cash in return, to even make it worth while.

KNOWING OWNER Horace Stoneham as a real cagey horse trader it really seems quite impractical for him to consider Cepeda, until next spring, when the Baby Bull comes back to the wars after a complete rest.

Cepeda, seasoned and tough, with some of his illusions of grandeur eliminated, could be the top man in 1963. He has only to adjust himself to "go steady" with any big league club. It is quite possible he already has realized and conquered his problems.

The outlook for the Giants in future National League competition is the rosiest it has been since they came west. They have five infielders who stack alongside of the best and these include Jimmy Davenport, Jose Pagan, Chuck Hiller, Cepeda and the fabulous Willie McCovey, who can double as outfielder or first sacker.

MATTY ALOU seems definitely in line for active outfield duty in 1963 along with Willie Mays and brother Felipe. That would preserve Harvey Kuenn as top utility man in the infield or outfield. It is my guess that whenever Harvey decides to quite active playing he will catch on as a Giant coach or in some capacity where he will be of good use for player personnel details. Harvey is that well thought of by the headman and manager Al Dark.

The principle shakeup in the Giants' family concerns the pitching corps. Mike McCormick, for one, occupies the top spot. He has either to comeback or else. If he regains strength in his pitching arm, his confidence will come along with it and he could be an outstanding performer once again.

BOB BOLIN is the cinch youngster to get his big chance in 1963. I think he will rate alongside of Marichal, Sanford, O'Dell and maybe even ahead of Pierce, who could be the fifth regular. Should McCormick hit his old time pitching stride, you'd have to admit the Giants would have a rather fancy aggregation. And this layout doesn't take into consideration fellows like Don Larsen, Jim Duffalo, Dick Le May, Gaylord Perry and Bob Garibaldi who either goes to work regularly next year in the National League or some other Giant farm close to home.

Garibaldi, no doubt, gathered a lot of valuable information and experience on National League hitters while raising a crop of corn on the seat of his trousers since last July. But that was part of the deal, which at the time it was made, was hailed as $150,000 but which since has been pretty well agreed upon as having cost $220,000. With that kind of an outlay it isn't at all likely that the Giants won't use everything in their power to make Garibaldi a regular.

TWO OLD STANDBYS, Stu Miller, the butterfly righthander and Ed Bailey, catcher, are likely trading bait in the Giant youth movement.

Stu was sensational in 1961 but hadn't his pinpoint control in 1962 and at least is eligible for a shift in scenery.

Bailey, until the rapid development of Tom Haller, was considered one of the best hitting catchers in the National League. He has slowed up, hasn't been throwing well, and his age is a moving factor in sending him to greener pastures.

HORNUNG TO MISS 49ER GAME SUNDAY

GREENBAY, Wis. (UPI) — Green Bay Packer star halfback Paul Hornung will not start against the San Francisco 49ers Sunday, Coach Vince Lombardi said today, after Hornung's injured right knee failed to respond adequately to treatment this week.

Lombardi said, however, Hornung "possibly" would be used for kicking chores. The National Football League's scoring leader received a "badly bruised" knee in the first period of play against the Minnesota Vikings Sunday.

Seals Beaten By Portland Icemen

PORTLAND (AP)—San Francisco's Seals fell 3-1 last night to a more aggressive Portland team in a Western Hockey League game.

The Buckaroos notched two goals in the opening period—all they needed—and a final tally in the second period. The Seals came closest with a brief tie in the first period when Len Haley pushed the puck past goalie Don Head who was screened by his own defenders.

READY FOR WORKOUT — Dick Tiger gets head gear adjusted by trainer Jimmy August before a couple of sparring rounds yesterday in preparation for his world title fight with champion Gene Fullmer in San Francisco next Tuesday night. (AP Wirephoto)

Tiger Predicts Title Bout Will Go 15 And He'll Win It

Challenger Dick Tiger predicted today that he'll lift Gene Fullmer's middleweight boxing title but added he expects the bout will go the full 15 rounds at Candlestick Park next Tuesday.

The hard socking 160-pounder from Nigeria said, "Fullmer is strong and I'm strong. I think the fight will go the 15 rounds, but if I'm lucky, I'll knock him out."

Tiger has been installed as a slight favorite in San Francisco, a fact which makes little impression on him. He says, "It's up to the public to decide the odds. Maybe they like me and think I'm good. I don't pay any attention to the odds. I just go in and fight for me."

He's also campaigning hard to take back the second world title for Nigeria. Former featherweight champion Hogan "Kid" Bassey was the first.

Tiger maintains the three postponements of the title fight haven't bothered him, but his manager, Jersey Jones, wasn't too happy when he said, "He's at his peak right now. It's up to us to keep him there."

"He's a socker with both hands," said sparring partner Willie Turner after yesterday's three-round session. "He hits equally hard to the head and body . . . toughest fellow I've ever been in with."

Tiger's build resembles a heavyweight from the waist up and a featherweight's from the waist down. With his big arms and shoulders plus quick hands he generates a powerful yet speedy attack.

Red Admits Packers Are Pretty Fair

Coach Red Hickey continued to laud his San Francisco 49ers today, but did pause long enough to admit that Green Bay was a tough team, too.

San Francisco, now 3-2 in the NFL, would like to scramble the Western Division race Sunday by upsetting the mighty Packers, who are 5-0.

Hickey, who says his team is in the best shape it's been all year, called yesterday's drill "one of our best workouts of the season."

But asked how he planned to crack the tough Packer defense, he admitted it presented a problem. Green Bay has surrendered only two touchdowns this year and has won 11 games in a row.

"Go to a ground game and it is a mighty tough job to gain on them — then figure on a passing game and see what you are up against," Hickey commented.

The Packers have picked off an average of four of five passes per game and speedsters such as Herb Adderly and Willie Woods have been lugging back stolen aerials for big yardage.

Last Night's Fights

VIENNA—Emile Griffith, 149¼, New York, outpointed Teddy Wright, 153¼, Detroit, 15—billed for world junior middleweight title; Ray Robinson, New York knocked out Diego Ifantes, Spain, 2, (weights unavailable).

Parade Slated In S.F. For Warriors Instead Of Giants

Citizens of San Francisco, frustrated in their plans to stage a parade in honor of the Giants, will have one tomorrow morning for the San Francisco Warriors.

The Warriors will be making their first start of the National Basketball Assn. season on Tuesday when they meet the Detroit Pistons at the Cow Palace.

Tuesday's parade will start at the Ferry Building and roll up Market Street to city hall, where the team will be officially welcomed by acting Mayor Harold S. Dobbs.

Pvt. Meschery Breaks Left Arm

FORT JACKSON, S.C., (UPI)—Tom Meschery, a forward for the San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Assn., fractured his left arm Monday night in a regimental basketball game.

Meschery, a private scheduled to be released from the Army next week after a six-month tour of duty, will not be able to see action with the warriors for six weeks.

WORLD SERIES AFTERMATH

Yankees' Terry Celebrates Triumph On A Golf Course

By FRANK ECK

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)—What does a World Series hero do 24 hours after he has pitched the greatest game of his life? Well, if he's Ralph Terry and can play golf he goes out on the golf course.

That's just made the 26-year-old pitching star of the World Champion New York Yankees did yesterday despite having gone without sleep after his series clinching 1-0 victory over the San Francisco Giants on Tuesday.

Terry and 11 other Yankees arrived in New York early yesterday morning after a 3,000-mile jet flight from San Francisco.

"We sang all the way home," said the jubilant right-hander who won 23 games this season, plus two series games out of the last three played.

At three o'clock yesterday, 24 hours after Terry had four-hit the National League champions at Candlestick Park, he was at the Metropolis Country Club.

After the first two holes, Terry said:

"I'm having almost as much trouble with this game as I had against the Giants. Tuesday I relied on my fast ball and fact breaking slider. Now I've got a bigger hook but it's no good for golf."

Terry's first tee shot hooked into grounds under repair for a free lift. His second tee shot hooked under some huge willow trees.

But from the third hole on Terry settled down. He had a birdie three on the 408-yard par 4 third and got six more pars.

"It will take me two weeks to get back on my game," Terry said. "I'm glad it didn't take me that long to warm up in San Francisco. At least I'm hitting the ball good."

"I had planned to fly home to Larned, Kan., to see our new baby boy (Frank Gabe Terry, born Oct. 6) but I flew to New York instead to pick up the sports car I won," said Terry. "I'm hoping Tanya, my wife, will receive doctor's permission to join me here this week end. Tanya has been living with her parents and I'm sure they can handle the formula for a few days."

Terry was surprised to learn that he made only 103 pitches in his 1-0 shutout. He also was astonished to learn that only once did he throw two nonstrikes in succession.

"At times it seemed like I was out there pitching for a week, especially to Jim Davenport," Terry said. Davenport fouled off eight pitches in the third inning and four in the sixth. Terry had fanned Davenport four times previously in the series.

"I guess the two balls in a row came in the ninth to Willie Mays," Terry said. "They were inside. Then I put a fast ball outside and Mays doubled to right.

"I was in a daze on the mound when the finish came on that line drive to Bobby Richardson. I was never so happy and relieved in my life."

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
IJ Fish and Game Writer

The Gals Reported Some Big Catches During The Week

STEVENS

The phone rang; I lifted the receiver. A very pleasant feminine voice said: "You were right, Mr. Stevens, when you wrote that the storms might send some nice bass upstream to the back country." I waited. The voice continued: "I can vouch for it. I caught my largest fish Sunday morning after the rains." There was suppressed excitement in the voice. "Maybe it wasn't the largest fish ever caught, but it was the largest I ever caught. I caught two, really. One was a nice seven-pounder and the other weighed 16 pounds 4 ounces. My, what a time I had with it!"

The lady, Jo-Ann Salazar of San Leandro, told me she only fished for two hours when the winds came up and forced her in. She used, as always, sardine heads and fished on the flats near Buoy 19 in the San Joaquin. Congratulations, Jo-Anne!

THE WINDS came up Sunday afternoon in the back country; ditto in the San Pablo Bay. Monday was very windy, as most of you know, and Tuesday it was blowing a young gale. Hence very few boats, small or large, have gone out. The water is badly colored all over and trolling slackened off in the lower areas of the Bay region. But bait fishing?

An amazing number of dedicated anglers braved the storms of Thursday, Friday and Saturday — mostly in private cruisers or large party boats — and an amazing number of fish, mostly lunkers, were taken. Not limits, understand, but some big fellows to 20 pounds.

Prior to the rains, fishing in the upper San Pablo Bay—Contra Costa side—was about the best of the year to date, and there were indications of the Marin Side starting to come to life.

ON SUNDAY, which was a nice day in the morning, not many anglers showed up for party boat trips and very few for skiffs. But the few hardy souls who did buck the elements brought in some mighty fine fish, most of which were caught on bullheads. For example: Carl Bennett of the Rodeo Marina reported the Kathy M with but two anglers aboard, had four fish to 10 pounds; the Poseidon netted two limits to 10 pounds, and the Bluefish had three to 14 pounds. The top fish was a 20-pounder taken from a skiff on a bullhead.

Sunday, Nadine Lessley of Dowrelio's Crockett Harbor reported the Dowrelio No. 5, which fished only in the afternoon, came in with five bass to 19 pounds, and the Happy Days had eight stripers including one of 16 pounds and one of 16½ pounds. Three private boats did very well. D. H. Poor brought in eight bass to 15 pounds; Frank Lew also had eight with two 13-pounders and one 19¾-pounder, and Harold Feldman unloaded two limits to 18½ pounds.

ON MONDAY, the Millie Linn had five fish to eight pounds, the Sunfish netted nine to 16 pounds, the Jackpot also had nine bass with the top fish 15 pounds, while the No. 6 boat with a short load took three stripers to 17 pounds.

Belated congratulations to Cappy Ortleib (Cappy is short for Catherine) who, using a 12-pound test line, fought and won a battle with a salmon that weighed in at 47 pounds. Took the little lady ("Cappy" only weighs 105 pounds) 45 thrill-packed minutes to bring the Chinook in.

San Rafael "C" Cagers Win Again

The San Rafael High School "C" basketballers remained undefeated in the Marin Athletic League with a smashing 52-31 victory over Redwood High Tuesday.

High man (again) for the Bulldogs was Bill Pandiani with 12 points. He was trailed by teammates Paul Schmidt, eight, and Rich Miller, seven.

In other "C" basketball action, Marin Catholic edged Terra Linda, 17-15. High man for Marin Catholic was John Bruemmer with eight points. Bob La Blanc and Mike McGinnis of the Trojans each collected four points.

Drake "C" cagers took a narrow 27-26 decision from Novato. High for the Pirate were Robert Stout and Paul Dickson, each with eight points. High for Novato was Joe Roninson with eight, trailed by Bob Hollifield with six points.

Mrs. Gordon Baker Wins Golf Tourney

Mrs. Gordon J. Baker shot a 35 Tuesday to win the best-nine golf tournament at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club.

Second was Mrs. Tyler W. Seeley with 36, followed by Mrs. Toby Perry, 37, and Mrs. Donald N. Fox, 40.

Mantle, Robinson Win Slugging Crowns

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees won his fourth American League slugging crown and Frank Robinson of Cincinnati captured his third straight National League title in 1962, final figures compiled by The Associated Press showed today.

Last year, the two also won slugging championships which are based on total bases accumulated on all hits and official times at bat.

Mantle slugged .605 the past season. In 377 at bats, he collected 121 hits including 15 doubles, one triple and 30 home runs for 228 total bases. The switch-hitting center fielder had a .687 mark in 1961. He also led in 1955 and 1956.

Robinson produced 380 total bases in 609 trips for a .624 average. Among 208 safeties, he had 51 doubles, two triples and 39 homers. Robinson finished on top in 1960 with a .596 mark and in 1961 with .613.

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee was runner-up to Robinson in 1962 with .618. The Braves' outfielder piled up 366 total bases in 592 times at bat, getting 28 doubles, six triples and 45 home runs among 191 hits. He won the senior circuit slugging title in 1959.

Willie Mays of San Francisco, the league's home run king with 49, was third in slugging with .615. He also had 36 doubles and five triples among the 189 hits in 621 at bats. Willie, two-time slugging champ, compiled the most total bases in the majors, .382.

Frank Howard of the Los Angeles Dodgers was fourth at .560 followed by teammate Tommy Davis, .535, Don Demeter, Philadelphia .520 and Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco, .518.

Al Kaline finished second in the American League with a .593 mark. The Detroit outfielder had 236 total bases in 398 times at bat.

Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota, the circuit's home run champion with 48, was third in the slugging competition with .546. Then came Lu Clinton of Boston .540, Rocky Colavito, Detroit .514, Norm Cash, Detroit .513 and Bob Allison, Minnesota .509.

Try Norge Dry Cleaning

★ Don't be confused about self-service dry cleaning systems. There are many. Norge uses a double-bath, 16-minute cleaning cycle which gets garments CLEANER, and a low temperature (145°) drying cycle which SETS NO WRINKLES, plus a five minute airing cycle to counteract solvent odors. Most Speed-up, self-service systems use only single-bath cleaning, much higher drying temperatures, and considerably shorter airing cycles after drying.

★ Norge maintains that our overall cleaning cycle of 45 minutes actually DOES get clothes cleaner and is less harmful to fabrics. Remember, each load is cleaned in freshly filtered Norg-Clor solvent, highest-priced solvent used in the dry cleaning industry. So do your shopping while we clean your clothing or drapes, and pick them up on your way home! Only 2.00 for an 8-lb. load.

MARIN PROP WASH

By ELEANOR FREEMAN

Take Heed To This Advice, All You Basement Mechanics

Are you one of the many invincible basement mechanics? The all-knowing Dr. Kildaire, internist of the outboard motor? If you are, it's likely you'll diagnose your bronchially afflicted motor as the victim of bum points or dirty spark plugs.

Yet Bill Haskell of Western Boat Shop says, "I've never yet seen a set of points the reason for a motor refusing to start, or for it running badly."

The owner of an eight-cylinder car knows there is one set of points. And this is a vehicle he probably uses every day in the year. Yet a two-cylinder outboard has one set of points for each cylinder, and the V-series has one set for each 2 cylinders. The boater's motor is used possibly no more than four to six hours a week in boating season, and not at all in winter. So why blame points?

THE FELLOW who persists in his mad idea will somehow manage to get the fly wheel off. For accurate point setting, he should have a timing fixture and breaker point continuity. Maybe he just has a feeler gage which he wipes on his greasy overalls. And grease being so good for all mechanical ailments, he jams some between the points before setting them at recommended gap.

It's right tricky getting the fly wheel on again. Because he doesn't have the proper holding device, he calls the wife or kids. Then with bull-finesse he tightens the nuts to ??? pounds, never realizing that the fly wheel nut and each engine should be torqued to specification.

THE OUTBOARD spark plug is the prima-donna in the field. Never take them out just to fiddle with them. If you do need a replacement, wipe the hole clean where it seats. Put in a new washer and plug, torqueing it exactly 20 pounds. Cleaning a plug with abrasive may remove the porcelain gloss and cause it to foul. If you have a compulsion to twist, and turn it too tight, you can make a J6J plug out of a J4J.

"Generally speaking," says Bill, "it's better to have plugs installed. And then forget them. Their life expectancy is pretty good."

Any boater is out to save money where he can, and honest knowledge of your boat or motor is a good thing. But when you truly don't know what you're doing—just leave the cowl in place.

AH, SLUM-GULLION, thy name is Legion. Mrs. Ruth Larson of San Rafael writes, saying, " . . . it's good no matter what you do to it. Everyone fixes it a little different. Use small (or ½ of a large) clove of garlic finely chopped which adds to the taste." Also she adds one large can of tomatoes (solid pack) and one medium can mushrooms. She uses tomato juice to cut it if it's thick. In fact she takes a can aboard because macaroni absorbs the moisture and it becomes too dry. Mrs. Larson skims all grease from hamburger at home because, "often the sailors aboard get squeamish . . . and grease, well, you know—" She also takes along a small can of parmesan cheese for the ones who like it.

Last week's column carried the Slum-gullion recipe. Corrected spelling of the doner's name is Mrs. John Cadoux. Sorry!

THE PROPOSAL for a statewide pleasure boat registration fee—similar to the one paid by the car owner—has been revived. This week, at a hearing of the Small Craft Harbors Commission, the pros and cons had their say again. This proposal was rejected by the 1961 legislature. Proponents for the fee argue that such proceeds should be used for a state fund, from which loans and grants could be made for small craft harbor facilities.

QUESTION: What's likely to be the big boat topic for 1963, in terms of design? Do you think it will be the hydrofoil?

—Zip, Tiburon

ANSWER: It sure could be. Already, especially in Europe, there is much experimentation going on, and some production. This is a new marine concept that will probably improve all design. But be prepared for high cost for some time. Only over-all production will smooth that out.

Olympic Decision 'Rigged,' Says Bitter L.A. Official

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A man who tried unsuccessfully to bring the 1968 Olympic Games to Los Angeles says of the U.S. Olympic Committee's decision to promote Detroit:

"We are convinced that the vote (in Chicago Tuesday) was in violation of the USOC's own constitution and bylaws; that it was rigged for Detroit from the beginning."

Bill Nicholas, general manager of the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, made the comment upon his return from Chicago yesterday. He had criticism also for the makeup of the USOC. Nicholas told a newsman:

"The United States Olympic Committee was constituted by an action of Congress and it's about time somebody in Washington did something about its membership being equally distributed both geographically and between the AAU and the NCAA."

Nicholas reported that of the 34 directors, 22 come from the Atlantic Coast while only one represents the Western Seaboard.

Nichalos said he shares the opinion of John J. Garland, Southern member of the International Olympic Committee, that the USOC doesn't want the games to come to the United States. He said a member of the international committee indicated as much.

"I was never so surprised in my life," he said, "as when Douglas Roby (a member of the international committee) came by with Tug Wilson, president of the USOC, and said: 'Don't feel badly. The 1968 games are not going to the United States anyway.'"

Indian Valley Golf Tourney Underway

Mrs. William May defeated Mrs. Lynn Sumpter, 7 and 6, in the first round of the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club championships Tuesday. The second round of the tourney will be played next Tuesday.

Results were:

Championship flight — Mrs. Roger Williams def. Mrs. Jerry Evans, 2 and 1; Mrs. Roy Sayles def. Mrs. John Gaylord, by default; Mrs. W. B. Bevans def. Mrs. William Sparrow, by default.

First Flight—Mrs. Arthur Sears def. Mrs. George Nolan, 6 and 5; Mrs. C. B. Coleman def. Mrs. Frank Buddy, 5 and 3; Mrs. Torc Bedeyan def. Mrs. Henry Hartman, 5 and 4; Mrs. Warren Smith def. Mrs. Joel Hamby, 5 and 4.

Second Flight — Mrs. Harold Burnell def. Mrs. William Jonas, by default; Mrs. Al Leach defeated Mrs. Tom Hardcastle, 2 and 1; Mrs. Charles Zepelli def. Mrs. Ernest Korn, 3 and 1; Mrs. R. G. Cornelius def. Mrs. Andrew Sommerville, 7 and 5.

MEMORIES OF THE WORLD SERIES

Ask A Silly Question And...

By OSCAR FRALEY

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Like the man says, you ask a silly question and you get a silly answer, and among the top memories today of the World Series are some that fit into the all-time category for witless wisdom.

Like, now, when the defeated Giants were sitting in their locker room after losing the seventh game and feeling lower than a snake's waistcoast.

They had given it everything they had, putting the tying run on third and the winning run on second in the bottom of the ninth.

But, it ended up, as you know, 1-0.

So this gent standing in the crowd around Alvin Dark, the Giant manager, asks him one that has to win the nudnick award for the series, to whit:

"Did you ever see a closer final game?"

Considering the razor-edge difference, of which you can get no closer in baseball under the current rules, it was a gasser and maybe Dark just passed it over as a cag. Or, even better, maybe he didn't hear it and thus has a slightly higher opinion of the intelligence of us typewriter termites.

There was another one in this series, too, back in Yankee stadium just before the fifth game which closed out the New York action. Ralph Houk, the Yankee manager, was sitting on the bench when a prime candidate for nothing began questioning him concerning the impending contest in which the Yanks again were to face Jack Sanford, their second game conqueror.

"Do you," quoth the interviewer in dead seriousness, "think you can beat him?"

Houk's eyes opened wide and he almost swallowed his chew of tobacco. Then he leaned over, juiced the walkway, and in deadly earnest replied:

"Yes, I think so. If I didn't, I probably wouldn't have shown up."

But for the gem of all time in this department, you have to go back to the 1956 series when Casey Stengel still was at the helm of the Yankees.

The Bronx Bombers that year were involved in a tiff with the Dodgers and what happens but Don Larsen goes out and pitches the first and only perfect game in World Series history. That means, in case you understand baseball as little as this member of the press box intelligencia, that he didn't let a man get on first base. Not a hit nor nary a walk, which is the creme de la creme of the baseball chucking industry.

Now they all were in the locker room celebrating this feat of deathless derring do and up walks one of the press coop crew to Stengel.

"Casey," he asked in a moment of silence, "did you ever see Larsen pitch a better game!"

"No," Casey said with staggering solemnity, "not lately."

And you think fighters are punchy?

Stinson Beach Bolinas Plan For Halloween

Stinson Beach and Bolinas will hold separate Halloween parties this year, for fifth through eighth grade pupils at Bolinas Community Center and for pre-school children through fourth graders at Stinson Beach Community Center.

A magician will be part of the entertainment which begins at 7:30 p.m. at Stinson Beach. Prizes will be awarded for best costumes. The Stinson Beach Parent-Teacher Club is sponsoring, according to Mrs. Yvonne Gilman, president.

Bolinas festivities begin at 7 p.m., according to Mrs. Mildred Haraldsen, president of the sponsoring Bolinas parents club. Six costume prizes will be awarded and refreshments served.

The two clubs will meet jointly at 8 p.m., Nov. 1 at Bolinas School.

No Type Two Polio Doses Until Nov. 4

No type two Sabin polio vaccine will be given in Marin until county-wide clinics at the second K.O. Polio Sunday on Nov. 4.

This was decided yesterday at a meeting of Marin Medical Society's K.O. Polio Committee.

Dr. Eugene P. Shatkin, head of the committee, pointed out that anyone who has not had type one Sabin vaccine can start the series with type two, following up with type three and then type one. The order in which they are taken does not matter, he said.

Five Houses For Sale On Wade Thomas Land

Bids to buy five houses on Wade Thomas School property in San Anselmo will be opened Nov. 13 by San Anselmo School District trustees.

Trustees last night adjourned to Nov. 13 for the bid opening. The houses, which must be removed so additions to the school can be built, include three 850 square foot houses at 125, 127 and 129 Woodland Avenue, and two larger homes, one on Kensington Road between Ross and Woodland avenues, the other at the corner of Kensington Road and Ross Avenue. Bid instructions are available at the school district office.

Marin Pledges Named

Announcement of rushing results for Marin girls on campuses across the nation was made yesterday afternoon as Greek letter alumnae from throughout the county gathered for the annual "Report Tea" of Marin Panhellenic.

As expected, the University of California chapters pledged the largest number of Marin girls, 30 in all, with the University of Oregon and San Jose State College figuring next.

In total some 71 girls joined pledge classes on 21 university and college campuses.

AT THE UNIVERSITY of California, new Alpha Phi pledges are Joyce Bartlett, Jean McCarthy, Heidi Johnson, Patricia Charlton, Lynne Eddy, Kathy Scott, who is pledge class social chairman, and Margaret (Peggy) Hill, who will serve as pledge class president.

K

Also at Cal, Jane Cameron and Glennis Campbell became Alpha Delta Pi pledges; Natalie Knauth and Ann Morris were pledged by Alpha Gamma Delta, and Sigrid Helgren was pledged by Alpha Chi Omega.

AT BERKELEY also Marcia Hail joined the Alpha Xi Delta pledge class; Lynda Morgan joined Alpha Omicron Pi; and Shirley Moose went Delta Phi Epsilon. Other UC freshmen who were pledged are Carol Allrogen, Jacquelyn Holt, Karen Lautrup, Delta Zeta;

Sandra Neubarth and Barbara Reichmuth, Kappa Kappa Gamma;

Josselyn Boothby and Patricia Baird, Delta Delta Delta;

Binky Thompson, Delta Gamma;

Dale Gorman, Jean Retter

A

and Patricia Royce, Kappa Delta;

Ann French, Pi Beta Phi;

Kathy Bryan and Shirley Newhall, Kappa Alpha Theta;

Girls Prefer Uniforms For School Wear

Girls enrolled in Roman Catholic high schools overwhelmingly favor the wearing of school uniforms instead of attire of their own choosing, according to a survey made by a nun.

Sister Marie William, writing in The Catholic Educator, reported on a survey of student expenditures in diocesan high schools in Indianapolis and Vincinnes, Ind.; Chicago and Joliet, Ill.; Chelsea and Malden, Mass., and Washington, D.C.

In the article, entitled "Ask the Lass Who Wears One," Sister Marie William said the girls found that uniforms were more economical, saved the time and trouble of deciding what to wear each day, lessened the inequalities of family economics, provided apparel both attractive and easy to maintain and made both the individual and the group appear well groomed.

The minority who did not like uniforms were bored with wearing the same thing every day and felt they were prevented from self-expression through clothes. (UPI)

High School Red Cross Lists Officers

The high school Red Cross county council announces its newly elected officers for 1962-63 are: Paula Hauser, chairman; Peter Del Tredici, vice chairman; Alexa Shanley, secretary; Mike Patterson, treasurer; Barbara Cass, publicity, and Mike Boss, enrollment chairman.

The Council is composed of representatives from Dominican, Novato High, San Rafael High, Terra Linda, Tomales, Drake, Tamalpais, Marin Catholic and San Rafael Military Academy. They help in planning the program for high school Red Cross and act as liaison between the chapter and the schools.

College student advisors are Judy Boss, Richard Del Tredici and Julie Malet.

Many Friends Give Surprise House Warming In Novato

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

A surprise housewarming was given Saturday night for Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Clausing, who recently moved into a beautiful new home on Novato Boulevard, Novato. So that the Clausings would be at home Lennie and Charles Johnson came early ostensibly to play bridge then the other friends arrived, 27 couples from San Rafael and Novato, bringing refreshments and food for a midnight supper.

CRADLE NEWS. Mr. and Mrs. Barth Albert Easton (Linda Rosenblum) of San Francisco are receiving congratulations on the arrival of another daughter, Cynthia Brooke Easton. The baby was born Oct. 13 at Mt. Zion Hospital and weighed six pounds, 10 ounces. She has a three year old sister, Jennifer. Grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Harold Rosenblum of Sausalito and Mrs. Arthur Easton of San Francisco.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT A. DAVIES of Belvedere left Tuesday for a three weeks' vacation. They are going to Hollywood, Fla., with stops in Harrington, Kans., Beaumont, Texas, Lake Charles, La., and Saint Petersburg, Fla.

MRS. PETER C. LAMBERT of Sausalito rode her husband's thoroughbred, Dunvegas, in the opening ride of the Los Altos Hunt yesterday. The hunt was to have been held Sunday but was postponed because of the storm and soggy ground. However the hunt breakfast took place Sunday, as scheduled at the Woodside home of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Harris Jr. Doctor Harris is joint master of the hunt. The Lamberts attended the breakfast and there was much talk about the Hunt Ball to be staged at the Burlingame Club Dec. 7.

Mrs. Lambert's horse, Kalamia, which she bought in Canada two years ago, is a hunter jumper. She rides it in most of the hunts and it was entered in the Summer Horse Show at Pebble Beach. She is training four-year-old Dunvegas to take the jumps. The two horses are stabled at the Flying Y Ranch in the Mill Valley hills. The Los Altos rides are held every Sunday and Wednesday through February. Dr. Robert C. Lawson of Petaluma, the other joint master, will host a breakfast after the group hunts at the Lawson ranch Oct. 28. Sunday the hunt will take place on the Piers ranch in Portola Valley. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wheeler Jr. will serve Bloody Marys. Mrs. Wheeler is an honorary whipper-in of the hunts. The Los Altos Hunt was organized in 1952 and has about a hundred members.

MICHAEL LEIBERT of Belvedere, son of Grant Leibert and Mrs. William A. Atchley and nephew of Edmund T. (Ned) Leibert has achieved his objective. He has the leading role in Harold Pinter's new play, "The Collection," which opens off-Broadway in New York about Nov. 15. Mike, a graduate of Whitman College in Walla Walla, Wash., received a scholarship to Stanford University. He has long been a drama student and was given leading roles in many college productions. He gave up the opportunity of traveling in Europe last summer with his father and brothers to stay in New York and meet play producers. "The Collection" is directed by Alan Schneider.

MR. AND MRS. ROBIN McCREA returned recently from Oregon. They went north with their son, Don, who attends the University of Portland. While the McCreas were away their home on the Belvedere Lagoon was occupied by Edward Best of London, England.

MRS. RICHARD FIRESTONE'S home in Mill Valley will be the locale for the meeting of San Francisco Junior Alumnae of Sigma Phi Nov. 13. The members will make Christmas favors for the children at San Francisco General Hospital.

Gray Ladies To Assist Nurse In Schools' Pilot Project

The Reed Union School District and the Marin Chapter American Red Cross are cooperating to introduce something new in health services into schools.

As a pilot project, Gray Ladies will soon be assisting the district nurse, Mrs. Katherine De Brecht, with such duties as eye and ear tests, minor first aid care and the preparation and interpretation of health resource material, announced Mrs. Donald L. Bittner, chairman of volunteers for the Red Cross chapter.

The school project is not necessarily limited to mothers of school children. Any woman interested in this service will be welcomed, Mrs. Bittner said.

It is estimated that Gray Ladies will serve six hours a month or two hours every other week. An intensive training course will prepare the volunteers, including a course in first aid, home care of the sick and injured and orientation. Persons who have passed the standard first aid course during the past three years will not be required to take it again.

Mrs. Bittner said that the project will first open at Belvedere and Reed Schools with the remaining district schools staffed later.

Mrs. George Goddard of Belvedere will coordinate the Reed program.

Case Of Two-Faced Cezanne

THE TWO FACED Cezanne at the St. Louis City Art Museum is the reason for a special guard posted close to the swivel black frame—he's to check that museum goers don't swivel the painting front-to-back too vigorously to look at the newest oddity of the art world. It's Cezanne's painting of "The Artists' Sister," left, and the newly discovered "The Peasant Model" on the canvas' reverse side. (UPI Telephoto)

There's a special guard posted close by a black wooden "swivel frame" at the City Art Museum in St. Louis, Mo.

He's there to make sure museum-goers don't twirl the frame too vigorously for a look at the newest oddity of the world of art—back to back paintings by the French Post-Impressionist master Paul Cezanne.

The twin portraits, painted on both sides of a single piece of canvas, are nearly 100 years old. But no one except the late artist knew about one of them until a gang of art thieves helped make artistiic history by accident.

THE MUSEUM has owned the paintings since 1934, when it bought a portrait entitled 'Tante Marie" for $7,500. The painting of a woman's head was later renamed "The Artist's Sister" and was valued at $150,000.

Then, last year, the museum shipped "Tante Marie" to Cezanne's home town of Aix-en-Provence in France for a special exhibition. The loan was almost a disaster. Art thieves spirited off eight of the Cezannes last August and "Tante Marie" was one of them.

Dickering with the underworld rescued the painting. "Tante Marie" and the others were found in an abandoned stolen automobile in Marseilles. The St. Louis painting was unharmed, but it had been banged up a bit.

Museum director Charles Nagel sent the painting to James Roth, conservator of the William Rochill Nelson Gallery of Art at Kansas City for relining.

Museum curator Thomas Hoopes got the next word of "Tante Marie."

He was hard at work in the museum when Roth telephoned him.

"Would you settle for two for the price of one?" Roth asked.

"I knew right away what he meant," Hoopes said.

Roth had set out to put an extra backing of canvas on the painting. He carefully peeled away the old lining by removing strips that were gently cut and torn away.

Roth found an unusually large deposit of glue, about one-eighth inch thick, which had held the back of the painting to the canvas lining. He softened the glue with wet packs and then removed the glue deposit ever so carefully, using tweezers.

Instead of the usual brown canvas backside of the painting, Roth noticed flecks of dark green paint. Then the head of a woman gradually emerged, yellowed with old varnish.

Roth was able to remove the old liner and glue and there was a second painting by Cezanne on the other side.

Hoopes told Roth not to replace the lining, but to send the two-sided painting back. The museum values the second painting, that of a woman's head with a kerchief knotted around the neck, at $75,000.

"It must have been a practice painting," Hoopes said. "Artists practice on canvas just like a pianist when he exercises his fingers."

At present, Nagel said, the two-sided paintings are in excellent condition.

"And we have a guard to flip the frame," Hoopes said. "We got the guard mainly to prevent children from coming in to see the frame spin on its pedestal." (UPI)

FACE AND FIGURE

Keeping Mind On Your Hands Helps Create Shapely Nails

When a girl first begins biting her nails, she usually starts with a few abstracted nibbles and ends up with a compulsion to gnaw each tip down to the quick. Once she develops the habit her nails are not allowed to show a fraction's worth of growth beyond the point where they're attached. And her fingers, no matter how slender or shapely they may be, appear stubby and abused.

Although every girl who bites her nails claims she's trying to stop, some only discover the formula when they receive engagement rings—and are suddenly overwhelmed by an urge to display them on fingers that are fully extended, not clenched into nail-hiding fists.

What's the formula? To become aware of your hands. This is a rule that could apply strongly to teen-agers who aren't looking forward to early engagements.

Point One: Learn to keep your mind on your hands by paying a lot of attention to them. Begin by using a hand lotion as often as three or four times a day or whenever your hands have been in soap and water.

Hint: Run a touch of lotion around your cuticles and press them gently down with a towel. This could be your first constructive step in arriving at an almond-shaped set of nails.

Point Two: Focus on your fingernails. Use a buffer briskly and daily to give them a soft shine and stimulate circulation at their growing point. A week later, you should be able to see some slight but rewarding signs of development. In two weeks you'll be ready for polish.

Point Three: As soon as your nails are long enough to show themselves above the tips of your fingers, tint them with polish—anything from shell pink to fire-engine red, depending on your taste and whim. Do this, and you'll discover that they're much too pretty to eat.

Hospital Greets New Volunteers

The Junior Volunteers at San Rafael General Hospital are welcoming four new members, announced Mrs. Lawrence McNear, director of volunteers.

They are Chris Nicholson, Mary Jane Terry and Patricia Dethlefsen, of San Rafael, and Carol Buoy of Bolinas. All are students at San Rafael High School.

The girls have completed their orientation and are now in training. After four training sessions, they will join the other high school students who serve as junior volunteers. They work after school on weekdays from 4 to 6 p.m., taking over the duties of the senior volunteers who are scheduled on earlier shifts.

Jeanne Davis Engaged To Wed R. B. Paterson

The engagement of Jeanne L. Davis and Richard B. Paterson has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Davis of San Anselmo.

The bride-elect, who is the sister of Merrily Davis, is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Keiser of Glen Ellen. She was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended the College of Marin.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Paterson of San Rafael and the brother of Norman and John Paterson and Leslie Paterson of San Rafael.

He was graduated from San Rafael Military Academy and is attending the College of Marin.

Wedding plans are indefinite.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHMOND BARBOUR, Ph. D

Having Twins Means Twice The Fun, Some Special Problems

Do you have twins? Then you're lucky. You can have twice the fun of other parents. But also you have some special problems. Let's take a minute to look at your difficulties.

Dominant Twin. One problem is the way twins get along with each other. One of them is "dominant"—he's the boss. He blossoms quickly, but he squelches the other one. His brother or sister learns to be timid, quiet, afraid and may be hurt for life. A way to avoid harm is to separate the twins a good bit of the time. That's hard on you, I know. But your timid twin is a human in his own right. He needs to use his wings, too. When they're 4 or 5, start dressing them differently. If possible put the children in different classes at school. Twins' individuality is more important than most folks realize.

Shared Love. Another problem is their need for sharing your love. Each twin is born with a strong yen to monopolize you; each one wants all your love, time, attention. But you have to share yourself between them. It isn't easy. Be sure to spend quite a bit of time regularly alone with each twin, giving him all your attention then. Have your husband do the same. Be careful never to play favorites. Let each twin realize he is "your child," as certainly as if he were your only one.

Mental Differences. If you have identical twins they'll have equal minds. They'll learn things the same way, at the same speed and make the same mistakes. They'll be 7 or 8 before you begin to see any important differences. After that each one will tend increasingly to go his own way, which is as it should be. However, if your twins are not the identical type they won't be alike. They'll be different mentally right from the start. Be sure you don't make the mistake of expecting equal performances from them. Good luck!

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

This Bridge Expert Plays Game While Standing On His Head

According to one of my friends, the way to stay healthy is to stand on your head. He plays bridge that way too.

West opened the five of hearts, and he won in his hand with the nine. Even from his peculiar position he saw that he needed dummy's diamonds to make the contract.

NORMAL HUMAN

Now, a normal human being would lead a low diamond from the South hand and try a finesse with dummy's queen.

And this would land him squarely in the minus column.

Back would come a heart to dummy's ace, and South would have no diamonds, no game and no rubber.

YOGA PLAY

What has this to do with Yoga? Don't forget my friend was standing on his head. He found a different way to play the diamonds: he led a low diamond from dummy.

Poor East had K-x of diamonds and stepped up with the king for fear of losing it. He'd have to be a genius to do anything else.

(There are a dozen players in the country who would play a low diamond quickly and casually from the East hand, and there are a few hundred more who say they'd make this play.

NO PROBLEM

After East had played the king of diamonds South had no further problems.

What if East had held three diamonds instead of only two? Then South would have to lose two diamond tricks no matter how he played the suit.

What if West had the king of diamonds? South would take the normal diamond finesse later, and would lose nothing by his initial topsy-turvy play.

In short, my friend's play was perfectly correct.

Maybe it's a good way to write about bridge too!

Prop. 4 Would Cause More Problems, Not Aid Farmers

Proposition 4 has become one of the most controversial of the 25 propositions on your Nov. 6 ballot. It provides that after approval by city or county governments involved, an assessor would be required to appraise land used exclusively for farm purposes only as farm land, not at its best use.

The proposition is frankly aimed at keeping farms in operation close to the cities. In Marin County, and elsewhere, increased population growth has forced farm land out of production because it became too valuable. The farmer could no longer afford to keep it in farm production because of the taxes, because he decided to cash in on its increased value, or both.

So this proposition was devised to give him a tax break if he keeps his farm as a farm. If he sells it or changes it to something other than a farm, seven years of back taxes at its best use become due and payable.

Thus, say the proponents, no taxes will be lost.

We don't think so. We like the farmers and we'd like to help them all we can, particularly if it would keep food prices down. But this proposition isn't a general benefit to all farmers, only those immediately adjacent to cities. And there are many things about the proposition we don't like.

For example, a land speculator could buy up a large tract of land, say out around new Lake Nicasio. He could lease it to a farmer to run cattle on for 10 or 15 years. Meanwhile the whole county grows, the land becomes extremely valuable. When he's ready to sell or develop a subdivision, he pays seven years increased taxes — rather than 10 or 15.

This doesn't mean that just the best farm land stays in production. What land stays as a farm and what goes to subdivision depends on the farmer (as it should), not on the quality of the farm. Meanwhile, we're voting millions of dollars, billions even, to develop water facilities to open up new farming land. Some farm lands are going out of production, but more are coming into production. Each year our state farm production increases. We still have all kinds of farm surplus crops to pay for.

There is an argument that this will provide "green belts" around our cities. Green belts should be established with planning as to location, type of area, its usefulness and many other factors. The only factor here is the desire of a man to farm. When that desire is gone, the farm is gone, and so is the green belt.

There are so many more problems:

What about the way cities would be forced to leap-frog around in the worst kind of spot zoning at the whim of a farmer! What about the assessor's problems, like deciding what is 100 per cent use as a farm! Is a backyard garden agriculture? What about big land and oil companies with huge undeveloped oil deposits on which they now pay taxes; if Proposition 4 passes can they lease the surface to a farmer and have the whole affair assessed as agricultural land? Apparently so.

As much as we'd like to give the farmers a break, this certainly doesn't seem to be the way. We'd feel a little better about it if they had selected retired people to give this advantage to. Why not freeze the taxes of the old folks on their retirement homes, rather than keep on increasing their taxes as their property increases in value, that is, if you're going to give anyone special treatment.

Vote NO on Proposition 4.

PROPOSITION 11 is another measure which would give similar special tax consideration to owners of historical landmarks.

We're against such special assessment procedures.

Vote NO on Proposition 11.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRED WYATT

Whether Legal Or Illegal, Madera Village Motel (Apartments) To Stay

The Karp Brothers of San Francisco grinned as they left Corte Madera Town Hall early Tuesday after a knuckle rapping.

Action of the town council guaranteed they soon could tenant the motel that grew into a high-density apartment house in an area zoned commercial north of the shopping center east of Highway 101. Commercial permits motels, bans apartments.

How they managed to build the thing where they did, with kitchens in each of 101 units, city fathers seem unable to explain.

PLANNING COMMISSIONER Harold B. Wagstaff told the council that whenever commissioners called it an apartment house, the Karps carped "and we retracted."

Wagstaff and commission chairman C. W. Thomas said numerous changes were made first and submitted later.

Town Mgr. Arthur M. Brandow feels it is a matter of opinion whether it could have been blocked under the old zoning ordinance. The law since has been changed to permit kitchens in only 40 per cent of such projects.

Whatever might have been, the Madera Village Motel, advertising it has unfurnished apartments, is nearly completed and bids to be around for a while.

Planning commissioners and councilmen have received many complaints from citizens over it.

WHEN THE KARPS pleaded Monday night that they had been harassed, Mayor Edward W. Colthurst began to defend the commission, but Phillip Karp cut in with new remarks.

Councilman Raymond De Young managed to say the council tried to protect 8,000 residents as well as developers. He was answering an unidentified man in the audience who shouted the council did not care whether builders lost money.

The Karps said changes cost them $100,000, denied they had "put one over on Corte Madera."

But when I asked Joseph Karp later about the charge that they had objected weeks ago to having the place called apartments, he walked away.

Earlier, as the meeting adjourned at about 12:05 a.m., he had come to where I sat and said, "What are you, a reporter? You're not going to print all that, are you?" I said I represented the same paper I'd served when he asked me the same question weeks ago — and though I couldn't get all the session printed, I'd report the gist of it.

BRANDOW TERMED the project "an illegal subdivision." Wagstaff said, "We feel we have been taken."

Councilman Charles F. Pendleton told the Karps, "You have broken faith by making changes without getting approval. The commission has been circumvented."

The knuckle rapping: The council returned a subdivision map to the planners because of parking deemed inadequate and instructed the building inspector not to permit electric and gas hookups to the final structure of the seven-building complex until parking and landscaping plans had been approved and accomplished.

THE COMPROMISE, if that is what the council action was, may be considered expressed by Colthurst's remark, "The buildings are an accomplished fact, whether they're called apartments or motel."

Planner Thomas voiced what sounded like the key objection: "The buildings are an accomplished fact — but not according to plans on file."

Phillip Karp said, "It is not true that we put a fast one over." He and his brother grinned as they left the hall.

Praise For I-J On Newspaper Week

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The Marin County Chapter, American National Red Cross wishes to observe National Newspaper Week by expressing its gratitude to you for the excellent coverage afforded the chapter's activities and services during past years.

It is felt that the newspaper media provides one of our most valuable means of bringing to the public's attention the scope of Red Cross services. If it were not for newspaper support Red Cross would find it extremely difficult to provide these services to the American people.

Independent-Journal:

I am coming forward after reading your eulogy on the shy little Golden Crown Sparrow, to strongly differ on your opinion.

He surely does descend on us hapless gardeners the last of September and devours every young and tender plant and seedling from that time until, thank Heaven, he departs in April to the Aleutians for the summer.

Of all the garden pests we have to contend with, he is the worst. He cares not a whit for bright flashing objects, too smart to eat flowers with spray on them, and he arrives too late to do any good by destroying insects, so he feeds on the young tender plants you have set out, eats the stocks into nubs and violas are his salad. Destroys the seedling from your summer plants that has germinated, and winds up his glorious destructive spree by the crowning insults of completely demolishing your wisteria arbor of its beautiful lavender pea-like racemes before taking his departure in April.

The Golden Crown Sparrow is a thorough scamp and a bane to flower growers.

More Evidence About Drake

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your comment "All do not agree with Reader O'Brien" editorialized on facts presented in his letter which appeared Sept. 20 beneath your caption "Drake Didn't Do The Discovering."

In Chapter 5 of his book "California," published in 1940 by Prentice-Hall, Inc., John Walton Caughey, Professor of History, University of California at Los Angeles, states:

"In 1937 there was much excitement over the discovery of a plate of brass, provisionally identified as the one which Drake had affixed to a post . . . Upon this plate the experts have blown hot and cold but without demonstrating their unanimous expertness by coming to agreement.

"The discussion reveals the difficulty of dating such a document on the basis of vocabulary, spelling, punctuation, and formation of the letters, or even by metallurgical analysis.

"At the least, this plate of brass has given California history a cause celebre comparable to Minnesota's Kensington Stone and has occasioned the issuance by the California Historical Society of a pamphlet in which the essential sources on Drake and California are conveniently assembled.

"Where Drake anchored has been a much discussed question. The most probable solution is that offered by Henry Raup Wagner, in his definitive discussion of the voyage around the world, to the effect that Drake casually visited several other inlets north of Point Reyes and stopped at Trinidad and Bodega Bay, but that he did not go to Drake's Bay at all."

We Must Face Showdown On Berlin With Our Allies As Well As Reds

WASHINGTON — Following the German Foreign Minister, Dr. Schroeder, who is in Washington this week, Chancellor Adenauer will come on the day after our elections. That is the day when, so Nikita Khrushchev has told us, the pause will end, and he will thereafter reopen actively the Berlin question.

While we do not know just what or how he will do this, it is prudent to expect some action designed to affect the status quo in West Berlin.

Thus Dr. Adenauer and President Kennedy have important business to talk about.

WESTERN ACCESS and the presence of Western troops are the crucial positions from which we cannot and will not recede. There should be no misunderstanding about this in the Kremlin. President Kennedy cannot surrender Berlin even if he were the kind of man who wanted to. A surrender would destroy him.

It is the fringe problems, which include the degree of recognition given the East German state, that are negotiable.

The U.S.-U.S.S.R. conversations did not have the blessing of the German chancellor or of Gen. de Gaulle. Nevertheless they went on. About the month of May, something happened in Moscow which caused the Russians to brush aside the talks.

THE QUESTION is whether they can be resumed. That depends on the Soviet government. If they continue to insist that the only question is Western military withdrawal from Berlin, there will be a showdown. If they wish to negotiate about an arrangement which guarantees presence and access, the door will open wider and wider for larger explorations.

There is as yet, we must realize, no firm agreement between Washington and Bonn on either of the two great alternatives — a showdown or a negotiation.

While high officials and experts of the Western allies have drawn up comprehensive plans for dealing with the various possible actions by the Soviet government and the East Germans, these are as yet only plans. They are not the decisions of governments.

IF THE SITUATION of West Berlin is not stabilized as the cold war and the race of armaments become more intense, Berlin will become increasingly a supreme danger point for the outbreak of a thermonuclear war.

Despite the external prosperity of West Berlin, there are ominous signs that the constituted authorities, German and Allied alike, may be losing control of the crowd. The Berlin wall, we must remember, is manned on both sides by Germans, and there are in this situation the makings of a civil war into which we might all be sucked against our will.

Those who tell us to stand firm, to rebuff the Russians, and then do nothing, are playing with fire. We must hope that the Chancellor is as much aware of this as are an increasing number of his countrymen.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Republicans Make 'One Last Pitch' At Workers' Party On Nov. 2

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

Republican precinct workers and others in the organized ranks of the party will get together for "one last pitch" Nov. 2, just four days before the election. The 8 p. m. affair in Bermuda Palms, which is expected to attract from 400 to 500 persons, will have Joe Martin Jr., California national committeeman from San Francisco, as principal speaker.

But there is going to be much entertainment besides. Each club is going to produce a skit, some, we are told, are hilarious. And there are to be other organized nonsense just for fun.

Lee Sherry is in charge of precinct organization for the county, but Edwin Thomas of Terra Linda is overall chairman of the affair.

THE DEMOCRATS too will have a party workers' party just before the election, but details haven't been worked out yet, according to Demo HQ.

They're busy right now on the Carrow Fashion Show luncheon scheduled a week from Saturday also in Bermuda Palms. According to what we hear, Assembly candidate Robert D. Carrow, who will benefit from the party, will NOT be one of the models.

WITH THE FUNERAL for Rep. Clem Miller now past, GOP congressional candidate Don Clausen has quietly gone back to the campaign, although he will not appear anywhere that he and Miller were to have appeared together.

Some Republicans have been critical of Clausen for cancelling all of his appointments immediately following the death of Miller in an airplane crash. The GOP's First District executive committee has been criticized by individuals for going along with Clausen's wishes in this respect.

The committee meets Sunday in Santa Rosa to decide on strategy for the rest of the campaign.

THE MAN WHO edited and added additional text to Clem Miller's book, "Member Of The House," is John W. Maker, professor of political science at The College of Wooster, Wooster, Ohio.

He and his family are now living in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Parnell of Tiburon while the Parnells are in England.

SHORT ITEMS:

President Kennedy, who couldn't dedicate the Marin Civic Center because he was not coming to the West Coast, then came out immediately to dedicate a dam, will be out here again Oct. 26-27 to make a few "non-political" speeches and dedicate a new site (not a building) for the L. A. Music Center.

Frederic D. Kerr of Ross has been named chairman of a bipartisan committee in Marin to re-elect state treasurer Bert Betts.

Tally P. Mastrangelo is the chairman of the Sausalito Nixon For Governor Committee.

Maj. Gen. Oscar Jahnsen of Greenbrae is county chairman of the Republican Committee To Re-Elect Governor Brown.

Latest lingo overheard in an advertising agency: "Let's go down on all fours and look the situation over from the client's point of view." And another overheard—this one from a stout lady at a fund-raising luncheon: "The gall of that woman! I told her I was collecting for a foundation and she said I sure could use one."

While making a personal appearance in Tulsa, Art Linkletter was persuaded by a wildcatter to invest five thousand dollars in drilling a new oil well. Some weeks later he received this telegram: "Struck ketchup at 6,000 feet. Drilled into hamburger stand abandoned during dust storm in early thirties. Estimate we need five thousand more to locate mustard. (Signed) your partner."

Colonel Duffy reports an Irish dignitary in his community who holds his liquor so well they call him the County Cork.

Bob Feller, famous pitcher of the thirties for the Cleveland Indians, was dragged to a five-hour-long opera one evening. "How did you like it?" he was asked later. "I'm not sure," admitted Feller. "I dozed through the first four innings."

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

Marin County's efforts toward construction of a San Rafael-Richmond bridge were opposed in Petaluma where $575 was raised toward an ultimate $2,500 fund favoring an earth-filled causeway with eight-lane highway and two rail lines, to be started by the end of 1953.

20 YEARS AGO

Matt Graham of San Anselmo was appointed a Golden Gate Bridge District director to fill the position of County Supervisor R. A. Thomson of Novato, unable to accept renomination due to court decision that this would constitute conflict of interest.

SINCE 1910
San Rafael Office — 4th & Grand GL 6-3880

Cozy Seacoast Home $26,500
Enjoy the warmth of an evening fire, (or the daytime sunshine) in this 3-bedroom, 2-bath home; studio-guest cottage also on the property. Near shops; ocean view. Overlooks tennis courts, Bolinas.

Knotty Pine and Mahogany $26,600
An expert craftsman paneled the living, idning rooms, and master bedroom in mahogany, and the corner bedroom is finished in knotty pine, all low-care and attractive. Four bedrooms, 2 baths, large family kitchen. Secluded patio just outside kitchen and dining room. Landscaped; quiet street, view. San Anselmo.

Children's Delight $27,250
A playhouse and a sunken wading pool are included in this entirely-fenced garden, where a spreading tree shades the brick patio. 3 bedrooms, family room, 2 baths, and a separate enclosed garden is outside the glass walls of two of the bedrooms. Convenient Terra Linda location.

Four Bedrooms, Family Room $34,500
Plenty of space for the family with children; four bedrooms, 3 baths, rumpus room. Electric kitchen, covered terrace just outside; tree-shaded patio, lawn, wooded setting. Close-in location near schools, shops, transportation, library. San Anselmo.

PRICED RIGHT BEAUTY
Beautiful, almost new; owners transferred, priced the home for quick sale to fortunate buyer. Wonderful large electric kitchen, tile counters, all built-ins, homemaker's desk. Large, sunny breakfast room; sewing closet, pantry. Full dining room, attractive entrance hall, living room out of traffic pattern; used brick hearth, mahogany paneling, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, upstairs. Family room with fireplace below, needs just minor finishing. Workshop and possible bedroom and bath also downstairs. Large closets; protected entrance, bay-spanning view. Greenbrae. $39,900.

Two Fireplaces $35,750
Fireplaces in both the living room (which has high beamed ceiling) and family room. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, deck. Carpets, drapes, view of the mountain, well-landscaped garden; automatic sprinkler system. Greenbrae.

Traditional Home—Spacious $45,000
Dominican area; splendid home, colonial design, large rooms. Dining room; kitchen includes a good-sized breakfast room with view out on to a secluded garden and barbecue patio, where redwoods provide a dramatic background, complete privacy. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, oversized double garage with workroom area.

Redwood Rustic—Oak-shaded $53,500
A handsome old oak, spreading and huge, shades the entrance to this attractive home. Cathedral-beamed ceiling in living room, startlingly beautiful view of the mountain. Formal dining room, breakfast room in kitchen; 3 bedrooms, 2½ baths, expandable space downstairs. Protected BBQ patio, flagstoned entrance. Kent Woodlands.

Ultra Modern $75,000
Extensive use of glass; Roman brick, well-chosen woods—all combine to produce an unusual and livable contemporary home. Wide view terrace, reached by sliding glass doors from every room, looks out on the bay, down to two bridges, the East Bay profile across the water. Swimming pool, dressing rooms, large well-landscaped lot, complete privacy. Bayside Acres.

Substantial Allowance Considered $79,500
Owners will make a generous allowance for completion of fourth bedroom adjacent to third bath in this handsome home. Situated on a magnificently landscaped acre in Country Club Heights, the house offers the ultimate in convenience, and indoor-outdoor living. Separate dining room, family room, electric kitchen. Good design, top quality.

Creampuff '61 CADILLAC 4-Dr. DeVille
$4,195
Here's the cleanest Cad in town. We just took in trade on our new '63 Riviera. It's an all Arctic White 4-Dr. Sedan De Ville. It's fully equipped with power steering, brakes, seat and windows. But best of all it has only 11,000 MILES on it. There isn't a spot anywhere. It looks just like it came off the showroom floor. A Cadillac dealer would ask high blue book of $4605 for it, but we'll sell it for $4195 this weekend.

Marin Peace Officers Planning Quentin Tour

Marin County peace officers plan a tour Oct. 27 of the place where they have helped send miscreants.

Members of the Marin County Peace Officers Assn. will tour San Quentin Prison beginning at 6 p.m., announced Sgt. David L. McIntosh of Corte Madera police, program chairman. They'll have dinner in the inmates' mess hall at 7:30 p.m. and see a show by inmates in the auditorium from 9 to 10 p.m.

Mill Valley Retirement Funds Due From Firm

Occidental Life Insurance Co. is expected to turn Mill Valley retirement reserve funds over to the State of California about Oct. 25, Ben Hartwell, president of the Mill Valley City Employees Assn., reported to a meeting of the employees Tuesday night.

Hartwell said this was reported to him by Thomas Crocker, actuary for the California State Retirement System, who also said the firm has until Oct. 30 to turn over the funds.

"If occidental doesn't turn over the money," Hartwell said today, "we're going to hire an attorney and bring action against them."

The state plan was adopted in June by the city council and was to become effective Oct. 1 but was postponed pending transfer of funds.

Mill Valley Boys Enlist In Navy

Two 17-year-old Mill Valleyans enlisted in the Navy this week at the San Rafael Navy Recruiting Office at 1116 Fourth Street.

They are Kenneth Arthur Sexton, son of Mrs. Mary S. Sexton of 940 Vernal Avenue, and Patrick Lee Weatherwax, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Weatherwax of 330 Shoreline Highway. Sexton enlisted in the high school graduate training program; Weatherwax in the high school airman program.

Both were sent to San Diego for recruit training.

1963 Car Sales Seem To Be Headed For An All-Time Record For Some

Auto manufacturers measure off their sales in 10-day periods. National figures are now coming in for Oct. 1-10 for many of the first 1963 model showings.

Chevrolet has set the pace with sales of 68,000 passenger cars. The 1963 run seems to be headed for an all-time record of two million.

Chrysler Corp. reports sales for the first 10 days have been the highest since 1950. Plymouths are 53 per cent ahead of a year ago; Dodges 69 per cent.

American Motors reached an all-time high in Rambler sales for the period — 12,043 cars sold.

AN INFORMATIVE 30-page handbook on the three-year-old American Football League is available free of cost at Mercury dealers E. Bugna in San Rafael and Larry Brinks Motors, Mill Valley.

The booklet is specially designed for television viewers of the professional football games over the American Broadcasting TV network on Sunday afternoons and on Thanksgiving Day sponsored by Lincoln-Mercury Division of Ford Motor Co.

Lincoln-Mercury was 27 per cent above its previous high set last year.

LAURIE FELTON of Leon C. Felton Co. and his wife will attend dedication ceremonies of Volkswagen of America's new multi-million-dollar headquarters at Englewood Cliff, N. J., Saturday—also the three-day meeting of VW dealers in New York City. They'll sidetrip to Bermuda before coming home.

Volkswagen sales have continued to increase in the U.S. despite moderate showings of some other foreign cars. The millionth VW will soon be delivered to some American buyer.

Dr. Heinz Nordhoff, president of Volkswagenwerk—here for the dedication—says VW styling may be unchanged but "not one part of the car is the same as it was a few years ago."

NEW THREE-WHEEL TRUCK to be manufactured: "Trivan," a one-half ton vehicle designed by C. Harry Payne, developer of the World War II "jeep," weighs only 1,600 pounds and has a fibreglass cab. It is manufactured by the Roustabout Co. of Frackville, Pa.

Single rear wheel drive is said to give exceptional traction in any weather and it's claimed the car won't overturn.

Trivan has a 38-horsepower engine, three-speed transmission, cruises at 50-55 miles per hour and claims 35 miles per gallon of gas. Supplied as pickup or chassis and cab for any type body.

Will be sold through established dealerships.

NOTHING TO DO with automobiles, but it seems houses have options, too.

Reggie Waldon of Farrington Jones and Son, San Anselmo realtors, reports one ranch type home listing in Sleepy Hollow where the owner, for $1 more than the asking price, "will throw in his golden Palomino gelding 'Champagne' with saddle, bridle, blanket and pad." The place already has stables, corral, hay loft, feed room and tack room as "standard equipment." Price: $34,001. With the horse, that is.

Exile Says Cuba Ready To Fight Castro

By WILLIAM RYAN

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Elements in the Cuban militia and what is left of the old revolutionary 26th of July Movement are ready to take to the hills and fight Fidel Castro's Communist regime, Cuban exile sources here declare.

But these sources add that the internal resistance, which they call the only hope for Cuba's liberation from Communism, is being hampered by U.S. actions.

Fidel Castro, who recently made a hush-hush tour of Cuba's interior, is reported in dread of his own former comrades-in-arms in the old 26th of July army.

Mass meetings of "defense committees" are being held all over Cuba. The committees are part of a Communist-style, block-by-block spy system.

Cuba's economic troubles under Communism have tended also to arouse disaffection even in the militia. This has so worried the regime, according to available information, that militia members get little ammunition, and their arms and bullets are taken from them at the end of each tour of duty.

One exile leader, Manolo Ray, urges that the United States make it as clear as possible to people inside Cuba that the fight is only against Communism and that the United States is on the side of any underground resistance that fights the Red regime.

Ray, who claims reliable contacts with the elements of resistance inside Cuba, fought for Castro in the revolution, which overthrew the Fulgencio Batista dictatorship and became Castro's first public works minister. He fled when the regime veered sharply to Communism.

The ex-minister says he believes strategic blunders in the United States have hampered internal Cuban resistance.

One such blunder, he asserts, has been creation of the impression that the United States supports any and all Cuban exiles.

Hatred of the old Batista regime persists in Cuba, despite present woes.

Ray says he and other Cubans now organized in "the Cuban revolutionary junta" in Puerto Rico believe it is urgent for the United States to make clear that it is on the side "of any underground resistance to the Cuban Castro regime, and that it believes the only battle is against the Communists and not against Cubans who took part in the revolution against Batista."

He says he feels that 26th of July army men who might take off for the hills hesitate for fear that former Batista people might be among those who would move in from the United States and take over after the fall of the Castro regime.

They fear, he says, they would lose their own heads in that event.

U.S. Launches Rocket To Moon

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A towering rocket thundered skyward today in an attempt to send the Ranger 5 spacecraft a quarter of a million miles to a landing on the moon.

The mission of the gold-and-silver-plated spacecraft is to send back closeup television pictures of the moon's surface before landing the first active instrument package. This would measure moonquakes and meteor hits.

If all goes well Ranger 5 will streak through space for 70 hours and reach the moon about midnight Sunday.

The shot was postponed twice this week, first by technical trouble and then by the threat of Hurricane Ella. But the hurricane changed course and the launching was rescheduled.

The Atlas-Agena B rocket, 102 feet tall and weighing nearly 150 tons, blasted away from Cape Canaveral at 11:59 a.m. (EST).

Forty minutes later, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported the rocket apparently had done its job and had hurled the 750-pound package into space above the South Atlantic ocean near the South African Coast.

The huge booster lifted straight off its pad. Within 10 seconds it vanished into a low-hanging cloud bank.

If the inquisitive payload succeeds on its 231,500-mile trip, it will be the first of a long line of unmanned spacecraft intended to learn what the moon is like and locate suitable landing areas for American astronauts later in this decade.

Telephone Cable Across Bay Cut

Disaster Plan Is In Effect

The main telephone toll cable connecting Marin County and San Francisco was cut late this morning, forcing Pacific Telephone Co. in San Rafael to reroute demand traffic under pre-arranged disaster plans, said Gordon Davenport, the company's local manager.

Davenport said details of the break were not immediately known. The cut occurred on land near Juanita's Galley in Sausalito, possibly through some kind of digging operations, he said.

The manager said he did not know how many telephone lines were involved.

He said service normally handled by the cable, which crosses the bay under water, was quickly detoured through other cables around the Bay Area. He said the disruption was also affecting 90 per cent of traffic from Marin into Oakland.

The company has re-routing plans laid out in advance to handle traffic in the event that military attack or other disaster breaks any main cable in the area, Davenport said.

Lines serving the Independent-Journal's battery of news service teletypes were among those cut off, but service was re-routed so rapidly that the interruption went unnoticed in the newspaper's editorial office.

'NO PROBLEMS'

San Rafael Gets All It Asked For On Freeway Work

The City of San Rafael has now gained all the features it originally requested in the state's plan to revamp the freeway, city councilmen learned yesterday.

"All the problems in my own mind seem to be answered in this," said Mayor John F. McInnis after recent concessions approved by the State Highway Commission were explained by Division of Highways representatives Preston Smith, engineer in charge of design from the Marin area, and Arthur Hayler, assistant district engineer in charge of construction.

One of the main changes to be made in the freeway, apart from increasing it to eight-lane width, will be the redesign of the Irwin Street interchange, presently the major bottleneck in San Rafael's freeway access. Plans are to "clean up" the ramp system, giving the city full on- and off-ramps instead of the criss-cross system now in use.

The point at which the ramps will "touch down" has not yet been determined, Hayler said. The state wants it to be at Lindaro Street, but the city would prefer First and D streets. The location will be decided after the state works out the design of its future Highway 69 freeway.

The state's original plan to make a "loop" connection at the Linden underpass has been abandoned, and a complete interchange at Puerto Suello is proposed instead. However, the Linden underpass would be widened to 40 feet.

Other features include a pedestrian overpass at Paloma Avenue connecting to Rafael Drive on the east side of the freeway, primarily to serve the Coleman School.

A frontage road along the east side of the freeway, connecting Villa and San Pablo avenues, also would be built.

All widening of the freeway would be done on the west and north sides, the engineers said.

Drawings and data were given to City Engineer Dominic Selmi and Dan Coleman, the city's consulting engineer, for study and report before Nov. 5, when the council will consider a freeway agreement with the state clearing the way for the project.

Councilmen indicated that, barring any technical problems that Selmi and Coleman might find, they approve of the plans by the state.

Only Councilman Fred Jensen was absent from the meeting which was held at the city hall council chambers.

ATTORNEY GOMMO SUCCUMBS

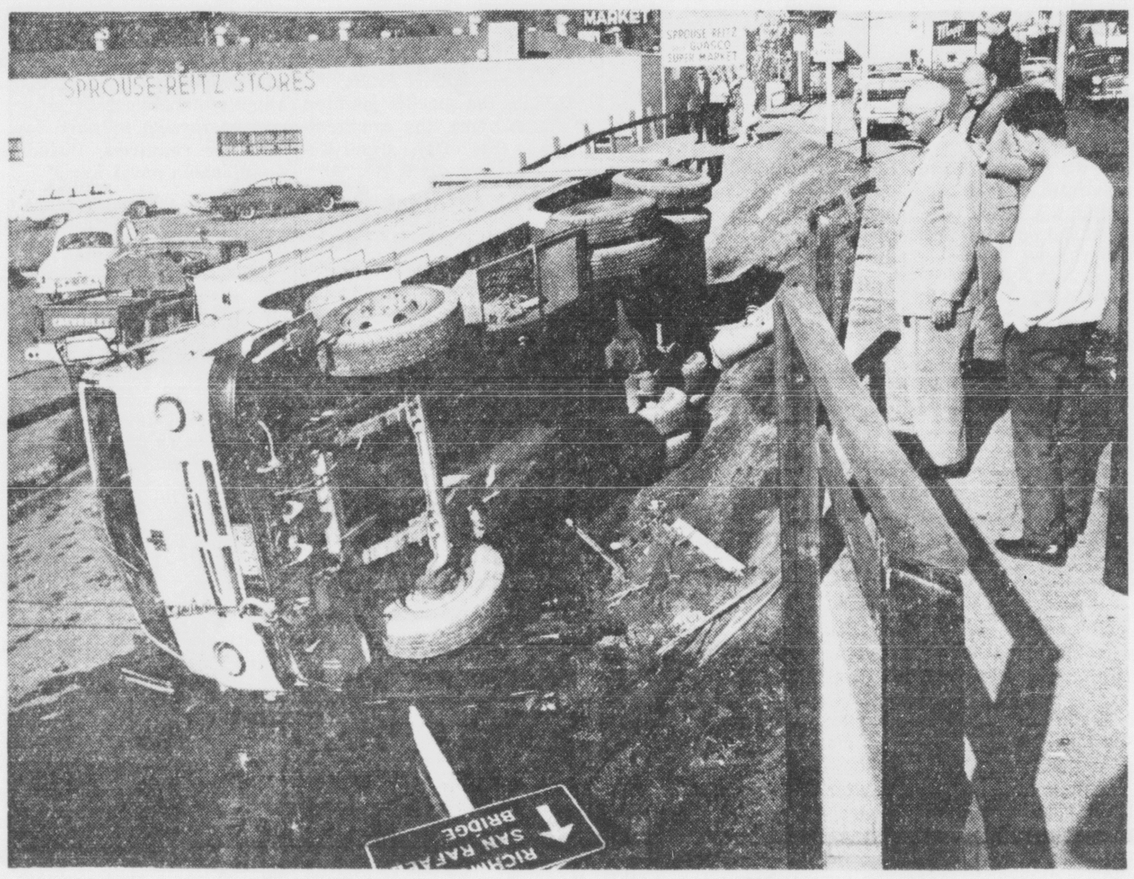
Kentfield attorney Albert H. Gommo Jr., 52, shot twice in the head Tuesday in his San Francisco office, died today at 12:30 p.m. in San Francisco General Hospital. Doctors said its was impossible to attempt removel of an embedded bullet.

In the same hospital under police guard his alleged attacker, John Trischan, 50-year-old San Francisco electrician, was in serious but not critical condition.

San Francisco police said Trischan shot Gommo twice in the head, then turned his .22-caliber pistol on himself in a suicide attempt. The shooting took place late Tuesday afternoon in Gommo's office in the Central Tower on Market Street.

Gommo, 51, reportedly was able to tell police after the shooting that Trischan accused him of "fooling around with his wife." Mrs. Trischan, Gommo's former legal secretary, told police her husband was insanely jealous and was "always accusing me of going out with other men." She has filed for divorce and an interlocutary decree has been granted, police said.

Gommo is married and has three daughters. His home is on Quisiana Drive in Kentfield. He is a native of San Francisco and has had law offices there since 1937. He is a graduate of Hastings Law School of the University of California and a member of the State Bar Assn.



RUNAWAY TRUCK OVERTURNS

A San Anselmo Garbage Disposal truck rolled backward 90 feet down Spaulding Street and over busy Sir Francis Drake Boulevard today at 8:55 a.m. landing overturned on the driveway of the San Anselmo Super Market at 100 Center Boulevard. Driver Emil Boracchia, 41, of 1433 Clinton Street, San Rafael, and his helper Roy Harris of San Francisco escaped with slight cuts. Boracchia said the air brakes failed when he stopped to make a pick-up on Spaulding Street. Fire Chief Nello Marcucci directed fireman Jerry Cahil in washing down gasoline from the punctured gas tank.

Mayor Denies Clandestine Meetings

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Secret meetings are not being conducted by the Mill Valley City Council nor is the council engaged in a "witch hunt," Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks declared at a meeting of the council last night.

He referred to a story in yesterday's Independent-Journal which reported that the council has recently held a number of unannounced, closed meetings, the last one Monday in San Francisco.

At that luncheon meeting, Sheeks had reported in yesterday's I-J, the council spoke to William R. Zion, governmental research consultant, about a survey Zion has prepared of the city's administrative system and including a check over of duties of City Manager A. E. Almcrants.

Sheeks said last night he apologized on behalf of himself and, he felt, for the rest of the council, for the I-J story. He added: "a lot of inferences were cast. The story tends to give the inference the city council is engaged in a witch hunt, that we're dissatisfied with the city manager or out after his throat. This is not the case.

"I want to publicly state," the mayor continued, "the council has full confidence in the city manager, and the work which we have been doing or have had done for us by Zion has been in no sense derogatory to the city manager or city council. It is simply an effort to try to improve some of the procedures and administrative practices which occur in city hall and designed primarily for helping and assisting the city manager."

Prior to this apology, Sheeks said he apologized for the council's late start since "the city was having a secret meeting downstairs with the library board discussing problems. The press got in on it so it was not too secret."

(This meeting of the council, held at 7:30 p.m. in the office of City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants, was not made public. This reporter, en route to the regular meeting, heard discussions in Almcrants' office and was permitted to stand in the doorway and listen until it broke up at 8:15 p.m. The regular meeting is normally set at 8 p.m.)

Public meetings must be held by all legislative bodies, under the Ralph M. Brown Act, unless hiring, firing or bringing of charges against personnel are being considered.

Sheeks denied that the city council is conducting business in secret meetings. "The inference is very clearly given the council is conducting business in secret meetings. This is not true. Nor it is reasonable inference from what I told (reporter) Coleman in telephone conversations yesterday. In connection with this survey we have had several meetings, perhaps two or three regarding hiring of a consultant. This I do not think indicates meetings are commonplace. I said it was on this subject. Mr. Coleman has not done us the courtesy of mentioning this . . .

"We are not engaged in a witch hunt and he has seen fit to disregard this in the interests of selling more newspapers to sensationalize this story and played up to an extent altogether unwarranted.

"I am sure we would be extremely pleased if the I-J would confine to the facts and leave inferences up to the reader, stop worrying about pressures and stop trying to create pressures themselves. The article quotes the Brown Act on secret meetings and then seeks to impress on the county and all other persons in the county the interpretation they put on the Brown Act itself. Our city attorney is in final charge of our actions in these matters.

"This survey . . . is one which is designed to assist the city council and city manager

Executive Acquitted Of Airline Bomb Hoax

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A New York business executive, Gerhard Andlinger, 31, was acquitted today of giving false information by saying he was carrying a bomb aboard an airliner Oct. 7.

Andlinger, director of planning for the International Telephone and Telegraph Co., pleaded innocent before U.S. District Judge Stanley Weigel.

Novato Men's Store Robbery Loss $6,000

Burglars last night took an estimated $5,000 to $6,000 worth of men's clothing from Harley McAskill's Men's Wear at 1217 Grant Avenue, Novato police reported today.

The burglary was discovered at 3:30 a.m. by Officer Walter Weidauer, who noticed the front door had been pried open. Officer Floyd Hallowell had checked the building at 1:45 a.m.

The burglars took the merchandise, mostly suits, from the display racks, said Police Chief Roy McLeran. McAskill said that very little of his loss was covered by insurance.

COURT FIGHT OVER 'VISIT TO VICTIM'

The prosecutor and the defense lawyer in the Claude Hilton Bradley murder case battled today over admission of a key piece of prosecution evidence — the suspect's statements that he visited the victim's apartment on the night of the tragedy.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety contends that suspect Bradley made the statements to him and to San Rafael police voluntarily. Defense lawyer Berwyn A. Rice told Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. that the statements were involuntary and therefore should not be given to the jury of nine women and three men.

Bradley, 22, a truck driver, is accused of slaying Mrs. Carole Leona Frederick, 29, in her apartment at 45 Woodland Avenue last June 3.

Bradley's statements that he had visited Mrs. Frederick on the morning of June 3 were first disclosed last June at a Grand Jury hearing. A transcript of that hearing shows that Bradley said he visited Mrs. Frederick about 2:30 a.m. on June 3 to use the telephone to call a cab. He told the district attorney and police he put his hands on the victim, then left after she went limp. The defense contends these statements were made under duress.

Yesterday Roger S. Green, criminologist from Sacramento, testified he found no evidence of the victim's hair or blood on Bradley's clothing.

The trial was expected to continue this afternoon, then resume on Monday morning because Judge Sims has juvenile court hearings tomorrow.

WHITE RUSSIANS LEAVE CHINA HOMES

White Russian emigrants board a ship in Hong Kong that will take them to new homes in other lands after a lifetime in China as farmers, artisans and shopowners. In the wake of recent coolness between Communist China and the USSR, White Russian refugees from the 1917 revolution are being encouraged to leave their homes in China. (UPI photo)

U.S. Shifts Jets To Key West

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon, moving to counter a buildup of jet MIGs in Cuba, has shifted a squadron of 1,400-mile-an-hour Navy jet fighters to southern Florida.

A Defense Department spokesman said today the squadron of about 12 F-4B Phantom 2 fighters was ordered to Key West on Oct. 6, about 90 miles from Cuba.

The action came three days after Undersecretary of State George W. Ball told Congress that eventually Cuba probably will have 20 to 30 of the most modern Soviet-built jet fighters which normally carry air-to-air missiles.

Ball said Cuba was believed to have one advanced MIG 21, with more probably being assembled, plus about 60 older jets.

The Pentagon spokesman related the buildup of missile-armed U.S. jets in southern Florida to this report by Ball of increasing MIG strength in Cuba.

The movement of the Phantoms from Oceana Naval Air Station near Norfolk, Va., to Key West does not herald a pattern, the spokesman said.

As far as he knows, he said, this was the only additional unit sent to the area to reinforce U.S. forces facing hostile Cuba.

The United States has powerful air and fleet elements based throughout the Caribbean area.

The F-4B Phantom is rated the Navy's fastest, highest flying and longest range fighter. It also has the greatest firepower of any Navy fighter plane.

It is manned by a pilot and a radar observer and mounts both Sparrow and Sidewinder missiles which can be used to knock down other high speed aircraft.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union says it fired multistage rockets 7,500 miles Tuesday and yesterday and they landed near their targets in the Pacific.

The range is about that reported when the Soviets said they fired a new rocket into the Pacific in September 1961.

The target area for the latest Soviet tests was near the Marshall Islands. The announcement by the Soviet news agency Tass said the area was temporarily open again to ships and planes.

After Overdue Books

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Public Library has hired a full-time investigator—at $4,200 a year—to reclaim overdue books.

"There has been no great increase in the number of overdue books," said Raymond C. Lindquist, library director, "but the work was beginning to pile up."

Lindquist was asked whether the salary might not be more than the cost of replacing overdue books.

"It is not that we want the fines from the books but rather the books themselves," Lindquist replied.

Minuteman Explodes

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Minuteman missile, off course and headed for the Florida mainland, destroyed itself on signal from the range safety officer seconds after launching from an underground silo last night.

The spectacular blast rained chunks of flaming debris over a wide area, and a Jupiter missile was severely damaged. A photographer was injured slightly while racing to safety.

Rubble After Blast

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Only rubble remains of an ammunition assembly building which was demolished when a woman panicked and tossed a smoking simulated bomb onto a production line.

The bomb touched off all 500 of the bombs in the plant in a chain reaction of explosions that shattered the building and had it flaming from end to end in a matter of minutes.

About 35 women employees moved swiftly and calmly out of the building seconds before it blazed up. They escaped injury.

Kite Crosses Channel

CALAIS, France (AP)—French parachutist Gil Delamare crossed the English Channel from France to England in 95 minutes yesterday suspended from a huge kite 30 feet above the water and towed by a motor boat.

After arriving in Dover, Delamare, 42, climbed aboard one of the six small boats in his escort flotilla and started home. The fog was heavy, and it took him seven hours to get back to Calais.

Ben Bella, Castro: Guantanamo 'No'

HAVANA (AP) — Announcing "essential identity of viewpoints" in world affairs, Premier Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria and Prime Minister Fidel Castro agreed last night that the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo must go.

A joint communique emphasized, however, that the big naval installation in eastern Cuba will be "claimed in its opportunity through international law"—not by force.

Despite the specific mention of Guantanamo, the communique was free of the usual Cuban diatribes against "Yankee imperialism" with which Castro greeted Ben Bella on his arrival Tuesday.

The communique was issued at the end of a 28-hour visit by the premier of the new North African nation, who came here direct from a White House lawn reception and talks with President John F. Kennedy.

The communique said Castro and Ben Bella "considered the unpostponable necessity of evacuating foreign military bases in other countries, including Guantanamo naval base."

This also was a reference to French military forces and bases still in Algeria.

Cal-Vet Interest Down

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The interest rate on Cal-Vet farm and home loans drops from 4 to 3¾ per cent Nov. 1 .

That was the announcement yesterday by the Department of Veterans Affairs. The reduction was approved by the Veterans Finance Committee in July.

King Saud Recalls Brother From U.N. To Help In UAR Challenge

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Beset by a new challenge from President Nasser in revolt-torn Yemen, King Saud of Saudi Arabia summoned his brother, Prince Faisal, from New York today to form a new government and bolster his regime.

Nasser's United Arab Republic has increased the violence of its propaganda attacks on Saud since the dessert king threw his support behind the Yemen monarchy, toppled in an army revolt Sept. 26.

A broadcast from Mecca said only that the old cabinet was dissolved in the general interest. But there have been signs of disaffection inside Saudi Arabia since the Yemen revolt.

Saudi air force officers have defected to the UAR in a transport plane and three trainers since the Yemeni uprising broke out. As in Yemen, pro-Nasser sentiment has been reported among Saudi officers.

With a hostile revolutionary regime in Yemen backed by Nasser, Saud apparently decided it was time to call back to the premiership a brother who might rally public support to the monarchy.

Faisal has been heading Saudi Arabia's delegation to the United Nations in New York.

More Western-oriented than the monarch, Faisal as premier in 1959 embarked on a program of austerity and domestic reforms. He reportedly began diverting more of the desert kingdom's vast oil revenue from the royal coffers to improving the lot of the impoverished, illiterate masses.

Hurricane Ella With 90-MPH Winds Threatening Mainland

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane "Ella," carrying 90-mile-an-hour winds and threatening to get stronger, ploughed northward in the Atlantic today.

Gale winds already were reaching out to flirt with the U.S. mainland.

Termed dangerous by weathermen, the season's fifth tropical storm was headed approximately toward the Carolina Capes at 90 MPH sending rough seas ahead of her.

Early today the storm was about 375 miles south of Cape Hatteras, N.C.

Gales extended 350 miles to the north and 25 miles to the south of the center.

Forecasters predicted Ella would intensify during the day and continue on her northbound course.

Ships 90 miles off the Carolina coasts reported gales and seas to 11 feet last night. Ella's fringe winds tousled Daytona Beach, Fla., with 40-mile gusts as the hurricane churned along about 325 miles from the Florida East Coast.

Ella's north-northwest course began Tuesday afternoon. Before that, the storm zigzagged between north and west as it gathered strength, in a gradual rise toward the hurricane status it reached yesterday.

WHISTLESTOP CAMPAIGN ON COAST

Nixon Promises To Use 'Great Team'

By CHAPIN A. DAY

ABOARD NIXON CAMPAIGN TRAIN — Richard M. Nixon launched a 520-mile whistlestop campaign of the Central and Southern California coastline with a promise to 2,500 persons in Santa Cruz he will put "a great team of men" to work in Sacramento.

Nixon told the crowd, gathered around the platform of this special train, he would pick the best man for any job regardless of party because Californians want "national leadership in the quality of their government."

He good naturedly bantered with individuals in front of the Santa Cruz casino, where the train was parked, while Pat Nixon beamed in the background.

Just before the train was due to leave, he crossed the street and entered Casa Del Rey Hotel for elderly people. He talked informally about his proposed California Legion of Service, designed to make use of the abilities of the retired and elderly.

In Watsonville, second of 17 stops which will pace the train to San Diego in two days, 1,000 people gathered to hear Nixon. Then came Salinas and at noon the train pulled into King City.

Marin's two state legislators, Sen. John McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley, both of San Rafael, were aboard. Also among the 80 passengers on the train are William Phelps of Mill Valley, public relations staffer for Southern Pacific, and Robert Hamilton of San Rafael, a Nixon aide.

The gubernatorial candidate, talking about the kind of man he would appoint, named Robert McCarthy, former motor vehicles director under Gov. Edmund G. Brown and brother of the senator, as "the kind of man" which should be back in Sacramento.

Nixon declared his goals are to "lose the distinction of being the first state in crime," cut government spending and taxes without decreasing public services, eliminate the "chiselers" from welfare and aid rolls, and "make California first in opportunity" by attracting private enterprise investments to provide thousands of new jobs.

and is in no way to reflect anything on the city manager.

"As far as I'm concerned personally, as a public official, if the choice is presented to me to discussing any alleged shortcomings in the city manager's performance, causing him any embarrassment or in any way offending his sensibilities or discussing it in his office behind closed doors, I will make the latter choice every time."

Alto Sanitary Unit To Share Costs

Alto Sanitary District directors at a special meeting last night agreed to adopt the City of Mill Valley formula for the district to share the overall operating cost of the city's sewer plant.

The formula, according to Sidney Dooray, secretary, was evolved through mutual agreement with other sanitary districts who do business with Mill Valley.

The board also agreed to incorporate the City of Mill Valley's sewer standards with those of the district and decided to try to work out an equitable solution to problems of future annexation between the district and the city.

Voters In Burdell District Eligible

Voters in the Burdell School District, recently annexed to the Lincoln School District, will be eligible to vote for Lincoln trustees in the April election though there is no requirement that one of the trustees be from the Burdell district.

The Independent-Journal incorrectly stated yesterday that voters in the Burdell section of the Lincoln district would not be eligible to vote.

Cast members include Jill Cogswell, Larett Mattson, Darryl Barry, George Gullette, Ernie Bergman, Mike Thompson, James Bullock, Rich Elliott, Don Brigance and Linda Arburthnot.

Directing the play will be Daniel Caldwell, English teacher. Francis Hammit is stage manager.

Highway Commission Set Shoreline Hearing

Special to the I-J

EUREKA — The California Highway Commission set Nov. 29 as the new date for a hearing in Marin County on realigning the Shoreline Highway (State Route 1) from the point where it leaves Highway 101 to a point north of Stinson Beach.

An earlier date for the hearing was cancelled on request of the Marin County Board of supervisors. The supervisors subsequently reconsidered and asked for a new hearing date. The hearing will be held in Marin County at a place to be designated later.

Boy Runs Into Car On Bicycle

An eight-year-old Sausalito boy was reported in fair condition today in Marin General Hospital after colliding with a moving automobile yesterday afternoon while riding his bicycle down Buchanan Avenue.

Larry Shiflett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shiflett of 44 Butte Street, is being treated for possible head injuries. Police reported the boy, riding with two friends at Buchanan and Nevada Street, ran into a car driven by Margaret Davis of 101 Buchanan at 5:50 p.m.

He struck the left front of the car and was thrown into the gutter, police said.

Traffic Violation Reveals Car Theft

When a 15-year-old youth was apprehended yesterday afternoon in Portland, Ore., on a traffic violation, it was learned that he had stolen the car he was driving from Stephen A. Nye of 85 Crescent Avenue, Sausalito.

The Sausalito boy admitted taking the 1961 Mercedes Benz two door sedan, with an Oregon license plate, at 7:55 a.m. Tuesday in front of Nye's residence.

Sausalito police said that the boy is being returned to Marin where he will be turned over to juvenile authorities and charged with grand theft.

Nevers To Speak At Football Night

Ernie Nevers, Marin County's Football Hall of Fame fullback, will be the main speaker at the Mill Valley American Legion "Salute to Football" program at 7:30 in the Legion Hall.

Coaches and team captains of all Marin High School football teams will be guests of honor, according to past commander Roy Ibach, who made the announcement.

Football movies will be shown and explained by Larry Brink, Mill Valley auto dealer, who starred on college and professional teams including the Los Angeles Rams. Brink coaches the Mill Valley entry in the Pop Warner League.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY

in the Heart of our County

Marin pioneers chose a site in the heart of our county as a final resting place for their families. Today this location—at the west end of Fifth Avenue in San Rafael—is still convenient to all Marin points.

Marinites who choose Mount Tamalpais do so with the assurance that its beauty will grow with the years. The interest from a quarter-million dollar endowment fund—twice the legal requirement—is dedicated to the constant care and improvement of this 57-acre site.

Perhaps—like many Marin families—you wish to make your own final arrangements to spare others difficult decisions. If so, we invite your inquiry or a personal visit.

Child Molest Figure Taken To Hospital

A San Quentin Prison lieutenant, who is scheduled to appear in court tomorrow on a child molest charge, was rushed to the hospital unconscious yesterday and transferred to the psychiatric ward at Ross Hospital.

He is Fred V. Bartlett, 54, of 507 Browning Court, Tamalpais Valley, who is accused of molesting a 10-year-old girl at his home on Oct. 1. Free on $1,050 bail, he is scheduled to enter his plea tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

Yesterday about 3:20 p.m. Tamalpais Valley firemen got a "resuscitator call" from the Bartlett home. The nature of the ailment was not disclosed.

William O. Weissich, attorney for Bartlett, said he does not know what happened. "His wife called last night and said he's in the hospital unconscious. That's all I know."

Bartlett had worked at San Quentin Prison for 21 years until his arrest. He was also employed for three years at Folsom.

35 Dozen Eggs Stolen From Dairy Trucks

Somebody who likes to hoard eggs, or maybe wants to make a giant omelet, stole 35 dozen eggs from delivery trucks parked at the Foremost-Golden State Dairy in San Rafael Tuesday night, police learned.

John Seamas, dairy manager, told police someone climbed the fence at the dairy yard at 648 Lindaro Street between 6 p.m. and midnight and took the eggs from three trucks.

Landscape Painting Classes To Start

Eliot O'Hara, painter from Washington, D.C., will instruct classes in outdoor landscape painting for beginning and advanced students in Sausalito commencing Nov. 5 and running through the month.

Classes will be on Mondays and Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Those interested may get further information from Lynn Wood of 519 Caledonia Street.

Girl Hospitalized For Pill Overdose

Diane Lois May, 20, of 617 Galerita Way, Santa Venetia, was hospitalized yesterday morning for treatment of an overdose of pills.

Sheriff's Deputy's A. V. Menjou reported the girl said she took 13 phenobarbitol and 12 bufferin tablets.

No Almonte Meeting

There was no meeting of the Almonte Improvement Club last night due to lack of a quorum. The next regular meeting will be Nov. 21. The annual membership meeting will be 8 p.m., Nov. 3, at Almonte Hall, according to president Frank R. Little.

Inmate Missing At Prison Camp

Patrick Morehouse, 32, who was denied parole by the California Adult Authority this month, was reported missing from San Quentin's Parlin Fork Conservation Camp at 12:40 a.m. today.

Prison authorities said Morehouse, in San Quentin since 1957 on two convictions of assault with a deadly weapon in Alameda County, cross-wired a car to make his escape from the conservation camp near Fort Bragg.

Unrepaired telephone wires from last week's storm were hampering communications between the prison and the conservation camp today.

Hearing Aid Stolen

Arnold Ormsby of 834 Mission Street, San Rafael, reported to Novato police that someone took a $335 hearing aid from his car parked in front of 1025 third street, Novato, between 9:30 and 11:00 a.m. yesterday.

OBITUARIES

Lenora Lindner Succumbs

Mrs. Lenora L. Lindner, mother of Edgar T. Lindner of Ross, died in San Francisco yesterday at 83. Private services will be conducted tomorrow morning at the Halsted and Co., mortuary, 1123 Sutter Street, San Francisco.

Born in Lemoor, Kings County, Mrs. Lindner made her home for 78 years in San Francisco aside from frequent summer stays in Marin County over a period of years.

She was interested in the Sunny Hills, San Anselmo, and had not missed its annual Grape Festival during the past 15 years. Because of this interest the family has requested memorial gifts to Sunny Hills.

She was married to the late Adolph Lindner and was a sister of the late federal judge Louis E. Goodman of San Francisco.

Friends described her as "full of life" up to the last, and the evening before her death she had had a meeting with other residents at the Women's Athletic Club in San Francisco. She was also a member of the California Club, another women's organization.

In addition to her son she is survived by four grandchildren.

MARIAN LAUTEN

Funeral services for Marian Johnson Lauten, 86, former Tiburon resident, were held today at the Colonial Mortuary of Crosby N. Gray and Co. in Burlingame.

Mrs. Lauten died Monday in a Burlingame hospital. She lived in Tiburon 15 years before moving to Burlingame three years ago. She was a native of California.

She leaves a son, Jerome F. Lauten of Belvedere; a sister, Miss Jessie M. Johnson of Santa Barbara; a brother, Horace D. Johnson of San Francisco, and one granddaughter.

Burial was in Olivet Memorial Park, Colma.

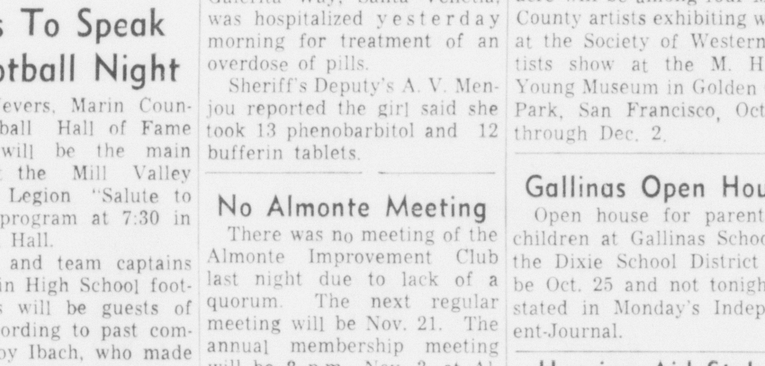
NOW DO DISHES FASTER, CLEANER

New Imperial DISHMASTER



Fits any sink!

FIRST MODEL CHANGE IN 12 YEARS

Dishmaster, always the world's most popular dishwasher, now washes even faster, cleaner and more economically $39.50

FASTEST

With Dishmaster you scrape, wash and rinse in only the time you formerly spent scraping. (In actual tests Dishmaster proved faster than any "automatic" tub-type electric dishwasher.)

MOST SANITARY

Because Dishmaster uses hotter water... (water and detergent are never reused), Dishmaster gets pots, pans, glasses, plates and silverware nearly 100% bacteria-free.

IMPERIAL DISHMASTER...

MOST ECONOMICAL

New and larger detergent tank. (Less than an ounce of liquid detergent does two days' dishes.)

Dishmaster is a precision engineered masterpiece unequalled by the finest plumbing ware!

Faucet valve is diamond bored bronze casting!

Full-flow tip allows more water pressure for disposal operation yet retains anti-splash feature!

New positive stop valve handles eliminate dripping.

New sure-lock wand holder keeps hose in place.

GOOD NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

IF YOU ARE SELF-EMPLOYED

A NEW LAW CAN MEAN BIG MONEY FOR YOU

(1) Now you are entitled to share in a $115,000,000 annual tax savings.

(2) Now you can build a retirement program on a tax-favored basis.

MAIL COUPON BELOW TODAY FOR MORE INFORMATION

Congress has just passed a bill giving self-employed people special tax consideration on retirement programs.

This can mean important tax savings to you, every year, beginning in 1963.

This is an opportunity that you can't afford to pass up. It costs you nothing to find out more about it. And, of course, there is no obligation.

Insurance Securities Incorporated is preparing a booklet that will tell you in an easy-to-understand way what the new law can mean to you.

WHAT THE NEW LAW WILL LET YOU DO

If you are self-employed, in general you may:

1. Invest $2,500 or 10% of your earned income (whichever is less) annually in a tax-favored retirement program.

2. Deduct one-half of this amount for Federal Income Tax purposes.

3. Have the investment—plus all interest, dividends or other earnings and capital appreciation—accumulate tax-free until retirement, as long as it remains in a qualified retirement program.

Find out about tax-favored retirement programs from

San Rafael Hospital's Nursing Head Resigns; Successor Named

Mrs. Patricia Leonard, director of nursing at San Rafael General Hospital for the past three and a half years, has resigned to accept a position in San Francisco, John H. Prescott, administrator, announced today.

She will be assistant nursing director at the 350-bed St. Francis Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Ilona Bellak of Glen Ellen, Sonoma County, has been appointed to succeed Mrs. Leonard, the administrator announced.

Mrs. Bellak is a graduate of Highland Hospital School of Nursing in Oakland. She has been a member of the staff of Los Angeles General Hospital, the California Physicians Service's professional relations department in San Francisco, and during World War II was visiting nurse and later in charge of the Medical Center at Marin City.

From 1951 until her resignation this month to come to San Rafael, Mrs. Bellak was a supervising psychiatric nurse in the acute treatment division of Sonoma State Hospital. She served as coordinator and moderator for two civil defense institutes in Sonoma County.

Both Mrs. Bellak and Mrs. Leonard were awarded scholarships to a two-year series of seminars in nursing leadership sponsored by the University of California School of Nursing. They completed the course in June.

District Extends Water Service

North Marin County Water District directors Tuesday night approved an agreement to extend waterservice to an apartment house west of Diesel Court, across Highway 101 from Hamilton Air Force Base.

Growth Properties Inc., of 1010 B Street, San Rafael, plans 240 apartments there.

The board called for bids for construction of three storage tanks to be opened on Nov. 2. The tanks will vary in size from 850,000 to 5,000,000 gallons.

Assistant Principal Named at Three-Rs

Appointment of Carl Baeshore as assistant principal of the Three-R School in San Rafael was announced today by James W. Kirchanski, the school's director.

Baeshore has been a teacher at the school for three years. He will serve as assistant to Joseph N. Heath, principal for five years.

Presbyterian Fete Saturday

A calendar with 12 views of Marin County's new Civic Center will be among souvenirs representative of Marin to be offered at a Presbyterian Church Festival Saturday at 635 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia.

An art show will be conducted under direction of Mrs. Donald Sayer of the Marin Society of Artists.

Entertainment will start with a 1 p.m. talent show followed by a musical farce by the Santa Venetia Church choir at 3 p.m. A variety show will start at 5 p.m., folk dancing will be at 7 p.m., and from 8:30 p.m. there will be a semi-classical concert.

Seven galleries at Audubon State Park at Henderson, Ky., display the works of the famous artist James Audubon.

College Opportunities Discussion Set Tonight

Opportunities for college education will be discussed by a panel of speakers tonight at a meeting sponsored by Redwood High School Parent-Teachers Assn.

Principal Donald Kreps announced the meeting will start at 8 p.m. in the Little Theater at Redwood High. It is open to all students and their parents.

Speakers and their topics are:

"Educational Opportunities Beyond High School in General," by Richard Frakes, head counselor. "The Marin Junior College Program in Particular," by Irwin Diamond, dean of students at College of Marin.

"Procedures in Choosing College or School," by Paul Bosque, counselor; "Sources of Financial Aid and Scholarship," by Penny Nelson, counselor; "The Role of the School in the Total Process," by Carol Neumeier, counselor.

Larkspur To Have A General Plan

Larkspur will begin contacting planning consultants for ideas on how to draw up a general plan for orderly city development.

This decision came last night after a three-hour joint meeting between the city council and city planning commission.

Under the chairmanship of Mayor James R. Lienkaemper, the joint group agreed on these points:

The city needs a general plan. Priority attention should be given to land use, traffic circulation, population density and growth estimate, and recreation. The scope of the general plan should be confined to the city limits of Larkspur, with planners and consultants to take adjacent areas into consideration while making the study.

The next joint meeting of the city council and city planning commission will be called by mid-January to continue discussion on the general plan. In the meantime, the planning commission will interview planning consultants to get ideas on how to proceed on the general plan. As soon as the interviews are completed, the city council, planning commission and recreation commission will meet again, no later than mid-January.

Vaughn Marker, outgoing chairman of the Larkspur Planning Commission, said he was "very pleased" with the decisions reached last night. "I think we have traveled farther in one and one-half hours than in the last three or four years."

Marker, who had indicated he would resign from the planning commission because of increasing business responsibilities, made the resignation formal last night. However, he agreed to continue working with the planning commission in their interviews of planning consultants in connection with the general plan study.

Some of the items discussed last night, but left for later decision, were the method of financing a general plan, whether a part time consultant should be hired to work with city staff members or a planning consultant firm should be hired to draw up the entire general plan.

On the "philosophy" of city development, city fathers decided that the proposed new zoning ordinance provides as good a guide as any, and no new definition is needed at this time.

Councilman Robert J. Smith said he would like to see all future development geared to the idea that the city is primarily one-family residential. He said he is not happy with some of the apartments that have gone up. He wants to see architectural supervision enforced more rigidly.

City Manager Ronald E. Piper said that under Smith's one-family residential philosophy, a regional shopping center would not be allowed in the community.

"I realize commercial and light industry will have to come in, but even these should be consonant with or compatible with single family residential," Smith declared. He said he is thinking of aesthetics.

Other councilmen and planning commissioners said it would be difficult to enforce rulings on aesthetics.

Several items on last night's agenda were deferred, pending the general plan study. They were:

1. Whether the area between Bon Air Road, Corte Madera Creek, Magnolia Avenue and the Plaza should be rezoned from residential to an industrial park district.

2. Whether to build a new bridge over Corte Madera Creek.

3. Proposed development of the 40-acre park on Doherty Drive next to Hall School.

These should await developments on the general plan proposal, the joint group decided.

Present last night were Mayor Lienkaemper and all four councilmen; Chairman Marker and Commissioners David Scott, Earl J. O'Grady, and Andrew Gilardi.

Newsboy Publicity Award Won By I-J

A first place award for newspaperboy publicity has been presented to Independent-Journal circulation manager Julian Leone.

The award was presented by the California Newspaperboy Foundation for the paper with circulation between 20,000 and 50,000 which did the best job on publicity for its newspaper carriers.

Leone accepted the award at the foundation's annual award luncheon Oct. 9.

Boy, 7, Gets Leg Caught Under Wheel Of Bus, But Injury Minor

A seven-year-old boy's leg was caught under the front wheel of a school bus on the Tiburon Peninsula yesterday but injury seemed minor.

Larry Francis Kenyon of 1358 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was driving the bus south on Paradise Drive just north of Trestle Glen Boulevard at 8:05 a.m. and slowed as he approached a group of waiting children.

The group was waiting in an orderly manner, according to Kenyon, and he saw nothing amiss but suddenly, just as the vehicle was almost at a stop, the children shouted in alarm. Little Jonathan Hirai of 4386 Paradise Drive had fallen and been caught under a front wheel which, however, had not passed over him. By backing the bus the child was released, suffering only a bruise.

The child's mother took Jonathan to a nearby physician.

Three Die In Utah Blast

BACCHUS, Utah (AP)—Three men were killed and 18 injured yesterday in an explosion of 4,000 pounds of rocket fuel—the second in less than two months at the Hercules Powder Co. plant here.

An explosion of 3,000 pounds of experimental rocket fuel Aug. 23 also killed three men.

Killed yesterday were Larry Larsen, 26, and Charles Eutsler, 30, both of Salt Lake City and Grant C. Terry, 36, American Fork, Utah. They were inside or just outside a 20-by-30 foot frame and concrete block building used for preparation of solid fuel when the blast occurred.

The explosion left only a hole in the ground where the building had stood. Cause of the blast has not been determined.

The plant manager, R. C. Tucker, said the firm's production of solid propellant for Polaris and Minuteman missiles would not be affected. No rocket engines were damaged, he said.

The blast sent a fireball and a mushroom-shaped cloud of smoke and debris shooting about the plant, 15 miles southwest of Salt Lake City. It shook homes five miles away.

An adjacent concrete block building used for mixing missile fuel was heavily damaged. Another structure 400 yards away housing a 25 million electron-bolt X-ray machine was slightly damaged.

Coat, Radio, Jewelry Stolen At Rest Home

A coat, radio and jewelry, valued at more than $300, were reported missing Thursday from the Fairhaven Rest Home at 120 Miramar Avenue in San Rafael, according to San Rafael police.

Vivian L. Metcalf, operator of the rest home, said a woman's coat, worth $125, a transistor radio, worth $89, and pearl necklace and earrings, worth $110, were taken from closets in the home. All of the items belonged to her.

ONE AMERICAN, TWO BRITONS

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — An American and two British scientists won the 1962 Nobel Prize for physiology or medicine today for research into the basic molecule of life.

The American was biochemist Dr. James Dewey Watson, a Harvard University professor who at 34 became one of the youngest men ever to win a Nobel Prize.

The British winners were Dr. Francis H. C. Crick and Dr. Maurice H. F. Wilkins, both internationally known research scientists.

Watson and Crick in research at Cambridge University deduced the structure and internal arrangement of DNA, an accomplishment which has been described as one of the greatest leaps in the history of science. Watson was 25 years old at the time of the discoveries in 1953.

Wilkins was visiting the Sloan-Kettering Institute in New York when the Nobel Committee of Stockholm's Caroline Institute announced that he and the other two would share the $50,043 prize.

The committee said the three men were honored for their "discoveries concerning the molecular structure of nucleic acids and its significance for information transfer in living materials."

In effect, the award was made for a project designed to explain the heredity mystery of how, for example, the color of a person's eyes and hair is transferred from one generation to another.

"I don't think the solution involved very profound thought or great intellectual insight," Watson told a news conference at Cambridge, Mass. "We followed three or four steps and we were lucky they turned out the right way."

Watson taught his Harvard class in biology as usual today, although he was a half hour late because of a deluge of congratulatory messages. He said he was "excited but somehow not very surprised" to learn that he and his British colleagues had won the award.

"My father was surer than I that I would get it," he said.

Crick, 46, is a scientist at the Medical Research Council Unit for Molecular Biology at Cambridge University, England.

Wilkins, 45, is deputy director of the biophysics laboratory at Kings College, London. During World War II, he was a member of the Manhattan District Project which produced the atomic bomb.

Watson, Crick and Wilkins will share the prize money, which derives from the income of the nine-million-dollar trust fund established by the late Alfred B. Nobel, the Swedish inventor of dynamite.

They and the winners of the prizes for literature, physics and chemistry which will be announced later, have been invited to receive the awards from King Gustaf Adolf VI at the annual ceremony in Stockholm on Dec. 10, the anniversary of Nobel's death.

The Nobel Peace Prize is presented in Oslo.

Nine years ago, Watson and Crick, using data supplied by Wilkins, deduced the structure and internal arrangement of the deoxyribonucleic acid molecule, called DNA, and constructed a model of a DNA molecule.

This molecule, sometimes described as "the most precious stuff in the universe," carries the pattern of heredity for all living things. It is part of a chromosome, which in turn is part of the genes, the determining factor in hereditary characteristics of the human being.

Two Cities In Marin Win Safety Contest

The cities of Sausalito and Corte Madera have been named winners in the 1961-62 California Cities Employee Safety contest.

Winners were announced at the meeting of the League of California Cities in San Diego this week. Both cities were among 73 California cities which won special awards for records of no disabling injuries to city employees during the year ending June 30.

Youth Joins Army

David H. Fong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fong of 63 Broadway, Fairfax, and a graduate of Tamalpais High School, has enlisted in the army for 18 weeks training as a dental laboratory technician and will go to Brooke Army Medical Center at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., after basic training at Fort Ord.

Mill Valley Council Says Bridge On Ethel Must Go Despite Pleas

Pleas from a number of Mill Valley residents failed to sway the city council last night when it came to the saving of a 38-year-old redwood bridge on Ethel Avenue.

The city crossed the bridge off the map to vehicular traffic, upholding recommendation of City Engineer Stanley M. Bala, who declared it "unsafe." The bridge, one of two, is the most northerly on Ethel.

The council, however, agreed to approve $500 for repairing a second trestle on Ethel, the bridge nearest Montford Avenue.

City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants was directed to consult with Chief of Police Dan Terzich to take steps to close the bridge. Signs, Almcrants said, should be placed at Montford and Mirabel avenues stating the road is closed. Signs also would be placed at the bridge limiting it to pedestrian traffic, and barricades would be placed at the bridge itself. (Almcrants said today the bridge will probably be blocked off within a week.)

Bala, in his report, told the council that the easterly bridge, 60 years old, is safe but needs minor repairs. Trestle two, to the north, he said, is not considered safe even for limited loading and should be replaced immediately or closed to all vehicular traffic. Replacement would cost $7,000, he said.

Protestants in the audience said bridge closing would make them late for work, handicap firemen and police and lower land values.

George V. Griffiths, a former city councilman, told the council "neither bridge can collapse." He said he hacked at the bridge called "unsafe" with an axe and "it's as sound as a dime."

Mrs. Jean Montgomery asked the council what the emergency was in closing the bridge since council had known of the condition since May. She said people won't be able to turn around due to the narrow road. "It means delays in milk and mail delivery," she said, "and even babies."

She asked for postponement pending a report to be submitted by Bala on B streets. After the session on bridges she said "this is the toe in the door for 37 other B streets the city council wants to get off its neck. Then they can come to Cascade, Del Casa and say, we did it on Ethel, we'll do it here."

The council put over to Nov. 21 Bala's report on B streets since Bala has been too busy to finish his survey.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks pointed out that the people on Ethel might form an assessment district to take care of their problems, such as an assessment district formed on Bolsa Avenue and other streets.

Drake 'D' Ordered Scuffed Out

The spirit among senior students at Sir Francis Drake high School isn't what it should be during Spirit Week, angry seniors there said yesterday.

Principal Harold Allison pulled five seniors out of class yesterday and had them remove a large lime "D" on private property on a hill above the school.

The students, who said they had permission of the property owner, had chipped in $21.85, bought the lime and laid the "D" at 4 a.m. yesterday to spark school spirit for the game tomorrow with Redwood High School.

But Allison, arriving at school 40 minutes before class began, saw the students in the school parking lot and later had five hoe away the letter.

"I asked a lot of students what right the principal had to stop us from doing something with our money and on our time," said senior Ronald Baker. "None of them had any answer."

"This is a tradition," said another student. "It was something we were looking forward to and wanted. We would have been glad to erase it at the end of the week. We aren't making any trouble with it."

The students raised another $20 yesterday afternoon, but rumors they would be expelled stopped them from laying a second "D" last night.

"The State Education Code says we have a responsibility for the students from the time they leave home in the morning until they return at night," Allison explained later. He said he wasn't sure how far this code could be applied.

"This sort of thing leads to retaliation from students in other schools. There's nothing wrong with a 'D' on the hill. It's what happens afterward. You have the possibility of a conflict. There's a wide range of ability to use proper judgment among the students involved. The students did this without checking all the way through."

Chamber To Help Improve 'Gateway'

Cooperation of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce has been promised in the drive to make Francisco Boulevard an attractive "Gateway to San Rafael."

Charles Bellach, one of three co-chairmen of the new Francisco Boulevard Assn., said yesterday that Jack M. Phillips, chamber manager, will sit in at all association meetings and has promised assistance in the campaign to beautify and publicize the area.

"We plan to have a mass breakfast meeting Oct. 30 at 8 a.m. in Dominic's Harbor Restaurant," Bellach said. "All merchants, property owners and interested real estate agents will be invited, and we will announce our objectives.

"We want everybody in the county to know where we are and who we are," Bellach said. "There is a lot of enthusiasm and we want to encourage the improvement of both sides of Francisco Boulevard and all connecting streets. Fourth Street has its own special events, and we want to call attention to East San Rafael."

Some of the ways to tout the Francisco area suggested at a meeting of association directors yesterday included:

Street carnivals, midnight sales, block parties, Wednesday evening store hours in addition to present Friday night store hours, better landscaping, lighting, freeway directional signs and improved canal docking facilities.

Petitions Circulated For Gallinas Annexation

Petitions were being circulated today for annexation of the San Rafael Meadows Sewer Maintenance District to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District as result of an overflow meeting last night at the Oliver R. Hartzel School.

Robert Figone of the San Rafael Meadows Improvement Assn., chairman of the gathering of more than 150, said the outcome of long discussion seemed to be unanimously in favor of annexation so petitions provided by the Las Gallinas Valley board would go out at once.

Chief question emerging from lengthy discussion was whether costs could be covered by full cash payment, estimated at $80 for each home, or through assessment district proceedings. Attorney Philip Assaf backed the former as more economical and on a show of hands this seemed unanimously supported, but fears were expressed that some opposition might show up later.

"And you just don't have any legal means of forcing anybody," said Deputy County Counsel Richard V. Godino.

Nonetheless it wits agreed to keep a tally on who was willing to pay in full with the idea that if there were only a few holdouts, special persuasion might be tried in an effort to avoid assessment district costs.

"You're fortunate to be able to annex at such a price," said Supervisor Walter R. Castro, citing a cost of $326 per house in another recent proceeding. He said that the San Rafael Meadows plant has been "one of the best in the county but it isn't up to the standards now required under present conditions."

Discussion brought out that cost to the school, with 7.42 acres of land, would be a basic $742 plus unit charges raising this to about $850. Guide Dogs for the Blind with 10.99 acres would be similarly charged $1,099 plus unit charges, according to estimates given by Warren Nute, engineer for the Las Gallinas District.

Opening the discussion, county sanitation chief William L. Desmond said the plant built around 1950 is now at maximum capacity with waste deposited in an open ditch.

Roger James, engineer for the Bay Area Water Pollution Control Board, traced events which led to the district being placed under a cease and desist order. He later indicated possible consequences of failing to meet a January 15 deadline for start on corrective action, including a prospect of having sewers cut off.

"The state has clamped down," said Public Works Director Donald F. Frost. "Your existing plant is not set up to provide what the state wants. Our feeling is that instead of trying to work out a haywire solution it will be best to annex to a larger district."

It was Frost who later boiled down possible courses in answer to queries from listeners confused by lengthy discussion.

He said the only alternatives to annexation would be to lay a long pipe out into San Pablo Bay at cost of from $100,000 to $300,000, or to bring the present treatment plant up to required standards at about $60,000 cost.

Assaf as attorney for the Las Gallinas Valley district was firm on the point that no action could be taken until the money was provided by one means or another.

Fairfax Woman Driver Injured

A Fairfax woman driver suffered minor injuries when she drove her sedan into a parked station wagon on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard yesterday.

Stephanie E. Lieber of 9 Ridge Road was northbound at 8:30 a.m. when, according to witnesses interviewed by the California Highway Patrol, she turned to the right and ran into the parked vehicle without apparent reason. She told the patrol she was suffering from a severe headache at the time.

The driver was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for a cut nose. In view of the fact that she was involved in a similar accident on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard three months ago, the patrol recommended re-examination and possible medical checkup.

Marin County School Board Assn. Elects Officers, Representatives

Officers for the Marin County School Board Assn. and three representatives to the county committee on school board organization were elected at a meeting of the association.

Robert E. Rodgers, a member of the College of Marin Board, was reelected to a four-year term. Others who were elected by trustee representatives of county school districts were Mrs. Frank Short of Inverness and Peter Macgowan of Tiburon.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy, president of the college board, was reelected president of the association. Other officers are John R. Cunningham of the Larkspur School District Board, vice president; Mrs. Jean Rosse of the Mill Valley School District Board, secretary; and Mrs. Lee Dougherty of the Novato Unified School District, treasurer.

Girl, 12, On Bike Struck By Truck

A 12-year-old Novato girl was hospitalized after a bike-truck accident on Novato Boulevard at 3:15 yesterday, Novato police reported.

Lynda Martin, seventh grade student at Hill Intermediate School, was going home on her bicycle, when she turned across Novato Boulevard in front of a truck, police reported.

Driver of the truck, Romain Fortino Turrubiate Jr., 19, of West Sacramento, who was westbound on Novato Boulevard, said he saw the girl quickly turn across the street in front of him. He said he honked at her and put on his brakes, but did not come to a full stop before his truck hit her, according to police records. The accident occurred in front of 1713 Novato Boulevard.

Lynda, daughter of Army Maj. James F. Martin of 6 Katlas Court, was taken to Novato Hospital and then transferred to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital, where she is under observation for a possible head injury.

Police reported that Lynda had seen some classmates walking on the opposite side of the street and decided to join them.

She was lying about three feet in front of the truck when it stopped, police reported.

Former Corte Maderan Sought For Bad Checks

Joseph A. Poole, 38, painter and decorator who lived in Corte Madera for about two months, is being sought on a warrant charging him with passing fictitious checks, police said today.

Poole, formerly of Denver, cashed 38 bogus checks totaling about $850 before vanishing about Aug. 25, said Inspector Harold N. Hockett of Corte Madera police. The warrant against him set bail at $2,625.

Marin City Pole Housing Meeting Set

A meeting has been called by the Marin City Citizens Committee and the Ministerial Alliance at 2 p.m. Sunday in the community lounge to discuss the present construction of houses on poles in Marin City's redevelopment area.

Frank Phillips, Citizens Committee chairman, said today that the purpose is to investigate construction of the 59 houses and to discuss the merits of a proposed Marin County grand jury investigation of the houses. Counsel has been hired, Phillips said, to discuss legal aspects.

Rev. Samuel Banks is chairman of the Ministerial Alliance, an organization which acts as parent body over all Marin City churches.

2 More Lots Needed For Mill Valley Library Site

Two more lots are needed to enlarge the proposed Mill Valley Public Library site, it was reported by library trustees last night to the Mill Valley City Council.

The lots are adjacent to a parcel of land owned by Roy A. Ibach and used as a storage yard for the Mill Valley Lumber Co.

Councilmen, meeting in City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants's office prior to their regular council meeting, told the library board to negotiate for the extra lots. It was reported that a condemnation suit by the city to obtain the Ibach property is in process.

Also discussed were various means of acquiring money to build a new library. Benjamin Draper, board president, said that instead of a $325,000-$340,000 bond issue, another way to acquire money is to have an election asking for a 40 or 50 cent tax rate increase to cover a three year period. This would pay for the building completely in three years as against a 20-year period for a bond issue.

Councilman George D. Monardo suggested the possibility of getting someone to put up a building, lease it, then at the end of the year let them write it off as a tax loss when the building could be given to the city as a gift.

College Gets New Student President

Ronald Cox has been elected new student body president at College of Marin to replace Rick Burger, who resigned because financial reasons have forced him to take a temporary leave of absence from the College.

Cox, vice president before his appointment, took the president's chair Oct. 9 during a meeting of the executive council after Burger resigned. The council unanimously voted its "sympathies" for Burger. A new vice president will be appointed by the council.

Homestead Players Plan Slapstick, Satire In 24-Act Musical Show

Slapstick and satire will be prevalent in "This Must Be the Place (Because there's Someone in the Hall), a 24-act, musical variety show to be presented starting Nov. 9 by Homestead Players at Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

The play, which also runs at 8:30 p.m. Nov. 10, 16 and 17, is written by Walt Lowden and Bernie Healey of Mill Valley. Both men have collaborated on a number of local shows over the past four years.

Music is by Josh Portugal of San Carlos. Former Straw Hatter Dick Dawe of Mill Valley directs. He is a veteran director-performer and was a professional night club comedian for five years.

Judy Modell of Mill Valley is choreographer. A dance instructor for Dick Ford Studios, she has performed with the San Francisco Ballet. John F. Donhoff of Mill Valley is producer and Nick Pendleton, Mill Valley, art director and designer of the show's posters. Other participants include Anthony Chironi of San Francisco, pianist; Dave Williams, Corte Madera, drums; Jon Sutton of Sausalito, Bass. Dick Angell heads the lighting crew and Alan Burdick handles sound.

Visual and audio "surprises," according to Lowden, will include a three-piece combo and three special films. One film, an animated short, was designed by Milt Kerr, San Francisco film and television producer. A long playing record with the highlights of the show will be sold in the lobby.

Ticket reservations may be made through Maxine Mallouf, 117 Ferndale Avenue, Mill Valley.

Sausalito Artist Works On Display

A showing of oils and mono prints by Sausalito artist Lynn Wood may be seen through Nov. 15 at the Glad Hand restaurant, Sausalito.

Mrs. Wood, an art instructor and owner of the Phoenix Gallery at 102 Caledonia Street, is exhibiting 15 oils in abstract and realistic plus several mono prints.

Boy Scout 'Fandango' Set Saturday

A campaign to sign up 1,000 new Boy Scouts in Marin will be highlighted Saturday when scouts and their leaders meet at Camp Tamarancho for games and a barbecue dinner.

Called the "Commissioners' Fandango," the full day of activities will conclude with a camp fire program. The event is sponsored by Dr. William Magladry, Marin Council commissioner, and neighborhood commissioners.

The 1962 round-up to sign up new scouts is being conducted in schools throughout the county. Rallies are being held, and about 6,000 survey cards have been distributed to determine interest in scouting activities.

Information about the Boy Scouts in Marin has been sent non-members and their parents.

Leon Smith is council round-up chairman. District chairmen are Marc Davis, southern district; Stephen McKee, Redwood district; and Fay Blair, Miwok district.

Caroline Will Have To Get Lost At Next White House Welcoming

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Caroline Kennedy's kindergarten class will have to leave the sound effects to the honor guard at any future official welcoming ceremonies at the White House.

President John F. Kennedy and the State Department have decided the children — charming as they are—would best be in another part of the mansion when chiefs of state are getting red-carpet treatment on the south lawn, it was learned today.

Monday Caroline's playmates mimicked the military commands during the solemn review for Prime Minister Ahmed Ben Bella. Their yells of "boom" during the 21-gun salute and "attention!" caused some embarrassment in state circles.

The 4 and 5-year-old youngsters were watching the pomp and splendor from the third floor solarium, where they go to school daily.

It was the first time a welcoming ceremony was held on the White House lawn for a chief of state. Ambassador Angier Biddle Duke, the State Department's protocol chief, said the president was "very pleased and thrilled" with the poetic setting for the ceremony. He would like to do it for all visits of heads of state to Washington.

But such an idea causes some consternation and pained eyebrows in official circles, since it would be overturning European protocol traditions that date back to 1815. Since that time, presidents have been going to train stations and, in more recent years, airports to meet heads of state.

Kennedy and the protocol office believe the White House ceremony is equal to if not better than, the airport setting.

None of the previous ambassadors wanted to be the first to accept White House welcoming ceremonies, but Duke was able to carry out the plan for the first time last Monday because Algeria does not have an ambassador in Washington as yet.

Satisfaction And Struggle Marks Of Ecumenical Council

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council went into its second week today. The record so far was one of satisfaction and struggle.

The satisfaction came from Pope John XXIII. The 80-year-old pontiff, who has made the world-wide meeting the keystone of his reign, told a general audience yesterday he was pleased with the way it was going.

The struggle is among the 2,700 council fathers—cardinals, archbishops, bishops and patriarchs—assembled here from all over the world.

It is an undercurrent contest for ascendancy at this greatest religious gathering in modern times. On one side are leaders of the cautious traditionalist view who want to preserve the status quo. On the other are "progressives" who favor many changes in the nature of the church.

Four Quit Class Over Noah's Ark

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Four San Francisco State College students have quit a geology course because they contend the views of its professor undermined their religious beliefs.

The students, not identified, quit because Dr. York Mandra said the earth could not have been completely covered with water at any one time. The statement was made during a lecture on Noah and the Ark.

The Golden Gater, a school newspaper, quoted both sides in the controversy.

"They're corruptors. They want to twist us with their so-called facts until we accept nothing on faith," one student was quoted.

Dr. Mandra said he regretted the resignation of the students and added:

"We're not interested in pushing dogma. But it's important for students to know why scientists think as they do, important to give the truth.

"And when the truth is known, religion and science are definitely found to be compatible."

Survey Shows Voters Back School Finances

BURLINGAME (AP)—A survey of 70 school district elections held Sept. 18 indicates strong taxpayer support for increased school finances, the California Teachers Assn. says.

The group reported yesterday that of 53 bond elections held on that date, 40 were approved. Of 23 other districts voting on acceptance of state loans for school construction, 17 approved by the necessary two-thirds majority, it added.

Twelve of 14 elections for increased maximum tax rates won voter approval. Of the 19 bond or state loan issues rejected, the report noted, 14 got more than 60 per cent yes votes, but less than the required two-thirds. Three failed by three votes or less.

Of the 70 districts in 25 counties included in the report, Los Angeles County recorded the largest number of successful elections, approving 12 and rejecting one.

Dr. Thomas Lantos, San Francisco State College economics professor, declared, "When a shift of five votes in the Sept. 18 election could have changed three bond failures into victories with the required two-thirds approval, we can see how archaic this required majority is."

Fairfax Park Unit Meeting Is Changed

Next meeting of the Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission will be Nov. 5 instead of Nov. 6 because of election on the latter date, chairman C. Thomas Teck announced today.

The commission at that meeting will again consider the plan for landscaping Fairfax Park, sent back by the city council after a petition was received objecting to a proposal to cut down four redwood trees as part of the landscaping.

The U. S. Army first issued tropical clothing — white pants and straw hats—in 1879.

Polio Victim Found Two Days After Wreck

LAKEPORT (AP) — Tire skid marks on the road probably saved the life of Robert McClellan, a 28-year-old polio victim who for two and one-half days was trapped in his wrecked car, near his dead mother, highway patrolmen said today.

A patrolman spotted the marks yesterday on a heavily traveled state highway about 100 miles north of San Francisco near this resort community.

Investigating, he found McClellan in the back seat of the auto at the bottom of a 100-foot embankment. The body of the mother, Blanche, 61, who was thrown from the vehicle, was found nearby.

Officers said the pair were on their way to San Francisco when the car's steering mechanism apparently failed.

McClellan, transferred to a Francisco hospital, refused to discuss the accident. His doctor said he was suffering from shock and a broken leg.

Patrolman Robert W. Lyons said McClellan, unable to move about without a wheelchair, remained huddled in a blanket. The auto rolled over twice but came to rest on its wheels near a creek.

Lyons quoted McClellan, "I kept hollering until my voice gave out. I could hear the creek. I was so thirsty and I tried to crawl out and get to the water, but I couldn't make it."

Officers said that McClellan told them he and his mother have been on welfare, and he had borrowed $10 to go to San Francisco to see if they could get additional aid.

Generator Stolen

A six-volt generator was stolen sometime Tuesday night from a car parked at 1036 Los Gamos Road in San Rafael, police reported today. John R. Holland, car owner and resident at the same address, told police he discovered wires cut and the generator missing at 7:30 a.m. yesterday.

Editor Fired In Ike Attack

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — The editor of the University of Colorado's student daily newspaper, who printed attacks on Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, was fired by the university president yesterday.

In announcing the dismissal of Gary Althen, 21, a senior, President Quigg Newton said the editor "had displayed a pattern of editorial irresponsibility that required his removal."

"I'm not sure this is in the best interests of the university," said Althen.

Both Newton and Althen had apologized to Sen. Goldwater for publication of a critical article written by Carl Mitcham, 21, a philosophy student from Dallas, Tex.

After Althen was warned by university officials to exercise better judgment, he wrote an editorial advocating admission of Communist China to the United Nations.

President Newton also appointed three deans to the board of publications, which controls the newspaper. The board then named Jon Kolomitz, journalism senior from La Junta, Colo., as interim editor. Kolomitz had been executive editor of the daily.

Firemen Set Ball In Corte Madera

The Corte Madera Volunteer Fire Department will hold its eighth annual ball at the Corte Madera Recreation Center Nov. 10.

The ball, only public social function by the firemen each year, is to raise funds for the department.

Music will be played by the Jack Barnes Orchestra for dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The bar will be open, said Chief Frank Nelson.

Besides Nelson the department consists of Lee Larson, the town's only paid fireman, and 22 volunteers.

Mill Valley Votes Apartment Footage

The Mill Valley City Council last night voted 4-1, Councilman Michael Wornum voting "no," to change the required minimum footage per apartment unit to 2,500 square feet.

Requirements were 1,500 square feet on flat areas and 2,000 square feet on slopes until June 20 when the council froze the zoning at a blanket 3,000 square feet under an interim ordinance.

The 2,500-square-foot minimum will apply only to areas which are already zoned for multiple family use and the new ordinance will apply only to applications filed after the interim ordinance was enacted.

Action was taken over protests of several property owners. George Martinez declared that the matter should be placed on the ballot for a vote of the people. "I'm very bitter at it," he said. "I'm going to fight every inch of this. I don't give a damn who it is in front of me."

Former City Councilman Elizabeth Rodman suggested the council not make a blanket change but go over the multiple areas one at a time in a survey. Councilman Wornum agreed.

Others objecting were Manuel Gomez, Mrs. Violet Ryan and James Canepa.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

1. Accepted a low bid of $5,818 from Ghilotti Bros. Inc. of San Rafael to install pipe and a bid of $2,000 to install a sump on Sycamore Avenue to handle flood waters. Council also agreed to spend an estimated $14,185 to repair two pumps.
2. Accepted low bid of $5,250 from Ghilotti Bros. Inc. to construct a retaining wall on Edgewood Avenue and decided to bring before the County Board of Supervisors discussion of future Edgewood Avenue Street repairs since, though in the city, the street is heavily used by out of city motorists.
3. Referred a dispute between property owners over use of Woodside Lane, between Woodside and Molino avenues, to City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants.
4. Voted unanimously to abate as a nuisance the two "pink houses" situated at East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto. The houses, owned by David Paul and on land of Bert Randolph, must be removed in 30 days or the city may destroy them. The council indicated they would not be suitable for a teen-age center, nor would it be politic to try to get rid of the houses and at the same time considering using them for such a center.
5. Agreed to waive business license fee for E. A. Brymer, dance chaperone, for teen-age dances at Our Lady of Mount Carmel School since dances are held for charitable purposes.
6. Referred to planning commission for public hearings and recommendations a proposal to place horsemen's riding trails on Corte Madera Ridge.
7. Asked City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to draft an ordinance which would require all variances on substandard lots to be approved by the city council.
8. Adjourned to 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Warrant Issued In Drunk Case

Judge Joseph G. Wilson yesterday issued a bench warrant for Joe Andrew York, 35, of Novato, who failed to appear in court on charges of drunken driving and battery.

Attorney Harold R. Hayes, who has been representing York, told the judge he can't find his client anywhere and therefore wants to withdraw from the case. The judge then issued a warrant of arrest with bail set at $1,500.

York, a sheetrock taper who lives at 98 Grande Vista, Novato, was arrested Sept. 14 when his car locked bumpers with a car driven by off-duty highway patrolman John Francis Allison, 32, of Mill Valley. The mishap occurred at Ignacio. York then drove away. Allison said he chased York to Novato and caught up with him, whereupon York took a swing at him, hitting him near the left ear.

Drake High CSF Elects Officers

Twins, junior students at Sir Francis Drake High School, have both been elected to offices in the school's chapter of the California Scholarship Federation.

The club's new vice president is Daniel Vacha. His twin, Richard Vacha, is treasurer.

Victoria Brown was elected president and Michele Slavich secretary in elections held by the newly named CSF members.

Lawrence Fong was elected president of the Honor Crew, the school's local honor society. Other new officers are: Janet Scott, vice-president; Carlo Pincini, secretary, Christine Skaer, treasurer, according to Laura Schollhorn, school reporter.

Leftovers?

HERRIN, Ill. (AP) — Burglars took 17 pounds of turkey, 38 pounds of ground beef and 40 pounds of cheese from Chittyville Elementary School. Principal Ronald Browning said the school lunch program would continue "although the menu will be revised somewhat."

Rancho School Site Addition To Be Discussed

Acquiring part of the Richard Connell property on South Novato Boulevard to add to the Rancho School site will be discussed at 8 tonight by the Novato Unified School District board at the administration building.

The property, which is just south of the Nave Shopping Center, was denied a rezoning from limited agriculture to commercial by the city council at its meeting on Oct. 9.

The board will open bids for the drainage project at the high school and for new busses.

The auditor will submit the annual report on the district.

Other items to come before the board include accepting a drinking fountain at the high school as a gift from the associated students, inter-scholastic sports at Hill Intermediate School and senior weeks activities at the high school.

Burglars Steal Beer From Stinson Cafe

Burglars stole about a dozen six-packs of beer, several packs of cigarettes and some potato chips from Elwood's Cafe in Stinson Beach during the weekend, Sheriff's Deputy R. L. von Savoye reported yesterday.

Harry R. Shurtleff, owner of the restaurant, said the beer was in the refrigerator in the back room, and the cigarettes under the bar. The lock hasp on the back door had been pried off.

Law Group Forms To Coordinate Traffic Regulations In Bay Area

A steering committee to work on a program to coordinate traffic regulations in the Bay Area was formed yesterday at a meeting of the Bay Area Traffic Executives Council at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio.

Capt. Palmer Stinson of the Oakland Police Department was named to head the committee, which was formed at his suggestion. He will name the committee members from traffic officers in the other Bay Area cities. More than 40 traffic officers attended the luncheon meeting.

Stinson reviewed the jaywalking problem in Oakland through the newspaper reports dating back to 1926. He used this as one example of law enforcement that gets only sporadic attention in some cities.

He urged that cities work more closely together in solving all such problems uniformly and adopt uniform programs for dealing with such problems.

I. T. Zarogoza, director of traffic of the San Francisco Police Department, said that every time his department started a campaign against jaywalking, the newspapers "clobber" the police department.

Another problem which meets varied methods of handling, was that of non-injury accidents in which both parties request police not to investigate the accident. L. F. McElravy of the Kensington Police Department, asked if other departments had a release form which was used in this case. No department represented at the meeting did, but some police officers stated that they closed their accident reports with "no investigation made at the request of both parties."

Other problems discussed by the traffic officers include six feet high bicycles, reversed steering wheels on foreign cars and parking off the side of roads in unincorporated areas.

Capt. T. F. Parnow of the California Highway Patrol at San Rafael, cited the Marin County ordinance forbidding parking within nine feet of the center line of a street as a good example how to control these problems.

Inspector W. C. Stimmann of the California Highway Patrol at San Francisco, said that the state vehicle code does not cover all of these cases, and that they must be controlled by local ordinances.

Assistant Police Chief Joseph Brusatori of the San Rafael Police Department represented Chief Charles Chiesa, who cohosted the meeting with Captain Parnow of the California Highway Patrol.

Mill Valley Firemen Plan Dance Nov. 3

The Mill Valley Assn. of Volunteer Firemen will hold its 67th annual dance Nov. 3 at the Outdoor Art Club, dance chairman Ray Modin announced today.

Tickets have been mailed to Mill Valley residents and proceeds from the dance are to be used for the volunteers' health and welfare fund.

Persons who do not plan to attend the dance, said Modin, may still make contributions by mail. There will be three awards made at the event, which starts at 9 p.m.

Dick Hart and his orchestra will play.

Meeting In Bolinas Tomorrow On Zoning

A public meeting on proposed zoning for Bolinas will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Bolinas Community Center.

The proposed zoning for the Bolinas Peninsula will be discussed by Edmund Kagi, Marin County Planning Department staff member.

Indian On Death Row Due 3rd Sanity Exam

FRESNO (UPI)—Federal Judge William Mathes will have a third psychiatrist examine Rayna Tom Carmen, who spent eight years on San Quentin's Death Row.

The jurist took the action after receiving conflicting reports from two other psychiatrists during a sanity hearing.

Mathes tentatively set Nov. 5 for a hearing but indicated it might be held Monday if Carmen is examined this week by Dr. Harry L. Bramwell of Stockton.

Dr. Mark Zeifert termed Carmen potentially dangerous and said he should be under supervision. Dr. Paul Levy asserted that Carmen appeared mentally competent, pleasant, cooperative and understood the nature of the charges and possible consequences.

Carmen, 51, is seeking a new trial on charges of killing a fellow Indian, Dan McSwain, on a federal reservation near North Fork.

He was found guilty twice but both convictions were set aside, once by the State Supreme Court and again by the Federal Appellate Court, which ruled the state did not have jurisdiction.

The federal court overruled the conviction on the grounds that a crime committed on a federal reservation is outside the jurisdiction of the state.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Famed Frontier Nursing Service Geared To Serve 10,000 Persons

VAN DELLEN

"Hossback nurses" are the women of the famed Frontier Nursing Service of eastern Kentucky. Most of their horses have been replaced with four wheeled vehicles. In addition, their duties have been lightened through the introduction of running water and indoor plumbing and improved diets and medications. The organization is geared to serve 10,000 persons over 700 square miles.

The FNS was founded by Mrs. Mary Breckinridge in 1925. According to Joe Creason, of the Louisville Courier, after she lost her own two youngsters, she devoted her life to working for the children of other mothers.

THERE WAS NO better place to start than in the remote counties in eastern Kentucky. At that time this was a tight little world of rough mountains. The horse was the only means of transportation to certain points; from there it became necessary to walk.

Mrs. Breckinridge is 80. Most of the success of the venture stems from her executive ability and planning. The hospital at Hayden became the hub, with six (now five) nursing centers scattered throughout the area. Each center has subsidiary outposts where weekly clinics are held and two nurses, a graduate and a nurse-midwife, usually live at each center.

MORE THAN 13,000 babies have been delivered by the nurse-midwives of the FNS; 8,000 were delivered at home and only 11 mothers died. But the main function of the members of this organization is general nursing care of mothers and children. Preventative medicine and social service are provided. Last year, more than 25,000 house calls were made and the nurses saw almost as many more in their clinics.

The ability to pay never has entered the picture but Mrs. Breckinridge does not believe in free care for those who can pay something. This is in keeping with the independent spirit of the mountain people.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

ACHING HEELS

L.G. writes: After lying down for five or six hours, I notice pain at the bottom of my heels when I get up. Have you any suggestions about the cause?

REPLY

This may stem from strain, arthritis or spurs. Examination, along with X-rays and perhaps a blood test, will be needed to determine the exact cause. It does not sound serious and you must decide whether the condition bothers you enough to warrant the time and expense of these examinations.

STOMACH ACID

F.T. writes: When you are told you have too little acid in the stomach, do you have to take drops of acid in water for the rest of your life?

REPLY

Additional acid is not necessary unless the deficiency is causing stomach distress. It is a paradox that some people with indigestion have too much gastric acid and others have none.

LIVER ROOM

S.H. writes: I have gall bladder trouble and enlarged liver. Will removal of the gall bladder give more room to the liver?

REPLY

No, but taking out the gall bladder might be helpful it it is infected and is contributing to enlargement of the liver.

STREP INFECTIONS

W.B.writes: What is the difference between strep throat and scarlet fever?

REPLY

Scarlet fever is a strep throat with a rash. The individual becomes immune to the rash after one attack of scarlet fever but may develop strep throat again and again.

TOWN OF ROSS

NOTICE OF HEARING ON AMENDMENTS TO THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE TOWN OF ROSS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Town Council of the Town of Ross, sitting as a Planning Commission, will hold a public hearing on proposed amendments to the zoning ordinance of the Town of Ross, said amendments being described, in general, as follows:

1. Rezoning certain property in the vicinity of Woodside Way from R-1 to R-1 :B6.
2. Providing for appeals to the Council from actions of certain officials.
3. Changing certain "non-conforming use" provisions by deleting the requirement of a use permit and inserting definite termination provisions.
4. Adding the name of East Road to the zoning map.
5. Correcting the zoning map by changing certain property from R-1 :B7.5 to C-L.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that said hearing will be held in the Town Hall, Ross, California, upon the 8th day of November, 1962, at the hour of eight o'clock P.M. and all interested persons are invited to attend and be heard upon said proposed amendments.

IT'S "SHOWER OF VALUES" IN I-J CLASSIFIED ADS

Have you looked at the I-J Classified section lately? If you haven't, you have missed more bargains per square inch than you'll find anywhere in Marin. This is the "People's Marketplace" and here you find bargains in almost anything you are looking for. Lots of folks just read it for the fun of seeing the tremendous variety of items advertised. Smart shoppers answer the ads quickly to be the first to get in on the values.

Smart advertisers use classified ads daily because they know that results are almost instantaneous in the Want Ads. The reason for this is that most of the items advertised are "one of a kind" and shoppers know that if they don't get there quickly the item will be sold. So, whether it's action or bargains you want . . . it's smart to read and use I-J Classified Ads.

Trade, Managerial Assignments Keep Baseball Alive

U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The baseball season didn't end with the World Series.

In a span of 90 minutes yesterday:

—The Milwaukee Braves hired Bobby Bragan as their new manager, succeeding Birdie Tebbetts.

—The Los Angeles Dodgers re-hired Manager Walt Alston, who said he was in favor of re-hiring Coach Leo Durocher.

—The Chicago Cubs and the St. Louis Cardinals completed a six-player trade that involved pitchers Larry Jackson and Lindy McDaniel and slugging outfielder George Altman.

Bragan said he was prouder than at any time "since I was made a second lieutenant in the Army" when the Braves picked him to replace Tebbetts, who quit Milwaukee two weeks ago to become manager of the Cleveland Indians.

"I knew I'd manage in the big leagues again," said Bragan, who bossed the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1956 and 1957 and the Indians in 1958. "I didn't know where or when, but I can't think of a better club to be with than the Braves."

The former National League catcher-infielder was a coach with the Houston Colts last season. He signed a one-year contract in becoming the third Braves' manager since 1959, the year they tied the Dodgers for the N.L. pennant and then were beaten in the playoffs.

The announcement that Alston would be back for his 10th consecutive season as the Dodgers' skipper was made in Los Angeles by General Manager Buzzie Bavasi, who publicly absolved genial Walt for the Dodgers' late-season collapse.

"Our defeat was caused by no one person or player," Bavasi said. "Rather we lost by a team effort of 25 people."

Alston then announced from his home in Darrtown, Ohio, that he had no intention of sacking Durocher, who reportedly criticized the manager's strategy in the Dodgers' final playoff game against the Giants.

"As far as I'm concerned, Leo will be back," said Alston. "I have not had a chance to discuss our coaching staff with Bavasi . . . but I've been satisfied with the work of my coaches. And no one has convinced me that Durocher said those things."

The Cubs, who finished ninth in the 10-team National League race this year, traded Altman, pitcher Don Cardwell and catcher Moe Thacker to the Cardinals for Jackson, McDaniel and catcher Jim Schaffer.

Altman was the big man in the deal. A great favorite with Cub fans, the 29-year-old right fielder was the team's leading hitter for the last two seasons. He batted .318, had 22 homers and knocked in 74 runs during the 1962 campaign.

Jackson always has been touted as a potential 20-game winner but never reached that mark in eight seasons with the Cardinals. His best year was 1960 when he posted an 18-13 mark. The 31-year-old right-hander had a 16-11 record and a 3.79 earned run average this year.

General Manager Bing Devine of the Cardinals was delighted to land Altman, who should give the sixth-place club added punch, but he added, "we're not finished dealing." The Cards are still seeking shortstop and catching help.

The Cubs, too, were highly satisfied with the deal. Said General Manager John Holland: "We will have to go with a younger outfield . . . but we feel the acquisition of these players will be a tremendous boost to our pitching staff."

Now That Season Is Over, What About Giant Trades?

CONNOLLY

The long winter nightmare has begun for a number of S.F. Giant ball players. To a few it could culminate with being traded, sold or shipped back to the minors. For others it could very well mean they have reached the fork in the road that might lead them into the limelight, or steer them into oblivion. But envisioning anything but a lively hot stove league season is silly.

Naming players who might or might not be around in 1963 all depends on the drawing board plans of Giant management.

Orlando Cepeda comes to mind as one of the upper bracket men who either has to be straightened out, or flattened out, to meet the requirements of major league playing standards. The fact that he is regarded as one of the potentially great players on the squad makes him likely, and yet unlikely, to be offered for sale or trade bait. Certainly if he is sold he would command a terrific sale price. If he should be traded, it would have to be to some American League club and the scarcity of talent there makes Cepeda a player who would have to bring other top flight men and a bundle of cash in return, to even make it worth while.

KNOWING OWNER Horace Stoneham as a real cagey horse trader it really seems quite impractical for him to consider Cepeda, until next spring, when the Baby Bull comes back to the wars after a complete rest.

Cepeda, seasoned and tough, with some of his illusions of grandeur eliminated, could be the top man in 1963. He has only to adjust himself to "go steady" with any big league club. It is quite possible he already has realized and conquered his problems.

The outlook for the Giants in future National League competition is the rosiest it has been since they came west. They have five infielders who stack alongside of the best and these include Jimmy Davenport, Jose Pagan, Chuck Hiller, Cepeda and the fabulous Willie McCovey, who can double as outfielder or first sacker.

MATTY ALOU seems definitely in line for active outfield duty in 1963 along with Willie Mays and brother Felipe. That would preserve Harvey Kuenn as top utility man in the infield or outfield. It is my guess that whenever Harvey decides to quite active playing he will catch on as a Giant coach or in some capacity where he will be of good use for player personnel details. Harvey is that well thought of by the headman and manager Al Dark.

The principle shakeup in the Giants' family concerns the pitching corps. Mike McCormick, for one, occupies the top spot. He has either to comeback or else. If he regains strength in his pitching arm, his confidence will come along with it and he could be an outstanding performer once again.

BOB BOLIN is the cinch youngster to get his big chance in 1963. I think he will rate alongside of Marichal, Sanford, O'Dell and maybe even ahead of Pierce, who could be the fifth regular. Should McCormick hit his old time pitching stride, you'd have to admit the Giants would have a rather fancy aggregation. And this layout doesn't take into consideration fellows like Don Larsen, Jim Duffalo, Dick Le May, Gaylord Perry and Bob Garibaldi who either goes to work regularly next year in the National League or some other Giant farm close to home.

Garibaldi, no doubt, gathered a lot of valuable information and experience on National League hitters while raising a crop of corn on the seat of his trousers since last July. But that was part of the deal, which at the time it was made, was hailed as $150,000 but which since has been pretty well agreed upon as having cost $220,000. With that kind of an outlay it isn't at all likely that the Giants won't use everything in their power to make Garibaldi a regular.

TWO OLD STANDBYS, Stu Miller, the butterfly righthander and Ed Bailey, catcher, are likely trading bait in the Giant youth movement.

Stu was sensational in 1961 but hadn't his pinpoint control in 1962 and at least is eligible for a shift in scenery.

Bailey, until the rapid development of Tom Haller, was considered one of the best hitting catchers in the National League. He has slowed up, hasn't been throwing well, and his age is a moving factor in sending him to greener pastures.

READY FOR WORKOUT — Dick Tiger gets head gear adjusted by trainer Jimmy August before a couple of sparring rounds yesterday in preparation for his world title fight with champion Gene Fullmer in San Francisco next Tuesday night. (AP Wirephoto)

Tiger Predicts Title Bout Will Go 15 And He'll Win It

Challenger Dick Tiger predicted today that he'll lift Gene Fullmer's middleweight boxing title but added he expects the bout will go the full 15 rounds at Candlestick Park next Tuesday.

The hard socking 160-pounder from Nigeria said, "Fullmer is strong and I'm strong. I think the fight will go the 15 rounds, but if I'm lucky, I'll knock him out."

Tiger has been installed as a slight favorite in San Francisco, a fact which makes little impression on him. He says, "It's up to the public to decide the odds. Maybe they like me and think I'm good. I don't pay any attention to the odds. I just go in and fight for me."

He's also campaigning hard to take back the second world title for Nigeria. Former featherweight champion Hogan "Kid" Bassey was the first.

Tiger maintains the three postponements of the title fight haven't bothered him, but his manager, Jersey Jones, wasn't too happy when he said, "He's at his peak right now. It's up to us to keep him there."

"He's a socker with both hands," said sparring partner Willie Turner after yesterday's three-round session. "He hits equally hard to the head and body . . . toughest fellow I've ever been in with."

Tiger's build resembles a heavyweight from the waist up and a featherweight's from the waist down. With his big arms and shoulders plus quick hands he generates a powerful yet speedy attack.

Red Admits Packers Are Pretty Fair

Coach Red Hickey continued to laud his San Francisco 49ers today, but did pause long enough to admit that Green Bay was a tough team, too.

San Francisco, now 3-2 in the NFL, would like to scramble the Western Division race Sunday by upsetting the mighty Packers, who are 5-0.

Hickey, who says his team is in the best shape it's been all year, called yesterday's drill "one of our best workouts of the season."

But asked how he planned to crack the tough Packer defense, he admitted it presented a problem. Green Bay has surrendered only two touchdowns this year and has won 11 games in a row.

"Go to a ground game and it is a mighty tough job to gain on them — then figure on a passing game and see what you are up against," Hickey commented.

The Packers have picked off an average of four of five passes per game and speedsters such as Herb Adderly and Willie Woods have been lugging back stolen aerials for big yardage.

Last Night's Fights

VIENNA—Emile Griffith, 149¼, New York, outpointed Teddy Wright, 153¼, Detroit, 15—billed for world junior middleweight title; Ray Robinson, New York knocked out Diego Ifantes, Spain, 2, (weights unavailable).

Parade Slated In S.F. For Warriors Instead Of Giants

Citizens of San Francisco, frustrated in their plans to stage a parade in honor of the Giants, will have one tomorrow morning for the San Francisco Warriors.

The Warriors will be making their first start of the National Basketball Assn. season on Tuesday when they meet the Detroit Pistons at the Cow Palace.

Tuesday's parade will start at the Ferry Building and roll up Market Street to city hall, where the team will be officially welcomed by acting Mayor Harold S. Dobbs.

Pvt. Meschery Breaks Left Arm

FORT JACKSON, S.C., (UPI)—Tom Meschery, a forward for the San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Assn., fractured his left arm Monday night in a regimental basketball game.

Meschery, a private scheduled to be released from the Army next week after a six-month tour of duty, will not be able to see action with the warriors for six weeks.

HORNUNG TO MISS 49ER GAME SUNDAY

GREENBAY, Wis. (UPI) — Green Bay Packer star halfback Paul Hornung will not start against the San Francisco 49ers Sunday, Coach Vince Lombardi said today, after Hornung's injured right knee failed to respond adequately to treatment this week.

Lombardi said, however, Hornung "possibly" would be used for kicking chores. The National Football League's scoring leader received a "badly bruised" knee in the first period of play against the Minnesota Vikings Sunday.

Seals Beaten By Portland Icemen

PORTLAND (AP)—San Francisco's Seals fell 3-1 last night to a more aggressive Portland team in a Western Hockey League game.

The Buckaroos notched two goals in the opening period—all they needed—and a final tally in the second period. The Seals came closest with a brief tie in the first period when Len Haley pushed the puck past goalie Don Head who was screened by his own defenders.

WORLD SERIES AFTERMATH

Yankees' Terry Celebrates Triumph On A Golf Course

By FRANK ECK

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)—What does a World Series hero do 24 hours after he has pitched the greatest game of his life? Well, if he's Ralph Terry and can play golf he goes out on the golf course.

That's just made the 26-year-old pitching star of the World Champion New York Yankees did yesterday despite having gone without sleep after his series clinching 1-0 victory over the San Francisco Giants on Tuesday.

Terry and 11 other Yankees arrived in New York early yesterday morning after a 3,000-mile jet flight from San Francisco.

"We sang all the way home," said the jubilant right-hander who won 23 games this season, plus two series games out of the last three played.

At three o'clock yesterday, 24 hours after Terry had four-hit the National League champions at Candlestick Park, he was at the Metropolis Country Club.

After the first two holes, Terry said:

"I'm having almost as much trouble with this game as I had against the Giants. Tuesday I relied on my fast ball and fact breaking slider. Now I've got a bigger hook but it's no good for golf."

Terry's first tee shot hooked into grounds under repair for a free lift. His second tee shot hooked under some huge willow trees.

But from the third hole on Terry settled down. He had a birdie three on the 408-yard par 4 third and got six more pars.

"It will take me two weeks to get back on my game," Terry said. "I'm glad it didn't take me that long to warm up in San Francisco. At least I'm hitting the ball good."

"I had planned to fly home to Larned, Kan., to see our new baby boy (Frank Gabe Terry, born Oct. 6) but I flew to New York instead to pick up the sports car I won," said Terry. "I'm hoping Tanya, my wife, will receive doctor's permission to join me here this week end. Tanya has been living with her parents and I'm sure they can handle the formula for a few days."

Terry was surprised to learn that he made only 103 pitches in his 1-0 shutout. He also was astonished to learn that only once did he throw two nonstrikes in succession.

"At times it seemed like I was out there pitching for a week, especially to Jim Davenport," Terry said. Davenport fouled off eight pitches in the third inning and four in the sixth. Terry had fanned Davenport four times previously in the series.

"I guess the two balls in a row came in the ninth to Willie Mays," Terry said. "They were inside. Then I put a fast ball outside and Mays doubled to right.

"I was in a daze on the mound when the finish came on that line drive to Bobby Richardson. I was never so happy and relieved in my life."

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
IJ Fish and Game Writer

STEVENS

The phone rang; I lifted the receiver. A very pleasant feminine voice said: "You were right, Mr. Stevens, when you wrote that the storms might send some nice bass upstream to the back country." I waited. The voice continued: "I can vouch for it. I caught my largest fish Sunday morning after the rains." There was suppressed excitement in the voice. "Maybe it wasn't the largest fish ever caught, but it was the largest I ever caught. I caught two, really. One was a nice seven-pounder and the other weighed 16 pounds 4 ounces. My, what a time I had with it!"

The lady, Jo-Ann Salazar of San Leandro, told me she only fished for two hours when the winds came up and forced her in. She used, as always, sardine heads and fished on the flats near Buoy 19 in the San Joaquin. Congratulations, Jo-Anne!

THE WINDS came up Sunday afternoon in the back country; ditto in the San Pablo Bay. Monday was very windy, as most of you know, and Tuesday it was blowing a young gale. Hence very few boats, small or large, have gone out. The water is badly colored all over and trolling slackened off in the lower areas of the Bay region. But bait fishing?

An amazing number of dedicated anglers braved the storms of Thursday, Friday and Saturday — mostly in private cruisers or large party boats— and an amazing number of fish, mostly lunkers, were taken. Not limits, understand, but some big fellows to 20 pounds.

Prior to the rains, fishing in the upper San Pablo Bay—Contra Costa side—was about the best of the year to date, and there were indications of the Marin Side starting to come to life.

ON SUNDAY, which was a nice day in the morning, not many anglers showed up for party boat trips and very few for skiffs. But the few hardy souls who did buck the elements brought in some mighty fine fish, most of which were caught on bullheads. For example: Carl Bennett of the Rodeo Marina reported the Kathy M with but two anglers aboard, had four fish to 10 pounds; the Poseidon netted two limits to 10 pounds, and the Bluefish had three to 14 pounds. The top fish was a 20-pounder taken from a skiff on a bullhead.

Sunday, Nadine Lessley of Dowrelio's Crockett Harbor reported the Dowrelio No. 5, which fished only in the afternoon, came in with five bass to 19 pounds, and the Happy Days had eight stripers including one of 16 pounds and one of 16½ pounds. Three private boats did very well. D. H. Poor brought in eight bass to 15 pounds; Frank Lew also had eight with two 13-pounders and one 19¾-pounder, and Harold Feldman unloaded two limits to 18½ pounds.

ON MONDAY, the Millie Linn had five fish to eight pounds, the Sunfish netted nine to 16 pounds, the Jackpot also had nine bass with the top fish 15 pounds, while the No. 6 boat with a short load took three stripers to 17 pounds.

Belated congratulations to Cappy Ortleib (Cappy is short for Catherine) who, using a 12-pound test line, fought and won a battle with a salmon that weighed in at 47 pounds. Took the little lady ("Cappy" only weighs 105 pounds) 45 thrill-packed minutes to bring the Chinook in.

San Rafael "C" Cagers Win Again

The San Rafael High School "C" basketballers remained undefeated in the Marin Athletic League with a smashing 52-31 victory over Redwood High Tuesday.

High man (again) for the Bulldogs was Bill Pandiani with 12 points. He was trailed by teammates Paul Schmidt, eight, and Rich Miller, seven.

In other "C" basketball action, Marin Catholic edged Terra Linda, 17-15. High man for Marin Catholic was John Bruemmer with eight points. Bob La Blanc and Mike McGinnis of the Trojans each collected four points.

Drake "C" cagers took a narrow 27-26 decision from Novato. High for the Pirate were Robert Stout and Paul Dickson, each with eight points. High for Novato was Joe Ronnson with eight, trailed by Bob Hollifield with six points.

Mrs. Gordon Baker Wins Golf Tourney

Mrs. Gordon J. Baker shot a 35 Tuesday to win the best-nine golf tournament at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club.

Second was Mrs. Tyler W. Seeley with 36, followed by Mrs. Toby Perry, 37, and Mrs. Donald N. Fox, 40.

Mantle, Robinson Win Slugging Crowns

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees won his fourth American League slugging crown and Frank Robinson of Cincinnati captured his third straight National League title in 1962, final figures compiled by The Associated Press showed today.

Last year, the two also won slugging championships which are based on total bases accumulated on all hits and official times at bat.

Mantle slugged .605 the past season. In 377 at bats, he collected 121 hits including 15 doubles, one triple and 30 home runs for 228 total bases. The switch-hitting center fielder had a .687 mark in 1961. He also led in 1955 and 1956.

Robinson produced 380 total bases in 609 trips for a .624 average. Among 208 safeties, he had 51 doubles, two triples and 39 homers. Robinson finished on top in 1960 with a .596 mark and in 1961 with .613.

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee was runner-up to Robinson in 1962 with .618. The Braves' outfielder piled up 366 total bases in 592 times at bat, getting 28 doubles, six triples and 45 home runs among 191 hits. He won the senior circuit slugging title in 1959.

Willie Mays of San Francisco, the league's home run king with 49, was third in slugging with .615. He also had 36 doubles and five triples among the 189 hits in 621 at bats. Willie, two-time slugging champ, compiled the most total bases in the majors, .382.

Frank Howard of the Los Angeles Dodgers was fourth at .560 followed by teammate Tommy Davis, .535, Don Demeter, Philadelphia .520 and Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco, .518.

Al Kaline finished second in the American League with a .593 mark. The Detroit outfielder had 236 total bases in 398 times at bat.

Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota, the circuit's home run champion with 48, was third in the slugging competition with .546. Then came Lu Clinton of Boston .540, Rocky Colavito, Detroit .514, Norm Cash, Detroit .513 and Bob Allison, Minnesota .509.

Try Norge Dry Cleaning
★ Don't be confused about self-service dry cleaning systems. There are many. Norge uses a double-bath, 16-minute cleaning cycle which gets garments CLEANER, and a low temperature (145°) drying cycle which SETS NO WRINKLES, plus a five minute airing cycle to counteract solvent odors. Most Speed-up, self-service systems use only single-bath cleaning, much higher drying temperatures, and considerably shorter airing cycles after drying.
★ Norge maintains that our overall cleaning cycle of 45 minutes actually DOES get clothes cleaner and is less harmful to fabrics. Remember, each load is cleaned in freshly filtered Norg-Clor solvent, highest-priced solvent used in the dry cleaning industry. So do your shopping while we clean your clothing or drapes, and pick them up on your way home! Only 2.00 for an 8-lb. load.

MARIN PROP WASH

By ELEANOR FREEMAN

Take Heed To This Advice, All You Basement Mechanics

Are you one of the many invincible basement mechanics? The all-knowing Dr. Kildaire, internist of the outboard motor? If you are, it's likely you'll diagnose your bronchially afflicted motor as the victim of bum points or dirty spark plugs.

Yet Bill Haskell of Western Boat Shop says, "I've never yet seen a set of points the reason for a motor refusing to start, or for it running badly."

The owner of an eight-cylinder car knows there is one set of points. And this is a vehicle he probably uses every day in the year. Yet a two-cylinder outboard has one set of points for each cylinder, and the V-series has one set for each 2 cylinders. The boater's motor is used possibly no more than four to six hours a week in boating season, and not at all in winter. So why blame points?

THE FELLOW who persists in his mad idea will somehow manage to get the fly wheel off. For accurate point setting, he should have a timing fixture and breaker point continuity. Maybe he just has a feeler gage which he wipes on his greasy overalls. And grease being so good for all mechanical ailments, he jams some between the points before setting them at recommended gap.

It's right tricky getting the fly wheel on again. Because he doesn't have the proper holding device, he calls the wife or kids. Then with bull-finesse he tightens the nuts to ??? pounds, never realizing that the fly wheel nut and each engine should be torqued to specification.

THE OUTBOARD spark plug is the prima-donna in the field. Never take them out just to fiddle with them. If you do need a replacement, wipe the hole clean where it seats. Put in a new washer and plug, torqueing it exactly 20 pounds. Cleaning a plug with abrasive may remove the porcelain gloss and cause it to foul. If you have a compulsion to twist, and turn it too tight, you can make a J6J plug out of a J4J.

"Generally speaking," says Bill, "it's better to have plugs installed. And then forget them. Their life expectancy is pretty good."

Any boater is out to save money where he can, and honest knowledge of your boat or motor is a good thing. But when you truly don't know what you're doing—just leave the cowl in place.

AH, SLUM-GULLION, thy name is Legion. Mrs. Ruth Larson of San Rafael writes, saying, " . . . it's good no matter what you do to it. Everyone fixes it a little different. Use small (or ½ of a large) clove of garlic finely chopped which adds to the taste." Also she adds one large can of tomatoes (solid pack) and one medium can mushrooms. She uses tomato juice to cut it if it's thick. In fact she takes a can aboard because macaroni absorbs the moisture and it becomes too dry. Mrs. Larson skims all grease from hamburger at home because, "often the sailors aboard get squeamish . . . and grease, well, you know—" She also takes along a small can of parmesan cheese for the ones who like it.

Last week's column carried the Slum-gullion recipe. Corrected spelling of the doner's name is Mrs. John Cadoux. Sorry!

THE PROPOSAL for a statewide pleasure boat registration fee—similar to the one paid by the car owner—has been revived. This week, at a hearing of the Small Craft Harbors Commission, the pros and cons had their say again. This proposal was rejected by the 1961 legislature. Proponents for the fee argue that such proceeds should be used for a state fund, from which loans and grants could be made for small craft harbor facilities.

QUESTION: What's likely to be the big boat topic for 1963, in terms of design? Do you think it will be the hydrofoil?

—Zip, Tiburon

ANSWER: It sure could be. Already, especially in Europe, there is much experimentation going on, and some production. This is a new marine concept that will probably improve all design. But he prepared for high cost for some time. Only over-all production will smooth that out.

Olympic Decision 'Rigged,' Says Bitter L.A. Official

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A man who tried unsuccessfully to bring the 1968 Olympic Games to Los Angeles says of the U.S. Olympic Committee's decision to promote Detroit:

"We are convinced that the vote (in Chicago Tuesday) was in violation of the USOC's own constitution and bylaws; that it was rigged for Detroit from the beginning."

Bill Nicholas, general manager of the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, made the comment upon his return from Chicago yesterday. He had criticism also for the makeup of the USOC. Nicholas told a newsman:

"The United States Olympic Committee was constituted by an action of Congress and it's about time somebody in Washington did something about its membership being equally distributed both geographically and between the AAU and the NCAA."

Nicholas reported that of the 34 directors, 22 come from the Atlantic Coast while only one represents the Western Seaboard.

Nichalos said he shares the opinion of John J. Garland, Southern member of the International Olympic Committee, that the USOC doesn't want the games to come to the United States. He said a member of the international committee indicated as much.

"I was never so surprised in my life," he said, "as when Douglas Roby (a member of the international committee) came by with Tug Wilson, president of the USOC, and said: 'Don't feel badly. The 1968 games are not going to the United States anyway.'"

Indian Valley Golf Tourney Underway

Mrs. William May defeated Mrs. Lynn Sumpter, 7 and 6, in the first round of the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club championships Tuesday. The second round of the tourney will be played next Tuesday.

Results were:

Championship flight — Mrs. Roger Williams def. Mrs. Jerry Evans, 2 and 1; Mrs. Roy Sayles def. Mrs. John Gaylord, by default; Mrs. W. B. Bevans def. Mrs. William Sparrow, by default.

MEMORIES OF THE WORLD SERIES

Ask A Silly Question And...

By OSCAR FRALEY

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Like the man says, you ask a silly question and you get a silly answer, and among the top memories today of the World Series are some that fit into the all-time category for witless wisdom.

Like, now, when the defeated Giants were sitting in their locker room after losing the seventh game and feeling lower than a snake's waistcoast.

They had given it everything they had, putting the tying run on third and the winning run on second in the bottom of the ninth.

But, it ended up, as you know, 1-0.

So this gent standing in the crowd around Alvin Dark, the Giant manager, asks him one that has to win the nudnick award for the series, to whit:

"Did you ever see a closer final game?"

Considering the razor-edge difference, of which you can get no closer in baseball under the current rules, it was a gasser and maybe Dark just passed it over as a cag. Or, even better, maybe he didn't hear it and thus has a slightly higher opinion of the intelligence of us typewriter termites.

There was another one in this series, too, back in Yankee stadium just before the fifth game which closed out the New York action. Ralph Houk, the Yankee manager, was sitting on the bench when a prime candidate for nothing began questioning him concerning the impending contest in which the Yanks again were to face Jack Sanford, their second game conqueror.

"Do you," quoth the interviewer in dead seriousness, "think you can beat him?"

Houk's eyes opened wide and he almost swallowed his chew of tobacco. Then he leaned over, juiced the walkway, and in deadly earnest replied:

"Yes, I think so. If I didn't, I probably wouldn't have shown up."

But for the gem of all time in this department, you have to go back to the 1956 series when Casey Stengel still was at the helm of the Yankees.

The Bronx Bombers that year were involved in a tiff with the Dodgers and what happens but Don Larsen goes out and pitches the first and only perfect game in World Series history. That means, in case you understand baseball as little as this member of the press box intelligencia, that he didn't let a man get on first base. Not a hit nor nary a walk, which is the creme de la creme of the baseball chucking industry.

Now they all were in the locker room celebrating this feat of deathless derring do and up walks one of the press coop crew to Stengel.

"Casey," he asked in a moment of silence, "did you ever see Larsen pitch a better game!"

"No," Casey said with staggering solemnity, "not lately."

And you think fighters are punchy?

Stinson Beach Bolinas Plan For Halloween

Stinson Beach and Bolinas will hold separate Halloween parties this year, for fifth through eighth grade pupils at Bolinas Community Center and for pre-school children through fourth graders at Stinson Beach Community Center.

A magician will be part of the entertainment which begins at 7:30 p.m. at Stinson Beach. Prizes will be awarded for best costumes. The Stinson Beach Parent-Teacher Club is sponsoring, according to Mrs. Yvonne Gilman, president.

Bolinas festivities begin at 7 p.m., according to Mrs. Mildred Haraldsen, president of the sponsoring Bolinas parents club. Six costume prizes will be awarded and refreshments served.

The two clubs will meet jointly at 8 p.m., Nov. 1 at Bolinas School.

No Type Two Polio Doses Until Nov. 4

No type two Sabin polio vaccine will be given in Marin until county-wide clinics at the second K.O. Polio Sunday on Nov. 4.

This was decided yesterday at a meeting of Marin Medical Society's K.O. Polio Committee.

Dr. Eugene P. Shatkin, head of the committee, pointed out that anyone who has not had type one Sabin vaccine can start the series with type two, following up with type three and then type one. The order in which they are taken does not matter, he said.

Five Houses For Sale On Wade Thomas Land

Bids to buy five houses on Wade Thomas School property in San Anselmo will be opened Nov. 13 by San Anselmo School District trustees.

Trustees last night adjourned to Nov. 13 for the bid opening. The houses, which must be removed so additions to the school can be built, include three 850 square foot houses at 125, 127 and 129 Woodland Avenue, and two larger homes, one on Kensington Road between Ross and Woodland avenues, the other at the corner of Kensington Road and Ross Avenue. Bid instructions are available at the school district office.

Faith Walrath at the University of South Dakota and Carolyn Lavender became a Theta on the Colorado State College campus.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA chapters on three campuses selected Marin girls—Sheryl Reynolds at the University of Colorado, Nickie McDonnell at University of Idaho and Kristin Frerichs at University of Wyoming.

Joining the Gamma Phi Beta pledge class on the Rollins College campus in Florida was Jan Lunde.

Marin Women

Girls Prefer Uniforms For School Wear

Girls enrolled in Roman Catholic high schools overwhelmingly favor the wearing of school uniforms instead of attire of their own choosing, according to a survey made by a nun.

Sister Marie William, writing in The Catholic Educator, reported on a survey of student expenditures in diocesan high schools in Indianapolis and Vincinnes, Ind.; Chicago and Joliet, Ill.; Chelsea and Malden, Mass., and Washington, D.C.

In the article, entitled "Ask the Lass Who Wears One," Sister Marie William said the girls found that uniforms were more economical, saved the time and trouble of deciding what to wear each day, lessened the inequalities of family economics, provided apparel both attractive and easy to maintain and made both the individual and the group appear well groomed.

The minority who did not like uniforms were bored with wearing the same thing every day and felt they were prevented from self-expression through clothes. (UPD

High School Red Cross Lists Officers

The high school Red Cross county council announces its newly elected officers for 1962-63 are: Paula Hauser, chairman; Peter Del Tredici, vice chairman; Alexa Shanley, secretary; Mike Patterson, treasurer; Barbara Cass, publicity, and Mike Boss, enrollment chairman.

The Council is composed of representatives from Dominican, Novato High, San Rafael High, Terra Linda, Tomales, Drake, Tamalpais, Marin Catholic and San Rafael Military Academy. They help in planning the program for high school Red Cross and act as liaison between the chapter and the schools.

College student advisors are Judy Boss, Richard Del Tredici and Julie Malet.

Many Friends Give Surprise House Warming In Novato

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

A surprise housewarming was given Saturday night for Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Clausing, who recently moved into a beautiful new home on Novato Boulevard, Novato. So that the Clausings would be at home Lennie and Charles Johnson came early ostensibly to play bridge then the other friends arrived, 27 couples from San Rafael and Novato, bringing refreshments and food for a midnight supper.

CRADLE NEWS. Mr. and Mrs. Barth Albert Easton (Linda Rosenblum) of San Francisco are receiving congratulations on the arrival of another daughter, Cynthia Brooke Easton. The baby was born Oct. 13 at Mt. Zion Hospital and weighed six pounds, 10 ounces. She has a three year old sister, Jennifer. Grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Harold Rosenblum of Sausalito and Mrs. Arthur Easton of San Francisco.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT A. DAVIES of Belvedere left Tuesday for a three weeks' vacation. They are going to Hollywood, Fla., with stops in Harrington, Kans., Beaumont, Texas, Lake Charles, La., and Saint Petersburg, Fla.

MRS. PETER C. LAMBERT of Sausalito rode her husband's thoroughbred, Dunvegas, in the opening ride of the Los Altos Hunt yesterday. The hunt was to have been held Sunday but was postponed because of the storm and soggy ground. However the hunt breakfast took place Sunday, as scheduled at the Woodside home of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Harris Jr. Doctor Harris is joint master of the hunt. The Lamberts attended the breakfast and there was much talk about the Hunt Ball to be staged at the Burlingame Club Dec. 7.

Mrs. Lambert's horse, Kalamia, which she bought in Canada two years ago, is a hunter jumper. She rides it in most of the hunts and it was entered in the Summer Horse Show at Pebble Beach. She is training four-year-old Dunvegas to take the jumps. The two horses are stabled at the Flying Y Ranch in the Mill Valley hills. The Los Altos rides are held every Sunday and Wednesday through February. Dr. Robert C. Lawson of Petaluma, the other joint master, will host a breakfast after the group hunts at the Lawson ranch Oct. 28. Sunday the hunt will take place on the Piers ranch in Portola Valley. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wheeler Jr. will serve Bloody Marys. Mrs. Wheeler is an honorary whipper-in of the hunts. The Los Altos Hunt was organized in 1952 and has about a hundred members.

MICHAEL LEIBERT of Belvedere, son of Grant Leibert and Mrs. William A. Atchley and nephew of Edmund T. (Ned) Leibert has achieved his objective. He has the leading role in Harold Pinter's new play, "The Collection," which opens off-Broadway in New York about Nov. 15. Mike, a graduate of Whitman College in Walla Walla, Wash., received a scholarship to Stanford University. He has long been a drama student and was given leading roles in many college productions. He gave up the opportunity of traveling in Europe last summer with his father and brothers to stay in New York and meet play producers. "The Collection" is directed by Alan Schneider.

MR. AND MRS. ROBIN McCREA returned recently from Oregon. They went north with their son, Don, who attends the University of Portland. While the McCreas were away their home on the Belvedere Lagoon was occupied by Edward Best of London, England.

MRS. RICHARD FIRESTONE'S home in Mill Valley will be the locale for the meeting of San Francisco Junior Alumnae of Sigma Phi Nov. 13. The members will make Christmas favors for the children at San Francisco General Hospital.

Gray Ladies To Assist Nurse In Schools' Pilot Project

The Reed Union School District and the Marin Chapter American Red Cross are cooperating to introduce something new in health services into schools.

As a pilot project, Gray Ladies will soon be assisting the district nurse, Mrs. Katherine De Brecht, with such duties as eye and ear tests, minor first aid care and the preparation and interpretation of health resource material, announced Mrs. Donald L. Bittner, chairman of volunteers for the Red Cross chapter.

The school project is not necessarily limited to mothers of school children. Any woman interested in this service will be welcomed, Mrs. Bittner said.

It is estimated that Gray Ladies will serve six hours a month or two hours every other week. An intensive training course will prepare the volunteers, including a course in first aid, home care of the sick and injured and orientation. Persons who have passed the standard first aid course during the past three years will not be required to take it again.

Mrs. Bittner said that the project will first open at Belvedere and Reed Schools with the remaining district schools staffed later.

Mrs. George Goddard of Belvedere will coordinate the Reed program.

Carnival Rescheduled

The "Cowboy Carnival" sponsored by the Olive School Parent-Teacher Assn. in Novato was cancelled last Saturday because of weather. The event will take place this Saturday, weather permitting.

The carnival will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the school grounds.

PERFECT AUTUMN AFTERNOON

The patio of the Jason Widmer home in San Rafael was the setting for yesterday afternoon's luncheon and card party for the Fairhills Unit of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum. In the foreground hostess Mrs. Widmer, right, serves Mrs. F. D. Wells. The Unit also staged a simultaneous event at the Fairhills home of Mrs. William Sichel. Proceeds from the benefits will go to the museum science program. (Independent-Journal photo)

Center Will Sponsor Premiere

A new idea in an accustomed setting will make its debut at the Barn, Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross, when the entire proceeds of the Opening Night performance of "Harvey" on Oct. 25 at 8:30 p.m., will be donated to the Center.

This is the first time the Board of Directors of the Center have sponsored a specific benefit of one of its member organizations. Mrs. Norman B. Livermore, president, has appointed Mrs. Arthur W. Feidler chairman of ticket sales. Tickets are available to the public at the Center's Octagon House office. Proceeds will be used for Center maintenance.

Assisting Mrs. Feidler are Mesdames John E. Kirkpatrick, J. Harrell Canon, Douglas Pease, George B. Geramoni, Ralph Alden, Norman O. Schwien, all of Marin, and Mrs. Hammond E. Wright of San Francisco.

Fewer Districts

This year the number of school systems in operation again took a drop, as the move continued to consolidated school districts in place of smaller districts.

Club Honors Past Presidents

Mill Valley's Mount Carmel Women's Club honored eight of its past presidents when it celebrated its 19th birthday recently following its meeting held at the Mount Carmel School.

Past presidents honored were Mesdames Frances Rilla, Edward Hinde, Gerald Misner, Alberta Eberhart, Joseph Penders, Angelone Perone, J. J. Rasella and John Larson.

During the meeting plans were discussed for a Roaring 20's party to be held early next year.

Welcomed as new members were Mesdames Arthur Figan, Kenneth Kay, R. P. Heil and John Bluth.

Case Of Two-Faced Cezanne

THE TWO FACED Cezanne at the St. Louis City Art Museum is the reason for a special guard posted close to the swivel black frame—he's to check that museum goers don't swivel the painting front-to-back too vigorously to look at the newest oddity of the art world. It's Cezanne's painting of "The Artists' Sister," left, and the newly discovered "The Peasant Model" on the canvas' reverse side. (UPI Telephoto)

There's a special guard posted close by a black wooden "swivel frame" at the City Art Museum in St. Louis, Mo.

He's there to make sure museum-goers don't twirl the frame too vigorously for a look at the newest oddity of the world of art—back to back paintings by the French Post-Impressionist master Paul Cezanne.

The twin portraits, painted on both sides of a single piece of canvas, are nearly 100 years old. But no one except the late artist knew about one of them until a gang of art thieves helped make artistiic history by accident.

THE MUSEUM has owned the paintings since 1934, when it bought a portrait entitled 'Tante Marie" for $7,500. The painting of a woman's head was later renamed "The Artist's Sister" and was valued at $150,000.

Then, last year, the museum shipped "Tante Marie" to Cezanne's home town of Aix-en-Provence in France for a special exhibition. The loan was almost a disaster. Art thieves spirited off eight of the Cezannes last August and "Tante Marie" was one of them.

Dickering with the underworld rescued the painting. "Tante Marie" and the others were found in an abandoned stolen automobile in Marseilles. The St. Louis painting was unharmed, but it had been banged up a bit.

Museum director Charles Nagel sent the painting to James Roth, conservator of the William Rochill Nelson Gallery of Art at Kansas City for relining.

Museum curator Thomas Hoopes got the next word of "Tante Marie."

He was hard at work in the museum when Roth telephoned him.

"Would you settle for two for the price of one?" Roth asked.

"I knew right away what he meant," Hoopes said.

Roth had set out to put an extra backing of canvas on the painting. He carefully peeled away the old lining by removing strips that were gently cut and torn away.

Roth found an unusually large deposit of glue, about one-eighth inch thick, which had held the back of the painting to the canvas lining. He softened the glue with wet packs and then removed the glue deposit ever so carefully, using tweezers.

Instead of the usual brown canvas backside of the painting, Roth noticed flecks of dark green paint. Then the head of a woman gradually emerged, yellowed with old varnish.

Roth was able to remove the old liner and glue and there was a second painting by Cezanne on the other side.

Hoopes told Roth not to replace the lining, but to send the two-sided painting back. The museum values the second painting, that of a woman's head with a kerchief knotted around the neck, at $75,000.

"It must have been a practice painting," Hoopes said. "Artists practice on canvas just like a pianist when he exercises his fingers."

At present, Nagel said, the two-sided paintings are in excellent condition.

"And we have a guard to flip the frame," Hoopes said. "We got the guard mainly to prevent children from coming in to see the frame spin on its pedestal." (UPI)

FACE AND FIGURE

Keeping Mind On Your Hands Helps Create Shapely Nails

When a girl first begins biting her nails, she usually starts with a few abstracted nibbles and ends up with a compulsion to gnaw each tip down to the quick. Once she develops the habit her nails are not allowed to show a fraction's worth of growth beyond the point where they're attached. And her fingers, no matter how slender or shapely they may be, appear stubby and abused.

Although every girl who bites her nails claims she's trying to stop, some only discover the formula when they receive engagement rings—and are suddenly overwhelmed by an urge to display them on fingers that are fully extended, not clenched into nail-hiding fists.

What's the formula? To become aware of your hands. This is a rule that could apply strongly to teen-agers who aren't looking forward to early engagements.

Point One: Learn to keep your mind on your hands by paying a lot of attention to them. Begin by using a hand lotion as often as three or four times a day or whenever your hands have been in soap and water.

Hint: Run a touch of lotion around your cuticles and press them gently down with a towel. This could be your first constructive step in arriving at an almond-shaped set of nails.

Point Two: Focus on your fingernails. Use a buffer briskly and daily to give them a soft shine and stimulate circulation at their growing point. A week later, you should be able to see some slight but rewarding signs of development. In two weeks you'll be ready for polish.

Point Three: As soon as your nails are long enough to show themselves above the tips of your fingers, tint them with polish—anything from shell pink to fire-engine red, depending on your taste and whim. Do this, and you'll discover that they're much too pretty to eat.

Hospital Greets New Volunteers

The Junior Volunteers at San Rafael General Hospital are welcoming four new members, announced Mrs. Lawrence McNear, director of volunteers.

They are Chris Nicholson, Mary Jane Terry and Patricia Dethlefsen, of San Rafael, and Carol Buoy of Bolinas. All are students at San Rafael High School.

The girls have completed their orientation and are now in training. After four training sessions, they will join the other high school students who serve as junior volunteers. They work after school on weekdays from 4 to 6 p.m., taking over the duties of the senior volunteers who are scheduled on earlier shifts.

Jeanne Davis Engaged To Wed R. B. Paterson

The engagement of Jeanne L. Davis and Richard B. Paterson has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Davis of San Anselmo.

The bride-elect, who is the sister of Merrily Davis, is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Keiser of Glen Ellen. She was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended the College of Marin.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Paterson of San Rafael and the brother of Norman and John Paterson and Leslie Paterson of San Rafael.

He was graduated from San Rafael Military Academy and is attending the College of Marin.

Wedding plans are indefinite.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHMOND BARBOUR, Ph. D

Having Twins Means Twice The Fun, Some Special Problems

Do you have twins? Then you're lucky. You can have twice the fun of other parents. But also you have some special problems. Let's take a minute to look at your difficulties.

Dominant Twin. One problem is the way twins get along with each other. One of them is "dominant"—he's the boss. He blossoms quickly, but he squelches the other one. His brother or sister learns to be timid, quiet, afraid and may be hurt for life. A way to avoid harm is to separate the twins a good bit of the time. That's hard on you, I know. But your timid twin is a human in his own right. He needs to use his wings, too. When they're 4 or 5, start dressing them differently. If possible put the children in different classes at school. Twins' individuality is more important than most folks realize.

Shared Love. Another problem is their need for sharing your love. Each twin is born with a strong yen to monopolize you; each one wants all your love, time, attention. But you have to share yourself between them. It isn't easy. Be sure to spend quite a bit of time regularly alone with each twin, giving him all your attention then. Have your husband do the same. Be careful never to play favorites. Let each twin realize he is "your child," as certainly as if he were your only one.

Mental Differences. If you have identical twins they'll have equal minds. They'll learn things the same way, at the same speed and make the same mistakes. They'll be 7 or 8 before you begin to see any important differences. After that each one will tend increasingly to go his own way, which is as it should be. However, if your twins are not the identical type they won't be alike. They'll be different mentally right from the start. Be sure you don't make the mistake of expecting equal performances from them. Good luck!

Abandon Beat

Teen-age girls will abandon the beat look and don the neat look this fall and winter.

West opened the five of hearts, and he won in his hand with the nine. Even from his peculiar position he saw that he needed dummy's diamonds to make the contract.

NORMAL HUMAN

Now, a normal human being would lead a low diamond from the South hand and try a finesse with dummy's queen.

And this would land him squarely in the minus column.

Back would come a heart to dummy's ace, and South would have no diamonds, no game and no rubber.

YOGA PLAY

What has this to do with Yoga? Don't forget my friend was standing on his head. He found a different way to play the diamonds: he led a low diamond from dummy.

Poor East had K-x of diamonds and stepped up with the king for fear of losing it. He'd have to be a genius to do anything else.

(There are a dozen players in the country who would play a low diamond quickly and casually from the East hand, and there are a few hundred more who say they'd make this play.

NO PROBLEM

After East had played the king of diamonds South had no further problems.

What if East had held three diamonds instead of only two? Then South would have to lose two diamond tricks no matter how he played the suit.

What if West had the king of diamonds? South would take the normal diamond finesse later, and would lose nothing by his initial topsy-turvy play.

In short, my friend's play was perfectly correct.

Maybe it's a good way to write about bridge too!

Prop. 4 Would Cause More Problems, Not Aid Farmers

Proposition 4 has become one of the most controversial of the 25 propositions on your Nov. 6 ballot. It provides that after approval by city or county governments involved, an assessor would be required to appraise land used exclusively for farm purposes only as farm land, not at its best use.

The proposition is frankly aimed at keeping farms in operation close to the cities. In Marin County, and elsewhere, increased population growth has forced farm land out of production because it became too valuable. The farmer could no longer afford to keep it in farm production because of the taxes, because he decided to cash in on its increased value, or both.

So this proposition was devised to give him a tax break if he keeps his farm as a farm. If he sells it or changes it to something other than a farm, seven years of back taxes at its best use become due and payable.

Thus, say the proponents, no taxes will be lost.

We don't think so. We like the farmers and we'd like to help them all we can, particularly if it would keep food prices down. But this proposition isn't a general benefit to all farmers, only those immediately adjacent to cities. And there are many things about the proposition we don't like.

For example, a land speculator could buy up a large tract of land, say out around new Lake Nicasio. He could lease it to a farmer to run cattle on for 10 or 15 years. Meanwhile the whole county grows, the land becomes extremely valuable. When he's ready to sell or develop a subdivision, he pays seven years increased taxes — rather than 10 or 15.

This doesn't mean that just the best farm land stays in production. What land stays as a farm and what goes to subdivision depends on the farmer (as it should), not on the quality of the farm. Meanwhile, we're voting millions of dollars, billions even, to develop water facilities to open up new farming land. Some farm lands are going out of production, but more are coming into production. Each year our state farm production increases. We still have all kinds of farm surplus crops to pay for.

There is an argument that this will provide "green belts" around our cities. Green belts should be established with planning as to location, type of area, its usefulness and many other factors. The only factor here is the desire of a man to farm. When that desire is gone, the farm is gone, and so is the green belt.

There are so many more problems:

What about the way cities would be forced to leap-frog around in the worst kind of spot zoning at the whim of a farmer! What about the assessor's problems, like deciding what is 100 per cent use as a farm! Is a backyard garden agriculture? What about big land and oil companies with huge undeveloped oil deposits on which they now pay taxes; if Proposition 4 passes can they lease the surface to a farmer and have the whole affair assessed as agricultural land? Apparently so.

As much as we'd like to give the farmers a break, this certainly doesn't seem to be the way. We'd feel a little better about it if they had selected retired people to give this advantage to. Why not freeze the taxes of the old folks on their retirement homes, rather than keep on increasing their taxes as their property increases in value, that is, if you're going to give anyone special treatment.

Vote NO on Proposition 4.

PROPOSITION 11 is another measure which would give similar special tax consideration to owners of historical landmarks.

We're against such special assessment procedures.

Vote NO on Proposition 11.

Whether Legal Or Illegal, Madera Village Motel (Apartments) To Stay

The Karp Brothers of San Francisco grinned as they left Corte Madera Town Hall early Tuesday after a knuckle rapping.

Action of the town council guaranteed they soon could tenant the motel that grew into a high-density apartment house in an area zoned commercial north of the shopping center east of Highway 101. Commercial permits motels, bans apartments.

How they managed to build the thing where they did, with kitchens in each of 101 units, city fathers seem unable to explain.

PLANNING COMMISSIONER Harold B. Wagstaff told the council that whenever commissioners called it an apartment house, the Karps carped "and we retracted."

Wagstaff and commission chairman C. W. Thomas said numerous changes were made first and submitted later.

Town Mgr. Arthur M. Brandow feels it is a matter of opinion whether it could have been blocked under the old zoning ordinance. The law since has been changed to permit kitchens in only 40 per cent of such projects.

Whatever might have been, the Madera Village Motel, advertising it has unfurnished apartments, is nearly completed and bids to be around for a while.

Planning commissioners and councilmen have received many complaints from citizens over it.

WHEN THE KARPS pleaded Monday night that they had been harassed, Mayor Edward W. Colthurst began to defend the commission, but Phillip Karp cut in with new remarks.

Councilman Raymond De Young managed to say the council tried to protect 8,000 residents as well as developers. He was answering an unidentified man in the audience who shouted the council did not care whether builders lost money.

The Karps said changes cost them $100,000, denied they had "put one over on Corte Madera."

But when I asked Joseph Karp later about the charge that they had objected weeks ago to having the place called apartments, he walked away.

Earlier, as the meeting adjourned at about 12:05 a.m., he had come to where I sat and said, "What are you, a reporter? You're not going to print all that, are you?" I said I represented the same paper I'd served when he asked me the same question weeks ago — and though I couldn't get all the session printed, I'd report the gist of it.

BRANDOW TERMED the project "an illegal subdivision." Wagstaff said, "We feel we have been taken."

Councilman Charles F. Pendleton told the Karps, "You have broken faith by making changes without getting approval. The commission has been circumvented."

The knuckle rapping: The council returned a subdivision map to the planners because of parking deemed inadequate and instructed the building inspector not to permit electric and gas hookups to the final structure of the seven-building complex until parking and landscaping plans had been approved and accomplished.

THE COMPROMISE, if that is what the council action was, may be considered expressed by Colthurst's remark, "The buildings are an accomplished fact, whether they're called apartments or motel."

Planner Thomas voiced what sounded like the key objection: "The buildings are an accomplished fact — but not according to plans on file."

Phillip Karp said, "It is not true that we put a fast one over." He and his brother grinned as they left the hall.

Golden Crown Sparrow A Pest

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I am coming forward after reading your eulogy on the shy little Golden Crown Sparrow, to strongly differ on your opinion.

He surely does descend on us hapless gardeners the last of September and devours every young and tender plant and seedling from that time until, thank Heaven, he departs in April to the Aleutians for the summer.

Of all the garden pests we have to contend with, he is the worst. He cares not a whit for bright flashing objects, too smart to eat flowers with spray on them, and he arrives too late to do any good by destroying insects, so he feeds on the young tender plants you have set out, eats the stocks into nubs and violas are his salad. Destroys the seedling from your summer plants that has germinated, and winds up his glorious destructive spree by the crowning insults of completely demolishing your wisteria arbor of its beautiful lavender pea-like racemes before taking his departure in April.

The Golden Crown Sparrow is a thorough scamp and a bane to flower growers.

More Evidence About Drake

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your comment "All do not agree with Reader O'Brien" editorialized on facts presented in his letter which appeared Sept. 20 beneath your caption "Drake Didn't Do The Discovering."

In Chapter 5 of his book "California," published in 1940 by Prentice-Hall, Inc., John Walton Caughey, Professor of History, University of California at Los Angeles, states:

"In 1937 there was much excitement over the discovery of a plate of brass, provisionally identified as the one which Drake had affixed to a post . . . Upon this plate the experts have blown hot and cold but without demonstrating their unanimous expertness by coming to agreement.

"The discussion reveals the difficulty of dating such a document on the basis of vocabulary, spelling, punctuation, and formation of the letters, or even by metallurgical analysis.

"At the least, this plate of brass has given California history a cause celebre comparable to Minnesota's Kensington Stone and has occasioned the issuance by the California Historical Society of a pamphlet in which the essential sources on Drake and California are conveniently assembled.

"Where Drake anchored has been a much discussed question. The most probable solution is that offered by Henry Raup Wagner, in his definitive discussion of the voyage around the world, to the effect that Drake casually visited several other inlets north of Point Reyes and stopped at Trinidad and Bodega Bay, but that he did not go to Drake's Bay at all."

We Must Face Showdown On Berlin With Our Allies As Well As Reds

WASHINGTON — Following the German Foreign Minister, Dr. Schroeder, who is in Washington this week, Chancellor Adenauer will come on the day after our elections. That is the day when, so Nikita Khrushchev has told us, the pause will end, and he will thereafter reopen actively the Berlin question.

While we do not know just what or how he will do this, it is prudent to expect some action designed to affect the status quo in West Berlin.

Thus Dr. Adenauer and President Kennedy have important business to talk about.

WESTERN ACCESS and the presence of Western troops are the crucial positions from which we cannot and will not recede. There should be no misunderstanding about this in the Kremlin. President Kennedy cannot surrender Berlin even if he were the kind of man who wanted to. A surrender would destroy him.

It is the fringe problems, which include the degree of recognition given the East German state, that are negotiable.

The U.S.-U.S.S.R. conversations did not have the blessing of the German chancellor or of Gen. de Gaulle. Nevertheless they went on. About the month of May, something happened in Moscow which caused the Russians to brush aside the talks.

THE QUESTION is whether they can be resumed. That depends on the Soviet government. If they continue to insist that the only question is Western military withdrawal from Berlin, there will be a showdown. If they wish to negotiate about an arrangement which guarantees presence and access, the door will open wider and wider for larger explorations.

There is as yet, we must realize, no firm agreement between Washington and Bonn on either of the two great alternatives — a showdown or a negotiation.

While high officials and experts of the Western allies have drawn up comprehensive plans for dealing with the various possible actions by the Soviet government and the East Germans, these are as yet only plans. They are not the decisions of governments.

IF THE SITUATION of West Berlin is not stabilized as the cold war and the race of armaments become more intense, Berlin will become increasingly a supreme danger point for the outbreak of a thermonuclear war.

Despite the external prosperity of West Berlin, there are ominous signs that the constituted authorities, German and Allied alike, may be losing control of the crowd. The Berlin wall, we must remember, is manned on both sides by Germans, and there are in this situation the makings of a civil war into which we might all be sucked against our will.

Those who tell us to stand firm, to rebuff the Russians, and then do nothing, are playing with fire. We must hope that the Chancellor is as much aware of this as are an increasing number of his countrymen.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Republicans Make 'One Last Pitch' At Workers' Party On Nov. 2

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

Republican precinct workers and others in the organized ranks of the party will get together for "one last pitch" Nov. 2, just four days before the election. The 8 p. m. affair in Bermuda Palms, which is expected to attract from 400 to 500 persons, will have Joe Martin Jr., California national committeeman from San Francisco, as principal speaker.

But there is going to be much entertainment besides. Each club is going to produce a skit, some, we are told, are hilarious. And there are to be other organized nonsense just for fun.

Lee Sherry is in charge of precinct organization for the county, but Edwin Thomas of Terra Linda is overall chairman of the affair.

THE DEMOCRATS too will have a party workers' party just before the election, but details haven't been worked out yet, according to Demo HQ.

They're busy right now on the Carrow Fashion Show luncheon scheduled a week from Saturday also in Bermuda Palms. According to what we hear, Assembly candidate Robert D. Carrow, who will benefit from the party, will NOT be one of the models.

WITH THE FUNERAL for Rep. Clem Miller now past, GOP congressional candidate Don Clausen has quietly gone back to the campaign, although he will not appear anywhere that he and Miller were to have appeared together.

Some Republicans have been critical of Clausen for cancelling all of his appointments immediately following the death of Miller in an airplane crash. The GOP's First District executive committee has been criticized by individuals for going along with Clausen's wishes in this respect.

The committee meets Sunday in Santa Rosa to decide on strategy for the rest of the campaign.

THE MAN WHO edited and added additional text to Clem Miller's book, "Member Of The House," is John W. Maker, professor of political science at The College of Wooster, Wooster, Ohio.

He and his family are now living in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Parnell of Tiburon while the Parnells are in England.

SHORT ITEMS:

President Kennedy, who couldn't dedicate the Marin Civic Center because he was not coming to the West Coast, then came out immediately to dedicate a dam, will be out here again Oct. 26-27 to make a few "non-political" speeches and dedicate a new site (not a building) for the L. A. Music Center.

Frederic D. Kerr of Ross has been named chairman of a bipartisan committee in Marin to re-elect state treasurer Bert Betts.

Tally P. Mastrangelo is the chairman of the Sausalito Nixon For Governor Committee.

Maj. Gen. Oscar Jahnsen of Greenbrae is county chairman of the Republican Committee To Re-Elect Governor Brown.

10 YEARS AGO

Marin County's efforts toward construction of a San Rafael-Richmond bridge were opposed in Petaluma where $575 was raised toward an ultimate $2,500 fund favoring an earth-filled causeway with eight-lane highway and two rail lines, to be started by the end of 1953.

20 YEARS AGO

Matt Graham of San Anselmo was appointed a Golden Gate Bridge District director to fill the position of County Supervisor R. A. Thomson of Novato, unable to accept renomination due to court decision that this would constitute conflict of interest.

Enjoy the warmth of an evening fire, (or the daytime sunshine) in this 3-bedroom, 2-bath home; studio-guest cottage also on the property. Near shops; ocean view. Overlooks tennis courts, Bolinas.

Knotty Pine and Mahogany $26,600
An expert craftsman paneled the living, idning rooms, and master bedroom in mahogany, and the corner bedroom is finished in knotty pine, all low-care and attractive. Four bedrooms, 2 baths, large family kitchen. Secluded patio just outside kitchen and dining room. Landscaped; quiet street, view. San Anselmo.

Children's Delight $27,250
A playhouse and a sunken wading pool are included in this entirely-fenced garden, where a spreading tree shades the brick patio. 3 bedrooms, family room, 2 baths, and a separate enclosed garden is outside the glass walls of two of the bedrooms. Convenient Terra Linda location.

Four Bedrooms, Family Room $34,500

PRICED RIGHT BEAUTY
Beautiful, almost new; owners transferred, priced the home for quick sale to fortunate buyer. Wonderful large electric kitchen, tile counters, all built-ins, homemaker's desk. Large, sunny breakfast room; sewing closet, pantry. Full dining room, attractive entrance hall, living room out of traffic pattern; used brick hearth, mahogany paneling. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, upstairs. Family room with fireplace below, needs just minor finishing. Workshop and possible bedroom and bath also downstairs. Large closets; protected entrance, bay-spanning view. Greenbrae. $39,900.

Two Fireplaces $35,750
Fireplaces in both the living room (which has high beamed ceiling) and family room. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, deck. Carpets, drapes, view of the mountain, well-landscaped garden; automatic sprinkler system. Greenbrae.

Traditional Home—Spacious $45,000
Dominican area; splendid home, colonial design, large rooms. Dining room; kitchen includes a good-sized breakfast room with view out on to a secluded garden and barbecue patio, where redwoods provide a dramatic background, complete privacy. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, oversized double garage with workroom area.

Redwood Rustic—Oak-shaded $53,500
A handsome old oak, spreading and huge, shades the entrance to this attractive home. Cathedral-beamed ceiling in living room, startlingly beautiful view of the mountain. Formal dining room, breakfast room in kitchen; 3 bedrooms, 2½ baths, expandable space downstairs. Protected BBQ patio, flagstoned entrance. Kent Woodlands.

Ultra Modern $75,000
Extensive use of glass; Roman brick, well-chosen woods—all combine to produce an unusual and livable contemporary home. Wide view terrace, reached by sliding glass doors from every room, looks out on the bay, down to two bridges, the East Bay profile across the water. Swimming pool, dressing rooms, large well-landscaped lot, complete privacy. Bayside Acres.

Substantial Allowance Considered $79,500
Owners will make a generous allowance for completion of fourth bedroom adjacent to third bath in this handsome home. Situated on a magnificently landscaped acre in Country Club Heights, the house offers the ultimate in convenience, and indoor-outdoor living. Separate dining room, family room, electric kitchen. Good design, top quality.

Country Estate $82,500
Heavy-timbered construction, gracious five-bedroom home; 3½ baths. Separate servants' quarters. Heavy beamed ceiling in living room, marvelous all-electric kitchen with every possible built-in; two bars for convenient entertaining; one upstairs, one down, in the family room. Wooded acre, privacy.

'61 CADILLAC
4-Dr. DeVille
$4,195
Here's the cleanest Cad in town. We just took in trade on our new '63 Riviera. It's an all Arctic White 4-Dr. Sedan De Ville. It's fully equipped with power steering, brakes, seat and windows. But best of all it has only 11,000 MILES on it. There isn't a spot anywhere. It looks just like it came off the showroom floor. A Cadillac dealer would ask high blue book of $4605 for it, but we'll sell it for $4195 this weekend.

Marin Peace Officers Planning Quentin Tour

Marin County peace officers plan a tour Oct. 27 of the place where they have helped send miscreants.

Members of the Marin County Peace Officers Assn. will tour San Quentin Prison beginning at 6 p.m., announced Sgt. David L. McIntosh of Corte Madera police, program chairman. They'll have dinner in the inmates' mess hall at 7:30 p.m. and see a show by inmates in the auditorium from 9 to 10 p.m.

Mill Valley Retirement Funds Due From Firm

Occidental Life Insurance Co. is expected to turn Mill Valley retirement reserve funds over to the State of California about Oct. 25, Ben Hartwell, president of the Mill Valley City Employees Assn., reported to a meeting of the employees Tuesday night.

Hartwell said this was reported to him by Thomas Crocker, actuary for the California State Retirement System, who also said the firm has until Oct. 30 to turn over the funds.

"If occidental doesn't turn over the money," Hartwell said today, "we're going to hire an attorney and bring action against them."

The state plan was adopted in June by the city council and was to become effective Oct. 1 but was postponed pending transfer of funds.

Mill Valley Boys Enlist In Navy

Two 17-year-old Mill Valleyans enlisted in the Navy this week at the San Rafael Navy Recruiting Office at 1116 Fourth Street.

They are Kenneth Arthur Sexton, son of Mrs. Mary S. Sexton of 940 Vernal Avenue, and Patrick Lee Weatherwax, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Weatherwax of 330 Shoreline Highway. Sexton enlisted in the high school graduate training program; Weatherwax in the high school airman program.

Both were sent to San Diego for recruit training.

Back Teaching Again

Fabian Clancy of San Rafael has just returned from England where he received a master's degree in history from Cambridge University. He has resumed his teaching assignment at the Three-R School in San Rafael where he teaches history and English literature.

1963 Car Sales Seem To Be Headed For An All-Time Record For Some

Auto manufacturers measure off their sales in 10-day periods. National figures are now coming in for Oct. 1-10 for many of the first 1963 model showings.

Chevrolet has set the pace with sales of 68,000 passenger cars. The 1963 run seems to be headed for an all-time record of two million.

Chrysler Corp. reports sales for the first 10 days have been the highest since 1950. Plymouths are 53 per cent ahead of a year ago; Dodges 69 per cent.

American Motors reached an all-time high in Rambler sales for the period — 12,043 cars sold.

AN INFORMATIVE 30-page handbook on the three-year-old American Football League is available free of cost at Mercury dealers E. Bugna in San Rafael and Larry Brinks Motors, Mill Valley.

The booklet is specially designed for television viewers of the professional football games over the American Broadcasting TV network on Sunday afternoons and on Thanksgiving Day sponsored by Lincoln-Mercury Division of Ford Motor Co.

Lincoln-Mercury was 27 per cent above its previous high set last year.

LAURIE FELTON of Leon C. Felton Co. and his wife will attend dedication ceremonies of Volkswagen of America's new multi-million-dollar headquarters at Englewood Cliff, N. J., Saturday—also the three-day meeting of VW dealers in New York City. They'll sidetrip to Bermuda before coming home.

Volkswagen sales have continued to increase in the U.S. despite moderate showings of some other foreign cars. The millionth VW will soon be delivered to some American buyer.

Dr. Heinz Nordhoff, president of Volkswagenwerk—here for the dedication—says VW styling may be unchanged but "not one part of the car is the same as it was a few years ago."

NEW THREE-WHEEL TRUCK to be manufactured: "Trivan," a one-half ton vehicle designed by C. Harry Payne, developer of the World War II "jeep," weighs only 1,600 pounds and has a fibreglass cab. It is manufactured by the Roustabout Co. of Frackville, Pa.

Single rear wheel drive is said to give exceptional traction in any weather and it's claimed the car won't overturn.

Trivan has a 38-horsepower engine, three-speed transmission, cruises at 50-55 miles per hour and claims 35 miles per gallon of gas. Supplied as pickup or chassis and cab for any type body.

Will be sold through established dealerships.

NOTHING TO DO with automobiles, but it seems houses have options, too.

Reggie Waldon of Farrington Jones and Son, San Anselmo realtors, reports one ranch type home listing in Sleepy Hollow where the owner, for $1 more than the asking price, "will throw in his golden Palomino gelding 'Champagne' with saddle, bridle, blanket and pad." The place already has stables, corral, hay loft, feed room and tack room as "standard equipment." Price: $34,001. With the horse, that is.

Exile Says Cuba Ready To Fight Castro

By WILLIAM RYAN

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Elements in the Cuban militia and what is left of the old revolutionary 26th of July Movement are ready to take to the hills and fight Fidel Castro's Communist regime, Cuban exile sources here declare.

But these sources add that the internal resistance, which they call the only hope for Cuba's liberation from Communism, is being hampered by U.S. actions.

Fidel Castro, who recently made a hush-hush tour of Cuba's interior, is reported in dread of his own former comrades-in-arms in the old 26th of July army.

Mass meetings of "defense committees" are being held all over Cuba. The committees are part of a Communist-style, block-by-block spy system.

Cuba's economic troubles under Communism have tended also to arouse disaffection even in the militia. This has so worried the regime, according to available information, that militia members get little ammunition, and their arms and bullets are taken from them at the end of each tour of duty.

One exile leader, Manolo Ray, urges that the United States make it as clear as possible to people inside Cuba that the fight is only against Communism and that the United States is on the side of any underground resistance that fights the Red regime.

Ray, who claims reliable contacts with the elements of resistance inside Cuba, fought for Castro in the revolution, which overthrew the Fulgencio Batista dictatorship and became Castro's first public works minister. He fled when the regime veered sharply to Communism.

The ex-minister says he believes strategic blunders in the United States have hampered internal Cuban resistance.

One such blunder, he asserts, has been creation of the impression that the United States supports any and all Cuban exiles.

Hatred of the old Batista regime persists in Cuba, despite present woes.

Ray says he and other Cubans now organized in "the Cuban revolutionary junta" in Puerto Rico believe it is urgent for the United States to make clear that it is on the side "of any underground resistance to the Cuban Castro regime, and that it believes the only battle is against the Communists and not against Cubans who took part in the revolution against Batista."

He says he feels that 26th of July army men who might take off for the hills hesitate for fear that former Batista people might be among those who would move in from the United States and take over after the fall of the Castro regime.

They fear, he says, they would lose their own heads in that event.
